On motion, the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese, together with amendments to date, were ordered printed in the Journal for this year.

The Rev. Mr. Richards, of the Standing Committee on the Report of the Trustees of the Episcopate Fund, made the following

REPORT:

Your Committee, to whom has been referred the Report of the Trustees of the Episcopate Fund, beg leave to submit the following report:

The net results from the Episcopate Fund during the past year have been encouragingly satisfactory. The arrears in the salary of the Bishop, with the exception of one month, have been paid, and this month of arrears the Fund will immediately meet. The total of the Fund is $44,686.72, the income from the Fund, $1,968.41, revealing a net income of about 4½ per cent.

The report is attended by the usual annual impossibility of being audited, although a list of securities is given, and the Trustees themselves audit the accounts of their Treasurer. This is not a criticism upon the report, but upon the business methods of the Council. There should be a Committee of Audit, whose duties should be to verify the audits of the Trustees and the lists of securities of all Funds of the Diocese. These audits should be accomplished before the meeting of the Council, and proper certification made to the Council that the Funds of the Diocese are actually as reported. It is not business that any set of Trustees should audit their own accounts, and yet, of course, they cannot bring their security vaults with them to the Council.

Upon the request of the Standing Committee, the Trustees of this Fund have received the rentals from the old See House and have paid them out, so far as they would go, towards the rent of the present Episcopal residence. The Trustees point out that, under the Act of Incorporation, this is irregular, and that they must have the direction of the Council presented to them in writing and entered upon the records of the Council to enable them to properly care for this matter. Therefore your Committee submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Trustees of the Episcopate Fund be hereby empowered and directed by this Council to pay the taxes and repairs upon the old See House, to receive the rentals therefrom and to pay the net balance remaining from said rentals, after caring for taxes and repairs, towards the rent of the present Episcopal residence, No. 367 Elmwood Avenue.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE B. RICHARDS,
T. G. MOULSON,
DELMAR M. DARRIN.

On motion, the report was received and the resolution contained therein was adopted.

On motion a Committee, consisting of the Rev. Mr. Richards, Messrs. Trevor and Denton, were appointed to formulate resolutions with reference to the management of trust funds of the Diocese.

The Rev. Dr. North read the reports of the Trustees of De Veaux College and of the Treasurer of the Diocese, also the Rev. Dr. Boynton read the report of the Trustees of the Christmas Fund.

On motion, the several reports were received.

The Tellers then made their report, and the following were declared elected by concurrent vote:

For Standing Committee: The Revs. J. A. Regester, D. D., Walter North, L. H. D., Charles H. Smith, D. D., Andrew J. Graham, Messrs. W. B. Rankine, H. R. Hopkins, H. B. Hathaway, N. Rochester.

For Trustee of the Christmas Fund: Henry P. Knowles.

For Trustees of De Veaux College: The Rev. Charles W. Hayes, D. D., Messrs. John K. Walker, Porter Norton.

For Treasurer of the Diocese: V. Moreau Smith.

For Members of the Ecclesiastical Court: The Revs. Charles W. Hayes, D. D., Walter C. Roberts, Charles H. Boynton, Ph. D., William F. Faber.

On motion, the Council adjourned to 2.00 p. m., and the final adjournment fixed at 4.00 p. m.

CHRIST CHURCH, 2.00 P. M.

The Council met.

On motion, unanimous consent was given that the Secretary be directed to cast a ballot for the Rev. C. Morton, Sills, D. D., to be the fifth member of the Ecclesiastical Court.

The ballot was cast, and the Rev. Dr. Sills declared duly elected.

The following resolution, offered by the Rev. Dr. Hayes, was adopted:

Resolved, That the Standing Committee be instructed to act with the Bishop of the Diocese in securing from the family and heirs of the late Bishop De Lancey consent to the removal of his remains, and those of his wife, to a suitable place to be prepared for their reception, beneath the chancel of S. Peter's Church, erected to his memory in the village of Geneva, in accordance with such conditions as shall meet the views of all concerned in the removal.

The Order of the day, the report of the Committee on proposed Amendment to Canon 6, Title I, was then taken up.

The Rev. Mr. Bartlett of the above Committee made the following

REPORT:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO CANON VI, TITLE I.

To the Annual Council of 1905, of the Diocese of Western New York:

Your Committee report that they have given time and study to the method proposed to be substituted for our present method of raising funds for the support of the Episcopate and for Diocesan expenses. Also that they have made inquiries in all dioceses in the United States as to the methods in use, and have received replies from many, from which comparisons have been made.

Our present method of raising these two funds imposes on all parishes and missions a uniform assessment of 4½% on their reported salary and current expense accounts.

The change contemplated by the proposed amendment is, instead of a uniform, a graduated assessment, beginning with 4% (instead of 4½%) on the first thousand dollars of parish expenses, and increasing by one-half of one per cent. on each added thousand, until the tax is 8% on all over $8,000.00 of expenses.

Computing, by this plan, assessments on all the parishes and missions, the total (if no mistake has been made) is about $8,300 00, six hundred dollars more than our present schedule. Hence we could probably cut down the graduated scale by 7% and make its total just about equal to the total of the present schedule.

Should this be done, a parish spending $1,000.00 would pay $37.20 instead of $45.00 as now, decrease $7 80, that is 17%. $2,000.00 would pay $79.05 instead of $90 00 as now, decrease $10.95, that is 12%. $3,000 00 would pay $125.55 instead of $135 00 as now, decrease $9.45, that is 6%. $4,000.00 would pay $176.70 instead of $180.00 as now, decrease $3.30, percentage of decrease negligible. $5,000.00 would pay $232.50 instead of $225.00 as now, increase $7.50, percentage of increase negligible. $6,000.00 would pay $292.95 instead of $270.00 as now, increase $22.95, or 8%. $7,000.00 would pay $358.05 instead of $315.00 as now, increase $43.05, or 10%. $8,000.00 would pay $427.80 instead of $360.00 as now, increase $67.80, or 10%. $9,000.00 would pay $502.20 instead of $405.00 as now, increase $97.20, or 21%. $10,000.00 would pay $576.60 instead of $450.00 as now, increase $126 60, or 28%. $13,000.00 would pay $799.80 instead of $585.00 as now, increase $214.80, or 38%.

The parishes spending $2,000.00 to $2,500.00, and paying to these funds from $90.00 to $110.00, would be the ones to receive the greatest benefit, which probably could not be a greater reduction in any case than about $12.00 or $13.00. About 120 parishes and missions would be reduced by amounts from a few cents to $12.00 or $13 00. The maximum reduction being 17%, and the total of these small reductions would practically be added to just eight parishes, four in Buffalo and four in Rochester, the increase in the case of Trinity, Buffalo, amounting to over $200.00, or an increase of 38%.

The Michigan plan, therefore, does not commend itself to us as equitable, placing practically the whole burden upon our larger parishes, giving practically the whole benefit to parishes whose expenses are below $2,000.00, and leaving the intermediate parishes untouched where either increase or decrease is negligible. The object of a graduated tax is obviously to obtain a graduated increase in assessments according to the increasing financial ability. This object would certainly not be obtained by the practice of the proposed Canon.

Among the dioceses replying to our inquiries are six that use a graduated assessment. They all differ more or less from Michigan and from one another. The graduated assessment in successful use for several years in the Diocese of Southern Ohio, and recently adopted by the Council of the Diocese of Ohio, seems to us to obviate the inequality of the Michigan plan by an ascending and descending scale, which increases the assessments of the different parishes according to the financial ability of each, thereby distributing the increase proportionately among the stronger parishes.

We also note that a comparison of our rate for the Bishop's salary and Diocesan Expenses, 4½%, with rates elsewhere, shows that we are relatively low, only two or three dioceses having a lower rate as far as the number of the replies received from our inquiries permits comparison.

We also note that throughout the Church at large there is a decided tendency to increase in the different dioceses the Episcopate Endowments, in order that the apportionments for the Diocesan and General Missions may be more adequately met, and the Committee suggest that, in their opinion, a very practical way to benefit all the parishes is to secure the increase of our endowment for the Episcopate.

The objection to this on the score of possible division of the Diocese in the indefinite future seems to us not valid, inasmuch as gifts to the fund from the east and west halves of the Diocese may properly and legally be made conditioned to belong to those halves respectively when the Diocese shall have been divided.

Our conclusion is that while we do not disapprove of a graduated assessment as a principle, we believe that the Southern Ohio plan, which Ohio has recently adopted, is one worthy of very careful investigation, as a plan that seems to be just and fair, where the Michigan plan is inequitable.

We therefore suggest that two committees be appointed: First, a committee of eight laymen, four from each Archdeaconry, with power to undertake the increase of the Episcopate Endowment Fund along the lines suggested above. Second, a committee of two presbyters and three laymen to look further into the merits of the Southern Ohio plan, and that both of these committees report at the next Annual Council of this Diocese.

MURRAY BARTLETT, Chairman,
EDWARD M. DUFF,
WILLIAM J. TULLY.

On motion, the report was accepted.

The following resolutions, offered by Mr. Tully, were adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of eight laymen, four from each Archdeaconry, be appointed with power to undertake the increase of the Episcopate and Endowment Fund along the lines suggested in the report of the Committee on the Amendment proposed to § 1 of Canon Six, Title I, the same to report at the next Annual Council.

Resolved, That the Committee be continued to look into the merits of the Southern Ohio and other plans of graduated assessments, as suggested in their report on the proposed amendment to § 1 of Canon Six, Title I, and to report at the next Annual Council.

The following resolutions, offered by Mr. Trevor of the Committee to formulate resolutions with reference to the management of trust funds of the Diocese, were adopted :

Resolved, That a committee of five, consisting of two members of the bar and three laymen, be appointed by the Chair to consider and report upon to the next Council what changes may be safely made in the conditions and restrictions in regard to the investment of the various trust funds of the Diocese.

Resolved, further, that the said committee be directed to audit the accounts and verify the securities of the Trustees of the various funds of the Diocese, with power to employ expert assistance.

Resolved, further, that this committee be directed to report at the next Council such measures as shall be necessary, in their judgment, to establish a Standing Committee of Audit, and such other measures as they shall deem necessary for the adequate safe-guarding of all the funds of the Diocese.

The Rev. Dr. North read the report of the Standing Committee on Non-Reporting Parishes and Clergy as follows :

REPORT :

Your Committee beg to report that the following Parishes and Missions did not make report last year: Addison, Avoca, Belfast, Bergen, Buffalo, Ascension, S. Andrew, S. Bartholomew, S. John, Chautauqua, Depew, E. Randolph, E. Bloomfield, Fredonia, Hartfield, Holley, Le Roy, Little Valley, Lyons, Middleport, Rochester, All Saints, Sodus Point, Stafford, Victor, Wellsville, Wethersfield Springs, Wolcott.

W. W. RAFTER,
ALFRED BRITAIN.

The Rev. Dr. Hoffman, of the Standing Committee on Admission of Churches, reported that S. Alban's Church, Silver Creek, had satisfied all Canonical requirements, and recommended that said church be admitted into union with the Council.

On motion, the report was received and the recommendation adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Roberts, of the Standing Committee on Missionary Reports and the Board of Education, made the following

REPORT:

The Standing Committee on Missionary Reports respectfully submit that, having read the reports of the two Archdeacons of the Diocese, they recommend that said reports be read in the hearing of the Council, and printed in the Diocesan Journal.

W. C. ROBERTS,
C. M. SILLS.

On motion, the report was received and the reports of the Archdeacons were ordered printed in the Journal.

The Rev. Dr. Boynton, of the Standing Committee on Finance, made the following

REPORT:

May 17, 1905.

To the Council of the Diocese of Western New York:

The Standing Committee on Finance begs to report that there have been referred to it, report of the Treasurer of the Diocese, report of the Trustees and Treasurer of the Christmas Fund, and the report of the Treasurer of the Parochial Fund.

The report of the Treasurer of the Diocese is in the form of a balance sheet, showing a total of receipts of $8,676 63 and a total disbursement of $7,483.93, with a balance in hand of $400.25 to the credit of the Education Fund, and $792.45 to the credit of Diocesan expenses. Vouchers are submitted and found to be correct for all of the disbursements, but the report is not accompanied by a bank certificate of the amounts received by the Treasurer or of the balances now in hand, nor has it been duly submitted to auditors as would seem wise before the meeting of the Council and before submission to this Committee.

The report of the Christmas Fund has been duly audited, but owing to illness has been signed by but one Trustee. It shows that during the past year there have been as annuitants for clergyman receiving $200.00 each, and fifteen widows of deceased clergymen receiving $150.00 each, while temporal relief has been extended upon the recommendation of the Bishop. The income from parish offerings for the year has been $1,285.95, but relief has been given to the amount of $3,050.00, which is $427.13 in excess of the total income of the fund. This excess has, however, been diminished by the receipt of $239.52 from belated parish offerings, which will appear in next year's report. In the opinion of the Committee more than 74 parishes should contribute to the support of this fund, and all contributions should be forwarded promptly.

The report of the Treasurer of the Parochial Fund contains a detailed list of the receipts and expenditures and also a list of securities held by this society, for the use of the Auditors; also a condensed report for publication covering the Treasurer's account and the sources of income. The whole has been duly audited and found to be correct, and a resolution is incorporated, making the report of the Treasurer the report for the Board of Trustees.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES H. BOYNTON,
A. SIDNEY DEALEY,

Committee.

On motion, the report was received.

The Rev. Mr. Burrows, of the Standing Committee on the report of the Trustees of De Veaux College, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee, to which was referred the report of the Trustees of Deveaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children, has carefully examined the report and finds it in proper form, containing a most complete and satisfactory account of the financial affairs of the institution. The report complies fully with the requirements of the Act of Incorporation.

The Committee calls the attention of the Council particularly to Schedule "E" on Bonds and Mortgages and to Schedule "H" on Real Estate, and recommends that these be printed with the rest of the report in the Diocesan Journal.

Respectfully submitted,

G. SHERMAN BURROWS,
EUGENE C. DENTON,
JOHN M. PROPHET.

On motion, the report was received, and the recommendation contained therein was adopted.

The following resolution, offered by the Rev. Mr. Mosher, was adopted :

Resolved, That a committee of five, of which the Rev. Dr. Hayes shall be Chairman, and the Chancellor a member, be appointed to revise and harmonize the Constitution and Canons of this Diocese, and report at the next meeting of this Council.

The Rev. Mr. Hart, on behalf of the Rev. Mr. Smielau, Missionary to Deaf Mutes in this Diocese, read the following

REPORT :

The work of the Deaf Mute Mission in this Diocese during the past year is summarized as follows :

Places served : Lockport, Buffalo, Geneva, Watkins and Rochester. Services held, 29 Celebrations of the Holy Communion, 7. Regular monthly services on Sundays were held at Buffalo and Rochester. Not having a Communion set I was unable to celebrate the Eucharist more frequently.

I have made personal visits to many deaf mutes at their homes, and to others at their places of employment. I have lectured before the Clere Society at Buffalo and the Gallaudet Society at Rochester. These two societies have been a great help to our work. The meetings keep the people together, and afford opportunities for intellectual and social enjoyment. The annual Christmas festivals at Buffalo and Rochester were provided by these societies.

When I assumed charge of the work in this Diocese, last June, I had planned to give a full week, including one Sunday in every month, to this field, but the serious illness of Mrs. Smielau frustrated my plans, and I was consequently handicapped all through the winter, greatly to my disappointment. However, I found the deaf mutes sympathetic, and they were willing to make allowance for the little time I could give them. There are several places which I have not yet visited.

The progress of the missions at Rochester and Buffalo is encouraging. At Rochester the average monthly attendance was 27, and at Buffalo it was 12. At the latter place the Romanists have weekly services, and many of the deaf mutes there belong to that body. However, the church is making some gains, and the outlook is bright. With the limited time at my disposal, and serving three Dioceses, it is very difficult to divide the time equally. Each Diocese should have its own missionary to deaf mutes, but there are not enough workers.

The deaf mutes in the Archdeaconry of Buffalo contributed the following:

Endowment Fund of S. Paul's Church.....	$ 5.00
Gallaudet Home for Aged Deaf Mutes.....	5 00
Chefos (China) School for the Deaf	5 00
Missionary's Travelling Expenses	26.84
Total.....	$41 84

In the Archdeaconry of Rochester:

Diocesan Missions.....	$ 5.00
S. Luke's Church.....	5.00
Chefos (China) School for the Deaf	2.00
S. Luke's News.....	1.00
Gallaudet Home for Aged Deaf Mutes.....	2.00
Missionary's Travelling Expenses.....	47.05
Total.....	$62.05

My expenditures for railroad and street car fares, hotel expenses, postage, telegrams, stationery and printing amounted to $136.35. Of this sum I drew $62.46 from my stipend.

The deaf mutes at Rochester have unanimously voted to draw $50.00 from their Reserve Fund to purchase a Communion set.

Grateful thanks are here recorded to the Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church, Rochester, and to the many kind friends among the Clergy and Laity for gracious attentions and encouragements. I wish also to acknowledge the gift of a memorial chalice and paten from Mrs. E. C. W. O'Brien.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANKLIN C. SMIELAU,

Williamsport, Penna.

Missionary to Deaf Mutes.

A fee of $10.00 was ordered paid the sexton of this Church.

A standing vote of thanks was unanimously extended to the parish for the hospitality shown to the Clergy and Laity during the sessions of the Council.

The Rev. Mr. Burrows, of the Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee on the General Theological Seminary respectfully report that in the absence of the Diocesan Trustee they have been unable to secure information in regard to the condition of the Seminary.

WM. S. BARROWS,
GEORGE M. IRISH,
W. A. WILLIAMS.

On motion, the Committee on Apportionment of Offerings for Domestic and Foreign Missions were instructed to apportion the full amount upon each parish.

The following resolution, offered by the Rev. Mr. Parrott, was adopted:

WHEREAS, There are many movements in the religious world, organized with the avowed purpose of bringing Christians together, and,

WHEREAS, In accordance with the prayer of its founder, as well as consistently with the position taken by our Church at the General Convention in Chicago and at Lambeth, we are keenly interested in such movements, and,

WHEREAS, The General Convention has appointed such a Commission, therefore, be it

Resolved, That a Special Commission, consisting of the Bishop and two Laymen and two Clergymen, be appointed to study such movements in this Diocese, to record these studies and to report the result of them at the next meeting of the Council.

One thousand copies of the Journal were ordered printed.

The minutes were read and approved.

After suitable prayers the Council adjourned sine die.

WILLIAM D. WALKER,

Bishop and President.

Attest:

ADDISON M. SHERMAN, Secretary.

BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS

Reverend Brethren and Brethren of the Laity :

Once again we gather to speak our greetings and to give prayer and thought to our mutual work. I welcome you warmly to the responsibilities and high duties of the hour.

I say high duties in no mere euphemistic exaggeration, but in a real sense. Of course, there is much done in an Annual Council which is mere routine in one respect. In another sense, however, the tritest of its exercises will be far from commonplace in the eyes of the enthusiastic and zealous Churchman. Reports of this Committee and that Board and another Commission may seem dry or threadbare to many. But after all they are each factors in the life and work of the dear Church of the living God. That fact makes them worthy and exalted. And so shall we not all with a patient interest and a loyal heartiness hearken to report or discussion of whatever kind? For each has in view the weal of the hallowed Body of Christ. I have asked you to come to this the "Crystal City" that, as a Body and as a Family, we may see somewhat of one of the outposts of our territory. The beautiful Church and the hearty parish life will commend themselves to us, I think, enthusiastically. There is a tendency in this day too much to look for the strength of the Church only—or chiefly—in the great cities, and to see in it only a tolerated, respectable institution as it rears its head in the average sized town or in the village. It is true that there is a seeming superiority in its life and force as we meet the Church under city conditions. Aggregations of people and the concentrated wealth show one side of power in ecclesiastical concerns where it has rooted itself. But my study of these many years has shown me that large city parishes are continually gaining their strength through the recruits that come to them out of villages and towns here and there, in which the Church has faithfully trained her children. The country parts and the village parish are not to be despised by us—and especially is this true of the smaller cities, of which we have example in this good borough of Corning.

I have therefore recently selected such cities for the Council's sessions—not, as some would put it, that the Church in these places may be aided, but that we, brethren, may be helped by them. I think those of us who have been in faithful attendance at our sessions in late years will confess that we of the city-life have no reason for the condescension-attitude for having come together in such living centres as Hornellsville, or Geneva, or Lockport, or Niagara Falls. On the contrary, have we not been learners in practical schools, and come forth better men and better workers because we have seen the genuine strength that faithfulness and devotion can develop for God's kingdom where conditions of wealth or human material were not as favorable as in the large civic centres? We discover the real strength of the Church thus, when, in our self-esteem, we think we are helping to strengthen weaker parts of the great Body. And so I say unhesitatingly, and I think you will join me in the declaration, that it is good for us to be here and to have been at Geneva, and Hornellsville, and Lockport, and Niagara Falls, to receive the inspiration that comes from parishes that stand in their communities strong and hallowed witnesses for the truth and Church of our dear and blessed Saviour.

THE DEPARTED.

And now at the vestibule of this address I would turn your eyes upon the faces of two saintly men in the Episcopate who have bid farewell to earth's cares and responsibilities, the Bishops of Central New York and of East Carolina. I knew them each well. I declare of them unhesitatingly that they were both preëminent men of God. Life with them meant a search to find place continually near the Saviour's side. Each panted for the vision of God.

1. Frederic Dan Huntington. He had reached a ripe old age when he was called hence. He had done more than most Bishops to win human hearts to the love of an exalted piety and the hate of the transparent fictions of society. Few pens had a more searching power in delineating the cruelty and the unreason and the deceit of man under the guise of legal or social tolerance. Few men could search more deeply down in the caverns of human hearts and show their subtle taints and their poor weaknesses. He was a recondite reader of souls and their needs.

And, too, few could more patiently and powerfully prescribe the lotion that helped and healed. Beautiful and strong was religion as portrayed by his pen. It was not mere ethics. It was piety. And that meant with him honor to God and holy living and sacrifice among and for men. Morals were the natural fruit of the faith which bowed the knee in worship before the adorable Trinity. Christ in a sense was not the "all in all." There was adoration and divine recognition in parity for Father and for Holy Ghost too. He was absolutely a holder of the old creed of Nicea in its simplest and Apostolic sense. He believed absolutely without quiver or gloss or explaining away the truth of a triune God. And it was the maturity of a great manhood and the study of a long life and the experience of a conscientious investigation that led him to forsake the creed and the ministry of his youth and early manhood amid coldness and persecutions of former friends and co-believers and co-laborers, for the faith and the order of the Catholic symbols and the Catholic Church. The barrenness of Unitarianism, the husks that a Saviourless system furnished, the coldness and hopelessness and dreariness that permeated a religion which turned man in on himself to work out his own salvation without the warm hand and the beating heart of a God-Redeemer, was unsatisfaction to his great soul and he turned with a relieved and a grateful joy to a cross of Calvary and a living Church of the Ages founded on a Rock—Jesus Christ. I shall never forget the conversations I had with him fully a quarter of a century ago when he told me of the waves of agony that swept over his soul as he cut the cables which for two score years had tied him to a religious body and to friends who had been life-long. And then the thought that through those years his had been a mistaken worship and a mistaken ministry touched to the core his soul. But as the result there was a deeper adoration for the Trinitarian's God and a holier satisfaction in the thought that after the years he had indeed found God—the tender God for man's sick soul—the God who was indeed his Redeemer.

I presume that those within the hearing of my voice who have read the works of Bishop Huntington will agree with me that few of the writings of either a primitive Father of the Church or of a Mediaeval Saint like a Kempis or of a more modern day like Andrews or George Herbert rise to sublimer spiritual heights. They seem to me to have the flavor of the ancient devotional fervor with the wide-awake thought that fits a modern altered life.

Brother mine, and Holy Father in God, sweet be thy sleeping while awaiting the morning that shall never pass away.

2. Rt. Rev. Alfred Augustin Watson. He was an aged man when called to the Episcopate. But in those 21 years he achieved a beautiful work. His modest Diocese felt and benefited by his gentle and Godly administration. Learned, scholarly, apt to teach, he gave dignity to the Episcopate. Few among laymen, Clergymen or Bishops had his knowledge of Canon-law. Through long years in the House of Deputies he was an authority on that important subject—recognized as such by all—appealed to in critical moments of discussion.

But as the gentleman and the Christian he was a marked man. Born, as I believe, in the Southland, he had all its engaging courtesies and its winning chivalry. In some of the struggles that occurred in the General Convention when party feeling ran high or intense questions engrossed the thought and heart of the lower house, he brought calm by pacific counsels and wise presentations of truth. But, too, he was the holy man—extraordinarily so. The Church, the Faith, the Divine Word were precious to him. He was utterly out of harmony with this modern semi-belief or no belief that we find in some quarters. And he showed his enlightened faith which held on to the old standards with a firm grasp, by the devotional, honorable, useful, gracious, consecrated life that he lived. Admitted to the Episcopate within a year of each other, we were naturally brought close together in the House of Bishops, and so my memory turns back to lovely days when as young brothers in that holy office we took sweet counsel together. I here lay my chaplet of love and honor on his newly-made grave.

Only one of our own Diocesan family has fallen asleep in the year past. He was among us for a long period. As a Missionary in several fields of labor in the Diocese he made a good record of faithful service. I refer to the Reverend James P. Foster. In the army of the United States during the war with the South he held a position of honor, and came forth at the close of the war holding the rank of Colonel. This came to him, I believe, as a reward of brave and trustworthy work.

And too he bore the scars of a heroic doing of duty, and the wounds that came of battle were sources of suffering during his later life.

I knew him as the loyal Presbyter, about whose friendship and whose desire to heed his Bishop's counsel and to uphold his Bishop's hands there could be no doubt. And so personally I loved him. My honor of him too was especially for his works' sake. Geneva, where through so many years of failing health as the end drew nigh he abode, shall know him no more. The soldier hath laid down his arms and hath gone to rest.

In accordance with our usual custom we will now join in the recital of the Nicene Creed together and in such devotions as are fitting in commemoration of God's saints who have gone forth from us to the rest of Paradise.

OFFICIAL RECORD.

My personal and official record of work embodies the following details: Five persons were baptized by me during the year. I officiated at 4 marriages and 1 funeral. I laid the Corner-stone of one Parish-House, as well as the Corner-stone of a Home for the Aged. It also devolved upon me to Dedicate a Parish-House and a new Altar with suitable devotions. An Organ too was dedicated by me. I likewise held a Service of Dedication in 2 Churches at their opening, where mortgages still rested upon the buildings. I also Consecrated one Church. It was my privilege to take part in the Consecration of 2 Bishops. The Ordinations for the year by me in the Diocese were of 2 Deacons and 6 Priests. I also set apart for her work in the Church Home, of Buffalo, a Deaconess.

The meetings at which I have presided having relation to the work of the Diocese in one or another of its phases or departments numbered 62. I also officiated at 177 services, consisting of either Morning or Evening Prayer. I delivered during the twelvemonth 106 sermons and 135 addresses. I held Confirmations in 94 different places. The total number of persons that received from me the Laying on of Hands was 1,508.

This made a busy year for me, as usual. But our Heavenly Father gave me strength and health to perform the work. The limitations have been in the matter of time. There are periods—considerable ones—in the year when I have no official public duty. This arises from the fact that my Reverend brethren generally desire their Confirmations to be held in the later portions of Lent and during Eastertide and until the Trinity season has dawned. I should be more gratified, and would have better opportunity to see more of the parishes and the people, could the Confirmation period extend over the Autumn and Winter as well. My aim has been to conform to the wishes and convenience of my brethren, and so I am constrained to spend six months of the year very strenuously in my incomings and outgoings among you. If many more of the Clergy than now do so would arrange for their Confirmations to be held in the now unappropriated season of the Fall and early Winter, and the first two weeks of Lent, their Bishop could do what would be more satisfactory to him, namely, linger a little longer with them in their places of labor. Let it be understood that this is no complaint against the conditions as they now stand. It is simply the expression of the hope that many of my Reverend brethren may see their way clear to prepare classes in the season named that so their Bishop may have the pleasure of seeing somewhat more of them personally. It is one of the comforts of his life, for which he is humbly thankful to God every hour, that during the whole 21 years of his Episcopate he has failed only once, on account of illness, to meet an engagement. It is one of the high privileges of his career as a Bishop for which he is inexpressibly and overwhelmingly grateful to our Father—and that unceasingly.

CONFIRMATION CLASSES.

The Confirmation Classes have generally been quite large this year. It was gratifying to your Bishop to observe the evidences of healthy growth in so many of the parishes and missions, as exemplified in the numbers renewing the Baptismal vow, and in the reports reaching him regarding the numbers receiving the Holy Communion regularly, as well as in the larger givings toward running expenses. Church extension and the ordinary needs of the Diocese and the different parishes.

May I, however, speak a few words of caution concerning the personnel of some Confirmation Classes of former years, as well as of the present? We all delight in seeing well-instructed, devout young people, who have been trained in the Church's ways from the cradle, coming to the Altar to ratify the Font's early vow. We can with hallowed satisfaction in the words of the old hymn declare :

" Youth when devoted to the Lord

" Is pleasing in His eyes ;

" A flower tho' offered in the bud

" Is no vain sacrifice."

And as we behold the sweet white-apparelled girls and the neat roundabouts of boys standing at the Chancel-rail we are often inclined to rejoice that they have listened to the beckoning voice of their holy Mother, the Church. But should not a more careful discrimination be shown in calling out from the ranks of the Sunday School or even from fairly devoted Christian households the youth who are to receive the Laying on of Hands? Is it true that the average boy or girl of 12 or 13—very often of 14 years of age—has a serious sense of the solemnity of the Baptismal vow, or has the soul-training which fits him or her, to assume the grave responsibilities and duties of the spiritual manhood or womanhood in Christ? I think not. Of course there are some of the youth in this American atmosphere—in which there is such marked quick-wittedness—who possess an abnormal spiritual precocity at very tender years. Religion is to them a reality, and there is a reverent devotion in the depths of their souls that is amazing and beautiful. I sometimes look into the faces of such dear ones and I cannot help feeling that awe which inspires me as I gaze upon that exquisite Madonna which depicts the blessed Virgin Mother gazing with wondering eyes into the wonderful eyes of her holy son who is, too, her own divine Redeemer.

But such characters, I think, we must all confess, are rare in this sad, bad world. The ordinary youth is independent and non-reverent. I will not say absolutely irreverent. He lives in the day. Too much does the newspaper—which he reads—or the story-book that comes, furtively or openly, into his hand, or his average playmate or the secularity of his school-training, chill or paralyze any tendency even to a moderate or wholesome piety. THAT he thinks is only for the “goody, goody sort,” as he calls them with an arch satire. The law, the instructor, the home and its training and government are in his eyes restraints, nay, sometimes iron shackles. He learns this restive opposition to all healthy checks to his hot self-will in the atmosphere of the street and the playground, and too, in the godless school. The one hour of Sunday training is, alas, almost impotent to turn back the tidal-wave of such a tainting and well-nigh resistless force. Thus a lower estimate of religion’s meaning and demands dilutes too much of the early piety of our time. I am convinced that the boy’s club and the cadet manual of arms and the contesting ball-ground do not supply the lack, do not supplement the need. They have their good results. They develop healthier animals and, perhaps, sounder intellects. And so far so good. But unless there is a golden thread—a very large golden thread—of religious teaching and thought and endeavor wrought in with the woof and warp of the organization, then the work of the Church of God is little helped by these modern fruits of our Parish-Houses. And this factor of their life must not be a mere pretty surface embroidery. It must be an integral part of the very web from the loom of the workshop itself.

These thoughts, my brethren, are suggested by the undevotional manner and the seeming lack of seriousness I have been compelled to observe in the case of some of the very young people presented in some classes this year and last. There was in so many the wandering eye, the obvious concern about dress, general flippancy of manner, the thoughtless staring about even in the midst of solemn prayer, and the general tone of a mere perfunctory service, that made a painful impression. We must not make an empty formality of Confirmation. It must not be one of the mere cold routines of life. I am convinced that this is the attitude of the great mass of my Reverend brethren on this subject. But I fear that sometimes some, in their zeal for committing young lives to the vow and the sanctified service, overlook the possibility of insincerity or, at least, a lack of appreciation of the great solemnity of the Confirmation-pledge on the part of the youth they bring to the Altar. I am convinced from my study of this subject during an Episcopate of 21 years that the cases are exceedingly few where a boy or a girl under 14 to 15 years is in a right spiritual attitude to assume the grave Confirmation vow and its outcome, personal freedom in the things that belong to the soul's care and culture.

It is a fact that the individual Pastor is made responsible by the Church to the Bishop for the fitness of those presented by him for that holy rite—and so far as the latter is concerned there is no accountability. But it devolves upon him where he perceives a seeming evil growing that is for the hurt of the spiritual or religious life of a parish or of the General Church to speak, as the Watchman on the walls of Zion, the word of warning. The speaker knows of a few, a very few, parishes where an over-zealous Clergyman through the presentation of abnormal classes has brought a serious damage to religion in the community where he labored. Invariably a notice of the same was secured in the Church newspapers with the attendant flattering comments. Away with such juggling with the things of God, and with such use of holy services to serve the personal vanity or to promote the personal advancement.

THE FAITH.

These days in which we are living prompt me to repeat myself. And so I feel constrained to read in your ears a portion of my Address of last year. It is as your Father-in-God that I address you again on this subject. It is the expression of my own rooted and unchanging belief that no wit of man and no temptation of the Evil One may change. And in it I have the Christian centuries back of me and the Church of the living God—my revered Mother—teaching me, and the inspired word of God telling his voice on these great themes to the sons of men.

I now proceed in accordance with the suggestion of the Canon touching the duties of Bishops to their Clergy and Dioceses to deliver this brief charge. Its subject will be obvious. I need not give it a title. I have aimed to make it short, and not to weary you by the introduction of excessive detail. It is with a deep sense of my accountability to your Master and mine, as also my responsibility as your Father-in-God that I undertake to address you on the grave subject which shall occupy the short time that I shall give to this charge. I have asked guidance from above, and in a spirit of deepest tenderness speak to you, my sons, in the Gospel—Priests and Deacons of the Diocese of Western New York. It is a day of reckless and unconsidered speech in too many pulpits—and in some chief seats of the Church in this land and abroad. Our ordination vows and the address in the Ordinal to the Deacon about to be received into the Priest's office show the concern of the Church for her teachers that they shall be wise and that they shall preach the truth in its soberness and in its Divine proportions. Carelessness, misstatement, overstatement, understatement, inexactness, vivid imaginings, personal fancies—anything but sound, sober, correct statement of God's great revelations of His heavenly and eternal truth is warned against, is forbidden, is denounced. There is a natural sense and a non-natural sense in which Biblical doctrine may be stated. The one is "as this Church hath received the same," the other is as the individual man warps it to suit his personal fancy. The one shows honest loyalty, the other manifests obvious dishonesty. The one displays the spirit of the great Fathers of the English Church, Bull and Pearson and Butler, and the like; the other presents the Italian juggling of a Newman and a Ward and others of their time. There is clearness and exactness in the standards of this Church as to all the articles of the Faith. Their statement is definite, scientifically precise, without a scintilla of haziness in them, and they are culled—the essence of Christian truth, its fragrant sum and substance—from the very heart of the inspired word itself. They demand—they have a right to do so—in view of the solemn vow of ordination, a literal, ingenuous, frank acceptance of and belief in them as a matter of common morality and simple integrity on the part of every Clergyman—in highest rank or lowest—throughout this Church—a belief of them in their simple, obvious, plain meaning. That is the clear sense of the sacred vow at the altar. Has a man—in his pride of opinion—concluded that he has outgrown such stale delusions? Has a man in his arrogance of will—decided that the doctrine of Apostles and Saints of the ages is obsolete? Has a man in the wickedness born of communion with the Evil One reached the pass that he feels constrained to deny any truth of this Catholic faith? To any of these I say then if he would not be a Benedict Arnold in the Church—he will surrender his commission and go forth into the world and in honesty proclaim his new creed whatever of loss or sacrifice it entails. Only so can he be a self-respecting man, a man respected, in any degree, of men. There is talk in some of the newspapers, and in some pulpits of the sensational type, of a necessity for restatement of Christian doctrine. What is there to restate? The standards of this Church—extracting them as did the Church at the beginning from Holy Scripture—give you and me doctrines to believe that are facts—that are truths; as absolutely so as that any of you who sit before me have blood coursing through your veins, or an eye that sees, or a memory that has power of recollection. These are physical facts, no man will deny. And the same is true of the Faith of the Gospel. It tells us of one God, the Father of us all, simply, in unmistakable terms. That is a fact, or it is not a fact. There can be no restatement of a thing which is simply a fact. If it is not a fact, then there is nothing to be restated. It tells us of one Jesus, the son of God, taking upon him human flesh and miraculously born—born of a Virgin. I repeat it, born of a Virgin. That, too, is a fact. It can have no reconstruction. It means but one thing. To restate it would be to confuse plain truth. It tells us of that same Jesus dying to make atonement for our sins. Here too is another truth. It has obvious meaning. No multiplication of words in the shape of readjustment can alter it as a fact or change its reality. It tells us again of that Redeemer rising again from the grave—quickenèd anew, although the victim of the fell destroyer. Here is another bald truth. How can it be reconstructed? And so of that other article of the creed and doctrine of the Gospel and dogma of the Church—the Trinity. It tells us “we worship one God in Trinity and Trinity in unity, neither confounding the Persons nor dividing the substance. For there is one person of the Father, another of the Son, and another of the Holy Ghost. But the Godhead of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost is all one, the glory equal, the Majesty co-eternal. Such as the Father is, such is the Son, and such is the Holy Ghost * * * the Father eternal, the Son eternal, and the Holy Ghost eternal. And yet they are not three eternals, but one eternal. So likewise the Father is Almighty, the Son Almighty and the Holy Ghost Almighty. And yet they are not three Almighties, but one Almighty. So the Father is God, the Son is God and the Holy Ghost is God. And yet they are not three Gods, but one God. This is the Catholic faith," declares that noble "confession of our Christian belief," commonly called the Creed of St. Athanasius. Here too are declarations of truths. To restate is to deny, because reconstruction of such a heavenly fact is beyond human power. It is a fact or it is not a fact. If it is a fact, there is nothing to restate. If it is not a fact, then we have nothing before us. There is nothing to be restated.

And so with all the other articles of the Faith—the Ascension of the risen Lord to His Father's presence—the Holy Catholic Church, the coming of the King to judgment "when all men shall rise again with their bodies"—to use the careful and clear words of the Athanasian Creed—and the life everlasting. Here then is no conjecture or theory or romance given you and me as Ministers of this Church to believe and to teach. I am not referring to transcendental notions, to scholastic or philosophical conceits, to systems built here and there out of a fragment of the faith or imported from some Pagan institution. I am speaking only of the plain, bald, clear creed of the Catholic Church in the simplicity of its statements and the exactness of its declarations. As a man, as an honest man, as a consecrated priest, I cannot, I must not explain away, modify, alter, amend, slur over one atom of it. The Arian struggle depended on a single iota,—its rejection or retention—in the symbol of Nicaea. And the contention to-day is to be as strenuous and determined for an exact, unmarred creed as in the old day when for a time it seemed as if it was solitary "Athanasius Contra Mundum." This may be thought by some here hackneyed, old fashioned, trite. It is. That is why I accept it and believe it. Because it comes to me from the fountain-head—from the primitive Church, the Apostolic Day, the Sacred Word, the Divine Lord himself. But why is it thought by me needful, as your Bishop, thus to speak, thus to traverse the old paths? Because of the “signs of the times.” There seems to be a craze to say audacious things by some men in high places who think themselves seers. Witness that modern preacher in another Christian body who writes about a “new Evangelism,” contending that old standards must be flung away or rewritten, and like every other iconoclast I have known, providing no substitute for that which he would destroy. I heard a sermon by a brilliant preacher within a fortnight, which seemed to admit all the claims of scientists—I mean the claims which are studied attacks upon the Bible—and all the declarations of the destructive critics thereupon. With a weakness that was unworthy him or any other man representing a cause having any reality in it, he announced that there were some things beautiful and wise in the Christian’s religion and the Christian’s Bible—and so we were to console ourselves with those. The man was disloyal, and such half-hearted allegiance to his country, openly professed by an official of the army, would win for him a court-martial and condemnation.

If a man in the Ministry is curious about authorship and Canonicity and the time of writing of one or another of the books of the Word, where is the need of revealing his restive questionings and his skeptic unrest to his flock to distress and hurt their souls? One of our Bishops quotes aptly that striking utterance of Moody the Evangelist to Adam Smith when he said that “it was folly to preach about two Isaiahs to people who had not found out that there was one.” To edify, not to tear down should be the aim of the Pastor as a teacher. Positive truth—not the difficulties or the questionings or the doubts of this, that or the other sour or dyspep-tic or disappointed so-called scholar is the Biblical and the spiritual food people crave. What I am about to say I utter with the absolute affectionateness of one who loves you—and who speaks it not as fault-finding, but with a Father's concern. It is this: If some of those standing in great pulpits but knew of the soul-hunger of some of their people, and the utter nausea and sickness of heart they have—strong men of their congregations I mean—when they are displaying the views of this or the other critic on God's Word, they would be appalled and pray forgiveness for the neglect to feed the flock—for the poor vanity that led them with an appearance of learning to preach other than the gospel. Such are the revelations to a Bishop—not as complaints—no; these anxious souls are too thirsty for that—they have too much honor and reverence for the office and for the man as God's priest for that. It is the cry simply of hungering, starving souls for food, for the comforts of Christ's Gospel for the Bread of life. Let us remember our seeming learning will be confronted by a better learning when we meet the devout man who knows in whom or in what he believes and our poor scaffolding will fall down before the strong stone tower of his unquestioning, unchanged belief. His attitude will be that of Spurgeon, I think it was, who was addressed by one of the Biblical critics with the question: "Why do you believe the Bible inspired?" His rugged but withering reply was "Because it inspires me."

THE CATHEDRAL.

It will be remembered that when we were gathered together a year ago, a Resolution bearing upon the subject of a Cathedral for the Diocese of Western New York was presented and adopted unanimously. These were its terms: "Whereas, by the action of the present Council the Cathedral Chapter of the Diocese has been instructed to secure a new See House and residence for the Bishop.

Resolved, That the said Chapter be further instructed to take into serious consideration therewith the location of a future Cathedral, and to study the feasibility of entering in the near future upon the first steps of securing a site for such Cathedral and funds for land, buildings and endowment." The proposition evidently commended itself to the whole Diocese, as there was no dissenting voice. We have therefore laid upon ourselves the obligation to move forward firmly and unhesitatingly—and with ceaseless, unflagging effort toward a consummation so devoutly to be wished.

The subject was one which in no sense and at no time has been brought before my brethren by me, either publicly or in private. Never by a hint, direct or indirect, have I suggested it to anybody. It is therefore no pleasant ambition and no pet scheme of the Bishop. It is not the idea of a party in the Church, nor is it the darling project of some particular group of people. It had its inspiration and its origin in this Body, and it had the endorsement of the entire Council by its unanimous vote.

It has, however, the Bishop's strongest sympathy. It is Catholic, and it is Churchly. It was an institution throughout Europe, and for that matter Asia and Africa, almost from the beginning of Christian life. Its influence upon society—and even the State was salutary and effective. For many centuries the extension and enlargement of its system and resources were promoted by governments and monarchs—by the wealthy and by the great Christian masses too. It was a power for centuries in giving strength and honor and dignity to the Church, the Christian cause, the people. It battled long with Monasticism. Puritanism assailed it fiercely and in vain as the stronghold of Church order. Its very title meant recognition of the vital necessity of the threefold ministry. In the great Diocesan Church was the Cathedra—the Bishop's seat—the fountain-head of Church-extension, the spot where the ministry was perpetuated as Holy Orders were conferred, the focal point whence emanated the announcements and the pronouncements touching the Catholic Faith and the Christian's morals and the Church's order. The Cathedral, in dim ages long gone, has often stood, in its massive grandeur, a bulwark for belief and learning and piety. It may be made to-day—as I think—a luminous and a transcendent centre in each of those units that, united, constitute a National Church—the Dioceses—for the official diffusion and dissemination of the principles of Catholic truth and Apostolic order—a very necessity in these days.

But this is a time when the Church of our land is looking backward along the vista of the Christian ages and culling somewhat of the flowers that adorn the highway of the Church's history. Seemliness in worship, richness in architecture, decorative art, classic music are giving higher tone externally to the House of God and its functional purposes. These have for a period brought new attractiveness to that Institution's spiritual side. So, too, there are the ameliorative and social aspects of religion which are asserting their place in the Church's sphere of labor in this great world. And, too, much are they achieving in the way of winning men to a Saviour whose tenderness as displayed in his organized disciples, energies that would break no bruised reed and would quench no smoking flax.

But there is another phase of the Church's progress and external imitation of those past historic days. The 12th and 13th centuries—and even later time—were called the Cathedral-building age. It was a devout period—coupled it may be with superstition in some quarters—when wealth and the bare-foot monk, when common serf and titled castle vied with each other in doing honor to a Redeemer's throne by rearing at costliest toil the fretted and massive temples—poems in stone—which glorify each Episcopal See across the realm of European and Oriental Christendom. That was denominated a Cathedral-building age, and it made splendid the human history of that time because of the lavish munificence, the sacrifice, the devotional fervor, the robust artistic development that boiled in the nations beyond the sea. It was no mere figure of speech when the bard of Avon spoke of "sermons in stone." There they are in those mighty shrines on distant shores speaking with stronger emphasis to the soul of the things of God than the voices of greatest orators and most eloquent ecclesiastics thundering forth from highest pulpits. Every one of us who has stood within the walls of Canterbury, or Durham, or Lichfield, or St. Albans in England, or it may be on the Continent in Amiens, or Notre Dame, or Cologne, or St. Mark's, or St. Stephen's, or Pisa, or the rest, must plead guilty to the overwhelming sense of such an influence. The temple has told of its Master, the throne has pointed to its king.

And, now, if I read aright, a Cathedral-building era has dawned on this American Church. The light, the devotional sunlight of the Orient, has streamed across the broad seas and touched with its beams of gold the product, the little daughter of that older continent, our National Church.

As an evidence of the drift Cathedral-ward in the Dioceses, I point you to the massive shrine rising on Cathedral Heights in New York which has an interest of no inferior stamp for this whole Continent. Again we turn to the National Capital and there find the Genesis of a structure which shall in the end, as we believe, bloom into a noble shrine. Then Boston comes before us with its rich legacy for a similar purpose.

Are the members of this Council aware that there are 5 Churches in as many different Dioceses which serve as Pro-Cathedrals, viz., Central Pennsylvania, Indianapolis and Los Angeles, Minnesota and Washington? Is it also known that there are 22 actual Cathedrals in this American Church? They are doing their work in the Dioceses of Albany, Arkansas, Chicago, Colorado, Dallas, Fond du Lac, Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Lexington, Long Island, Louisiana, Maine, Marquette, Michigan City, Milwaukee, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Southern Ohio and Tennessee.

There are also five Missionary Districts in which Cathedrals exist and stand, the centres of the Church work.

So the idea grows and a system which has come to us down the Christian ages blossoms out anew in this modern century.

All this will lead you to draw the just inference that although the Bishop was not the author or the inspirer of the Resolution of this House, he is in most cordial and genuine sympathy with it. And he certainly is. And every possible effort will be made by him to bring this great purpose to a happy fruition. Time will be an important factor in the movement, and money too is a potent element in the work. But the great shrines of the old world were not reared in a day or a lifetime; one man laid foundations and another and another builded thereupon. The work was for Almighty God, and for the Eternal One time had no importance, nor the rolling years any stay.

So I present the subject to you, and so as your Bishop I give heartiest endorsement to the proposed work and strongest pledge that my Episcopate shall be given to its furtherance and encouragement, and that it shall be an object for my hearts and my energy's enthusiasm until the day that I lie down to take the long, dreamless sleep.

THE SEE HOUSE.

There is a matter of a personal nature to which I am constrained to refer with a large measure of feeling. The Secretary of the Standing Committee, by its request, offered the following resolution at the Council last year, "Resolved, That on the recommendation of the Standing Committee this Council authorizes the Cathedral Chapter to provide a suitable home for the Bishop, and to rent, sell, or otherwise dispose of the present See House." This resolution was adopted by the whole House. In conformity thereto the Cathedral Chapter held a meeting at the beginning of the Summer, and on giving full consideration to the matter appointed Sub-Committees to arrange for renting or selling the See House and securing another residence. A tenant for the house on Delaware Avenue was readily obtained, and it was rented at what real estate agents declare to be the just market rate. Later the beautiful house at 367 Elmwood Avenue was leased, and in the beginning of October was occupied by me. It serves the purpose of a See House admirably, both by virtue of its location and of its character. I think I may truly say that no person interested in the Diocese or the Bishop, who may have called at the house, has not felt that a wise choice was made by the Cathedral Chapter in the selection determined upon for the home of the Bishop.

I have a very grateful heart for this action of the Council, and would in more than ordinary terms give expression to it before my brethren on this occasion. My personal comfort has been so materially increased that I feel duty to you and for the Diocese in the social direction may be more fully and fitly done.

GENERAL MISSIONS.

The subject of the General Missions of the Church is one that I cannot refrain from dwelling upon this year in this Address. In them we are all bound to be enthusiastically interested if we have the right sense of duty as Christians. They mean simply the proclamation of that Gospel and the rooting of that Church among the careless or the ignorant, which gives us our comfort and our hope. It is humanness in its highest aspect. It is unselfishness at the apex of its grandeur. Why should we withhold—why should we not rather strain every nerve that the refreshing streams of Gospel privilege and the tender ministries of holy Church should circle the earth and cheer the dark places where man suffers and sorrows and sinks to shame? Why should we make any difference in loyalty to either Foreign or Domestic Missions, when man everywhere is our brother, and is equally, whether denizen of the island in the far-away archipelago or dweller in the heart of the dark continent or citizen of highest civilization, the handiwork of our one Divine Father. And, too, why should we who name the name of Christ hide Him, by our indifference or by our neglect of sacrifice, personal or financial, from any brother whether of the black skin or the olive or the red? What an awful responsibility that man assumes who by his cold words or hard criticisms of the Missionary or the Mission hinders the growth and ongoing of the Lord's Kingdom in the lands that are dark and in the nations that are far away from God.

We are hearing in some quarters of the importance of giving study to the science of comparative religions, and there were a few years ago the enthusiasts in Christian lands who were claiming much honor for the sacred books of the East at our hands. But a more careful perusal of both the volumes and the practice of those religious cults has demonstrated that many of the claims made in their behalf are unfounded. While some of them are the embodiment of strange philosophies, of subtle mysticism and of arrant superstition, it is a fact that their practical sides show a mass of hideous rites, of barbarous cruelties and of immoral relationships and practices. Possibly some phases of the intellectual or the sacrificial factors in their systems may be entitled to our interest and perhaps our esteem. But the gross living they create and the purity that is eschewed and the honor that is ignored and the tyrannies they develop, simply are one great cry for humanity's redemption from the horrors and the slaveries and the monstrous cruelties that saturate these systems by the helping-hand and the solacing voice of Christ's sweet and gentle Gospel and its all-embracing charity. Yes! it there is one thing that is illogical and ungenerous and un-Christlike in a Christian man it is a frown upon or a word against or a hostile deed flung at Christian Missions in the alien and dark nations.

I know that these suggestions are unnecessary as to the majority—the great majority—of those who sit before me. The Clergy of this Diocese are aiming to do all they can to raise the sums apportioned them by our Standing Committee on Missions and Apportionment—who are the regularly constituted body in this Diocese to hold communication with the General Board of Missions. I recognize the great difficulty in many parishes and missions in gathering the sums desired of them. I know the utter impossibility in some communities of doing what is asked. There are several weak points in Western New York in which the Church financially is feebler than many places in the West helped by Missionary funds of the General Church. That is true—surely so, my brethren. But what is the conclusion we are to reach? Is it not that the strong should support the weak and give of their abundance more generously to the great cause? I plead for that. We are not, as a whole, doing our best. Our record before the great Church should be a more liberal one in the matter of the Church's work in Missionary fields. God help us all to have a full recognition of and a conscientious aim in our obligation toward the work of Church extension under our own flag and across foreign seas.

It is proposed that a men's united offering be presented at the session of the next General Convention as a thank-offering. It is my intention at some time ere long to call together the Committee to which I have referred, in order that they may give consideration to the subject in connection with our own Diocese and its duty in the matter.

DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

Our own Mission work within the Diocese goes on in its active way. Missionaries and Archdeacons show continued and increasing zeal as I believe. Sometimes the fields give discouragement. Villages surrender their young people to be swallowed up in the great maw of the city. Poor crops on some country sides limit the capacity of the people in supporting the Clergy. The stand-bys of years in some parishes pass away to their rest and none arise to fill their places. But the great body of the work moves forward. New Missions develop and give courage to us all in their healthy growth. The Church even in the old decaying fields stands for dignity and devotion and a sound righteousness, and its influence is no feeble one even in the sorrowful and dark day. It is a comfort that the members of the two Boards of Missions are earnest men who give much conscientious and laborious thought and toil to the work.

DEVEAUX COLLEGE.

I have little to say about De Veaux this year. The law suit of which you are aware is still pending—undecided in the Courts.

Sufficient be it to relate that, so far as it is possible, under the unfortunate limitations that circumscribe our work we are doing the best possible things. It is a wretched condition, and a wrong condition I unhesitatingly say from the standpoint of morals, that so good a work as is possible under other conditions is obstructed and brought to so low a plane. But I presume we shall be compelled to wait on the "law's delay."

CLOSING.

In closing I must express the great gratification I have and the thankfulness that rises in my heart as I review the large kindness and helpfulness manifested toward me by the entire body of the Clergy of this Diocese—with but one or two exceptions—during this year past. And so, too, I would express to the laity in whose homes I have received such hearty and hospitable welcomes, as well as those many others, men and women in every parish and mission where I have received warm claspings of hands and well-wishes during the twelvemonth past, my sincerest thanks.

May peace and prosperity abide in the homes of all.

And now, brethren, I commend you and the work we have to do to the care and blessing of God's Holy Spirit.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN OF THE DE LANCEY DIVINITY SCHOOL.

To the Board of Education of the Diocese of Western New York :

The Warden of the De Lancey Divinity School respectfully reports that the work of the school has been materially enlarged during the past year by the admission of five students from the Diocese of Central New York, at the request of the Bishop of that Diocese, and with the cordial consent of our own Bishop. The whole number of students is now nine, of whom four have been in attendance only part of the year, and one is in the preparatory course. Three others have applied for admission to the next year's course. The expenses of the Central New York students are provided for by their own Bishop. The school is thus taking the place of S. Andrew's Divinity School of Syracuse, which is suspended for the present ; and is realizing in some degree the hope expressed at the division of the Diocese in 1868, that its work might be available for the two Dioceses once included in Western New York.

Three of the regular courses of lectures for the year have been held, the lateness of Easter Day this year postponing the fourth until to-day. They have shown, as heretofore, much interest and excellent work on the part of the lecturers (given without any compensation), and generally on that of the students, of whom all but two are new members of the school. Since the present system of instruction was begun, nineteen students have been admitted by the Bishop. Of these seven have been ordained Priests, and are doing good work, six of them in this Diocese. Two are in Deacon's Orders ; five are nearly or quite ready for Deacon's Orders ; one has entered the General Theological Seminary, and two were dismissed (three years ago) for want of satisfactory work.

The Library now contains 1,840 volumes, besides 540 duplicates (the latter mostly text books), 209 more than last year, 56 being gifts. Catalogues have been sent to all the Clergy of the Diocese, a few of whom (too few), besides former students, have availed themselves of the privilege of using the books. Most of the thousand volumes added during the last ten years are new, and of great value to Clergymen in parish work.

The expenses of the school reported by the Warden have been :

Lectures and examinations.....	$ 159.47
Library (text books $164.99, binding and catalogue $59.15).	250.34
Express and freight, and miscellaneous.....	31.27

Of which $14 25 has been paid from the Swift Book Fund, and $13.50 from sales of books to former students.

Expenditures not passing through the Warden's hands, and reported by the Treasurer at this date, are, for salary of Warden, $700.00; Divinity school house, including steam-heat, water, repairs and taxes, $193.59, total $893.59; making in all $1,334.59, being $698.61 less than the income for the year. The surplus for the five years since the present work of the school was begun is stated as $4,510.35.

In addition to his duties in the school, the Warden has given much private instruction to the students, and in Hebrew and the Greek Testament to candidates preparing for the General Theological Seminary, and has had much correspondence with the young men looking forward to the Ministry. He has also officiated during the year in 200 services in Western and Central New York, mostly in parishes and missions in or near Geneva. He must express his sincere thanks for the earnest and cordial co-operation in all the work of the school received from the Bishop, the Board of Education and the lecturers, and also from the Bishop of Central New York.

CHARLES WELLS HAYES,

Geneva, May 1, 1905.

Warden.

(C.) REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF DE VEAUX
COLLEGE FOR ORPHAN AND DESTITUTE CHILDREN FOR THE YEAR ENDED
DECEMBER 31, 1904.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., January 20, 1905.

To the Bishop and Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western New York:

Gentlemen:—Pursuant to the terms of the Charter of this Corporation, the Trustees of De Veaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children respectfully submit herewith their report for the year ended December 31, 1904:

The total number of boys received on the Foundation during the year 1904 was 27; the greatest number in attendance at any one time was 23; the average number maintained for the year was 23, the average age being 15, the oldest boy 19 and the youngest 12 years of age.

The course of study remains the same as heretofore published in the Register, and is identical with that followed in the Public High Schools and the two upper grades of the Grammar schools in New York State.

Schedule "A," hereunto annexed, is a balance sheet of the books of account at the close of business December 31, 1904. This statement shows that the Corporation owes $1,000.00 for money borrowed with which to pay running expenses of the school. There is, however, more than sufficient interest past due and accrued upon the real estate loans to pay off this note, and as soon as the interest is collected it will be done.

Schedule "B," hereunto annexed, is a statement showing all cash transactions in the Interest Bearing Endowment Funds during the year, and the condition of the Endowment Funds at December 31, 1904.

Through the sale of a vacant lot for $470.00 there has been an increase in the Endowment Fund of a like amount. Certificates of the Fidelity Trust Company, of Buffalo, N. Y., are attached to this schedule, stating that the cash balances of the different Endowment Funds as shown on hand at December 31, 1904, were upon deposit in that bank upon that date.

Schedule "C," hereunto annexed, is a statement showing the condensed income receipts and disbursements for the year 1904. A certificate from the Niagara Falls Trust Company, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., is attached thereto and certifies that the income cash balance as shown on hand at December 31, 1904, was upon deposit in that bank upon that date.

Schedule "D," hereunto annexed, is a statement in detail of the cost of maintenance of the school for the year ended December 31, 1904.

Schedule "E," hereunto annexed, is a list of the real estate bonds and mortgages at December 31, 1904, of the general Endowment Fund of the college.

Schedule "F," hereunto annexed, is a list of the land contracts of the general Endowment Fund at December 31, 1904.

Schedule "G," hereunto annexed, is a list of the real estate bonds and mortgages of the "Strickland Fund."

Schedule "H," hereunto annexed, is a list of real estate owned by the Corporation.

There were five meetings of the Board of Trustees held during the year 1904, and the attendance at said meetings is shown in the following table:

Of the vacancies in the mission field the first of last June, viz.: Holley, Montour Falls, East Bloomfield, Victor, Bergen, Sodus Point, Wolcott, Union Hill, Fairport, Shortsville, Manchester, Livonia, Dundee, Dresden and Himrods, fifteen in all, twelve have been provided for, viz.: Holley, Montour Falls, East Bloomfield, Sodus Point, Wolcott, Union Hill, Shortsville, Manchester, Dundee, Dresden, Himrods and Livonia. If the Rev. Mr. Gatley, who has recently gone to Pittsford, will consent to look after Fairport, one more vacancy will be filled. Shortsville and Manchester are served by a lay reader from Hobart College. The Rev. Mr. Gilbert has also given occasional services and celebrations to these places.

E. Bloomfield, now known as Holcomb, is also being regularly and most acceptably served by a lay reader, Mr. Wm. Guy Raines, Jr. Mr. Raines hopes to be admitted as a candidate for Holy Orders. He began reading service at Holcomb last October and the church is enjoying a season of harmony and prosperity. The congregations are large, and include a goodly number of men. Eleven have been baptized and a class for Confirmation awaits the coming of the Bishop. The mission at S. Phelps, under the Rev. Mr. Gilbert, owing to some unfortunate circumstances, has been temporarily without services except such as your Archdeacon could give. But now that spring has come, we expect to renew operations.

The church building at Wolcott, begun by your former Archdeacon, made little progress towards completion during the summer months. It was found necessary to borrow $650.00 in order to pay off accumulated debts for materials and complete the building. A mortgage for that amount was accordingly placed on the property. With the money thus received the work of completion went forward, and on January 31st the first service was held in the new building. This mission, in connection with the one at Sodus Point, is under the care of the Rev. Mr. Allison. The people are enthusiastic and progressive and the field presents a most encouraging work. Here, as in many other places, we ought to have a resident minister who could give his whole time and attention to the work. At Sodus Point marvelous things have taken place. The Rev. Mr. Allison was sent by the Bishop to this field last June. His consecration and devotion to duty, coupled with exceptional ability as a teacher, have wrought wonders. Between fifty and sixty have been baptized, a men's club of 75 members maintained, and the services largely and regularly attended. All this and much more has been done in less than a year in a small town of about 300 inhabitants.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis has had charge of the work at Holley since the first of last month and is doing good service in that important and inviting field.

After a long vacancy at Montour Falls the services of the Rev. Mr. Stevenson have been secured. Mr. Stevenson entered upon his duties the first of last February, and new life and hope seem to have entered with him. Montour Falls is a thriving town. We have here a fine church property and a large number of earnest communicants. The congregation has had many trials and tribulations. If I should read the names of some of the men—myself included—who have been sent to minister to these people you would wonder that there is any congregation left. Because of an unfortunate controversy during my ministry at Montour Falls over the use of fermented wine at the Holy Communion, I feel that an unfavorable impression has been gained by many of this truly inviting mission. I wish to say, therefore, that with but one exception, those who for conscience sake were most bitterly opposed to the use of fermented wine have remained loyal to the church. One of their number served as lay reader and kept the church open at a time when it meant much to the life of the work. I make this brief statement at this time, first, because having myself served the people of Montour Falls for a period of nearly three years, I know whereof I speak, and second, because, as has been said, I feel that in justice to them any erroneous impressions ought to be corrected.

The Rev. Mr. Knollmeyer, lately called to the church in Avon, has consented to take the work at Livonia also.

At Victor and Bergen pastoral calls have been made, but the buildings being out of repair no public services have been held. It is your Archdeacon's purpose to have these properties put into good order in the near future so that services may be resumed. The buildings have been reinsured, the premiums being paid from funds placed in my hands by generous contributors.

The mission at Dundee, where we built a beautiful church costing about $5,500 some four years ago, is in a flourishing condition. The building is paid for and consecrated, and we now have about 45 communicants. The Rev. Mr. McCoy, who succeeded me at Dundee, Dresden and Himrods, is doing good work. A class of 13 was recently confirmed. At Dresden the work has revived some under Mr. McCoy, and an effort is being made to make needed repairs to the church property.

At Himrods, the other point served by Mr. McCoy, we expect within a few weeks to begin the erection of a small chapel. For this purpose the people of the mission have gathered together between five and six hundred dollars, and a desirable lot has been secured. The Board of Missions granted them $300 from our last S. S. Advent offering. At this point we have about 25 energetic and enthusiastic communicants and we hope to complete a building before fall. As has been stated, this mission is worked in connection with Dundee and Dresden.

At Union Hill services are regularly maintained by the Rev. Mr. Martin in connection with S. Thomas' Mission, Rochester. At both of these places good and effective work is being done.

These missions occupy important positions, and a future full of promise is before them. That which is true of S. Thomas' in the eastern section of the city is equally true of S. Stephen's in the far western end. The Rev. Mr. Taylor has charge of this work, and also ministers to the church in Corfu. S. Stephen's ought to have the undivided attention of one man, as its situation in a rapidly growing section of the city is an important one. I am more and more convinced that we make a mistake when we fail to concentrate our money and energy in larger measure upon such points as this. Very often we sin away our day of grace, and at last awake to find the door of opportunity closed to us. I see no reason why S. Stephen's, with proper methods and means, might not become a strong organization in a few years.

At the Church of the Ascension, Rochester, and S. George's, Charlotte, splendid work is being done by the Rev. Mr. Lippitt. These are also very important points, and the near future will doubtless show a marked advance in the members and interest.

At Caledonia services are regularly maintained by the Rev. Mr. Searing. We have a beautiful church building at this place, which does duty for two towns, Mumford and Caledonia.

Bradford and Wayne are now in the care of a priest, the Rev. Mr. Stoddard having been advanced to the priesthood the past year. His quarterly reports show that faithful work is being done at these points.

At Allen's Hill only such services have been held the past winter as I have been able to give. We hope that the Rev. Mr. Goss may see his way clear to again take up this work in connection with Honeoye Falls.

At points where the services of the church are regularly maintained under the care of men in full orders, your Archdeacon has not felt called as yet to visit. For this reason I have not visited Hunts and Nunda, where the Rev. Mr. Dennis continues his faithful and conscientious work. I have given my attention to such places as were without regular ministrations and ministers.

It has also seemed best to me to "strengthen our stakes rather than lengthen our cords." Hence there has been little attempt made to enter new towns. But now that our present field is better worked we can begin to reach out. For this purpose we shall need larger contributions, and I would urge upon my brethren of the clergy the necessity of being regular and prompt with their quarterly offerings. It is not enough simply to take the offering; it should be sent in to the treasurer. It's of small benefit to the missionaries if the quarterly offering is taken and not applied.

In going around the Archdeaconry I occasionally find offerings that have been taken and then tucked away for six months or even a year. Mite chests, I find, too, that have been filled full and then never called for. This, I fear, shows not only carelessness, but worse than that, indifference. Thus "the hire of our laborers in the mission field is being kept back by fraud."

Then, too, this lack of promptness makes it necessary for me to bombard you with postal cards, thus incurring additional expense.

Work, other than that already mentioned and not strictly under the care of the Board of Missions and your Archdeacon, is being carried on at various other places.

The Rev. Mr. Lord had charge at Avoca and Savona, Hoffman at Canisteo, Burge at Pleasant Valley, Cushing at Stafford, Miller at Sodus Center, Mr. Bartlett at All Saint's, Rochester, and Dr. Sills at S. Andrew's, Geneva.

Your Archdeacon would like to do more aggressive work in the future, but the expense of living in the city, coupled with hotel bills and other travelling expenses, makes it financially impossible for him to do so. If an unmarried man could be appointed to the office it would be a financial saving, and I would willingly give place to such an one.

In the meantime your present Archdeacon will continue to perform the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

The fact that I am learning more and more of the needs of the work, and the further fact that I am well received wherever I go, encourages me to go on.

With the hope that your prayers and financial help may be with me in the coming year, this report for the ten months past is respectfully submitted.

Faithfully yours,

W. L. DAVIS,

Archdeacon of Rochester.

The De Lancey Fund is as follows :

Cash in Rochester Trust and Safe Deposit Co. at 4 per cent. interest.....	$ 1,350.00
Real estate in Fulton County, N. Y., 140 acres	850.00
Total De Lancey Fund.....	$ 2,200.00
Total combined funds.....	$ 44,686.72

The only change in the principal of the fund is a loss of $350, upon the foreclosure of the Albert Marsh mortgage for $1,100.

In our last annual report we called attention to two mortgages held by the Fund, which were in arrears. One of these was the Marsh mortgage of $1,100 on a 37 acre farm in Genesee County, on which we did not then expect there would be any loss. The other was the Vandenberg mortgage of $200, which we did expect to lose. As a matter of fact, the Vandenberg mortgage of $200 has been sold for the full amount of the principal, the only loss being the accumulated interest. But we were compelled to foreclose the Marsh mortgage, and the premises were sold at public sale for $750. We took back a mortgage from the purchaser for $500, which is listed above under name of Cashous Legg.

All the other mortgages held by the Fund, with the exception of one for $300, are upon improved city real estate, and are believed to be high class securities.

Annexed to this report is a tabulated statement, showing the particulars of the mortgages held.

There is nothing to be said concerning the real estate held by the Board, further than was said in last year's report, except that the land contract on the Brockport farm is being reduced according to the terms thereof. The receipts of income during the year have been as follows :

Cash on hand May 10, 1904.....	$ 72.82
Received from Treasurer of Diocese for Episcopate Fund.....	3,885 85
Received from interest on investment of permanent funds, rents, etc.....	1,968.41
	$ 5,927.08

The disbursements have been as follows :

Bishop's salary for 13 months.....	$ 5,416.66
Taxes, insurance and expenses connected with real estate.....	303.05
Treasurer's bond and incidentals.....	20 20
Cash on hand.....	187.17

As compared with last year, the receipts show a gain of $104.09 in the offerings from parishes received through the Treasurer of the Diocese; and a loss of $56.97 in the income from invested funds, making a net gain of $47.12. The apparent loss in the income from investments is explained by the fact that about $150 of interest and rents, due prior to May 1st, were not collected until after the books were closed. This amount now on hand will convert the apparent loss of income into actual gain of about $100.

We have again been able to pay thirteen months salary to the Bishop, and so to cut down the arrears in the Bishop's salary, which now is only $416.66. As against this liability we have an asset in interest on the principal of the fund, earned, but not due, of about $700 cash on hand, amounting to $187.17. The fund, therefore, is out of debt, and from now on ought to show an income considerably in excess of the requirements. The excess of income over disbursements should, in our opinion, be charged to the principal of the fund in order to bring it up to $50,000.

During the past year the Treasurer of this corporation has been requested by the Standing Committee of the Diocese to receive the rents of the old See House, 314 Delaware Avenue, Buffalo, the title to which is in the name of the Cathedral Chapter for the Diocese of Western New York, and to pay the rent of the new house on Elmwood Avenue provided for the Bishop's residence. This the Treasurer has consented to do, under protest, and with the understanding that the difference in the rentals, which will show a deficiency of about $350 per annum, shall be paid by the Standing Committee and not come out of the funds of this Board.

The Trustees of the Episcopate Fund seriously doubt whether they have any power under the terms of the Act of Incorporation (Laws of 1841, Chapter 184) to pay the taxes on the old See House, as has been the custom. The property is not held by this corporation. It is no longer used as a Bishop's residence; it is only indirectly that the income derived from the rentals of it is used for the purpose of "sustaining the Episcopal office in the said Diocese." Section 5 of the Act, Incorporating the Trustees of the Episcopate Fund, provides as follows:

"Said Trustees, hereby incorporated, shall be bound to conform with the instructions to be given to them by said Council, touching the management of the said Fund, and the disposition of the income thereof, provided that said instructions shall be in writing and shall be recorded in the journal of the said Council; and provided also that the income of the said sum shall not in any way be diverted from or used for any other purpose than that of sustaining the Episcopal office in the said Diocese."

The Trustees respectfully ask for the instructions of the Council in regard to this matter.

Dated May 12, 1905.

(G.) REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PAROCHIAL FUND.

Rt. Rev. Wm. D. Walker, D. D., Bishop, Etc.:

As Secretary of the Trustees of the Parochial Fund, I respectfully report :
That the term of office of Samuel S. Graves and James E. Brown, Trustees, will expire September 1, 1905.

Since May 1, 1904, we have received a conveyance of the property of the mission at Union Hill, Monroe County.

On the 25th of October, 1904, we directed a sale of the parsonage property held by us in trust for S. Peter's Church, Geneva, for $4,000, the money to be used in the erection of a new parsonage on land adjoining the church, the title to which is held by this corporation.

On the 19th of December, 1904, we authorized a sale of the property of All Saints' Church, Rochester, the avails of the sale to be invested in similar property in Rochester, but the sale has not yet been consummated.

Respectfully submitted,

A. P. ROSE,

Secretary.

Dated Geneva, N.Y., May 1, 1905.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PAROCHIAL FUND,
MAY 1, 1905.

GENEVA, N.Y., May 1st, 1905.

Rt. Rev. Wm. D. Walker, D. D.:

RT. REV. AND DEAR SIR—I herewith submit my report as Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Parochial Fund for the year ending May 1st, 1905.

There have been since the last report the following changes in the fund:

One piece of Michigan land belonging to the De Lancey Divinity School Fund, on which we have been paying heavy taxes for several years, and on which our mortgage was $3,000, has been sold for $2,000, and $1,000 capitalized from the income of the same fund, leaving the principal the same as last year.

We have received from the Vestry of S. Peter's Church, Geneva, $4,000 to be held for the Rectory Building Fund of that church.

We have received from Rev. H. F. Darnell $2,043.71, to be held as a Church Building Fund of Zion Church of Avon.

We have capitalized of "Church for Colored People in Geneva," $254.40, and from Clerical Support Fund, $500.

Making in all an addition to the principal of our fund of $6,798.31.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAS. P. MELLEN,

Treasurer.

The principal of this fund is in bonds and first mortgages on farming lands situate in Wayne and Ontario Counties, with personal bond and insurance accompanying same, and deposits in Savings Banks located in the cities of Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y., as follows, viz :

	$ 26,739.71

All accrued interest due on land mortgages has been paid.

There have been disbursed for annuitants and temporary relief during the past year $3,050.00.

Under a resolution passed by the Council, we add and state that there are on the list of annuitants 4 clergymen whom we pay $200.00 per year and 15 widows of deceased clergymen that we pay $150.00 per year, each payable quarterly.

It is the custom of the Trustees to allow $50.00 to assist in paying funeral expenses in case of death of annuitants, and also temporary relief in cases recommended and approved by the Bishop.

There needs to be one Trustee elected in place of Henry P. Knowles.

The outgoes have exceeded the income by $427.13. The Trustees understand that it is contrary to their instructions by the Council, but same is owing to the increase in number of annuitants.

Since the foregoing report was made up we have received additional Christmas offerings from 4 parishes amounting to $239.52, which will appear in our next report.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY P. KNOWLES,

HENRY P. KNOWLES,

Treasurer.

To the Right Reverend Bishop Walker, Bishop of the Diocese of Western New York :

We have examined the foregoing account and securities and find the same in our judgment to be accurate, and the fund as well invested as the times will permit.

GEO. S. TIMSUPAUGH.

But it shall ¹1787, 1790, Rule iv.; 1796, 1840, Art. vii.

Of the Organization of Missions.

§ I. [1.] Persons desirous of the services of the Church in their town, village or neighborhood, shall make application to the Bishop of the Diocese, in the following form :

" To the Right Reverend the Bishop of Western New York :

" We, the undersigned, residents of the town of.....
County of.....
 Diocese of Western New York, being desirous of obtaining the services of the Protestant Episcopal Church, do hereby request you to provide them for us as you think fit ; for which benefits we do hereby agree to put ourselves under your charge, promising conformity to the Constitution, Canons, Doctrine, Discipline and Worship of said Church, to the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese of Western New York, and to the rules regulating Missionary Stations in this Diocese. And in accordance with those rules, we are now desirous to be organized as a mission, under the name of.....Mission.....
 Furthermore, we hereby agree to pay to the Treasurer of the Board of Missions of the Diocese, in four equal quarterly installments, the sum of.....at least, for the first year."

This application shall be signed by all the adults, not less than six in number, who propose to be members of the Mission.

[2.] If the Bishop consent to the organization of a Mission, he shall appoint, on consultation with the Missionary, the following officers, to serve for the first year, after which they shall be elected annually on the Monday next after the First Sunday in Advent, by the people ; a Warden — who shall be a communicant of the Church — a Treasurer and a Clerk ; or, if it be deemed expedient by the Bishop, a Warden only, or a Warden and Treasurer only, shall be appointed.

[3.] It shall be the duty of the Warden to procure a room or house, to be used as a place of public worship; to see that the same be kept clean and in good repair, and that it be provided with all things necessary for conducting the services of the Church decently and in order. He shall also provide the Bread and Wine for the Holy Communion; take charge of the Communion Service, the linen, books, etc., belonging to the Mission; and shall endeavor, in the absence of the Missionary, to keep up regular services. In case there be no Clerk or Treasurer, the Warden shall perform the duties of those offices.

[4.] It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to collect or receive all moneys contributed by the Mission, and to remit or disburse them in accordance with the rules of the Missionary Board.

[5.] It shall be the duty of the Clerk to keep a record of events of importance to the Mission, and a list of its families and members; and in case the Missionary be non-resident, to have the custody of the Register of Baptisms, etc., but not to make entries therein, except by the Missionary's request, or in his absence; and to attend to any correspondence required by or for the Mission.

[6.] The Missionary, in consultation with the officers, shall appoint the Sexton, Organist, Precentor, Sunday-School Superintendent, and any helper he may find necessary; but in his absence, the right of such appointment shall rest with the officers previously named.

[7.] Every organization of a Mission in accordance with this Canon, shall be reported by the Bishop to the next Annual Council of the Diocese, which may declare by vote its approval of the organization; and a Mission thus approved shall be entitled to representation (a) in the Diocesan Council by its Warden, who shall have, ex-officio, a seat and vote therein, and (b) in all the meetings of the Archdeaconry by its Warden and two others duly chosen to be Delegates.

§ II. [1.] The Weekly Offertory is to be established at the commencement of the Mission; not only as the easiest way of raising money, and of dividing the expenses equitably among the people, but also that the duty and habit of Christian giving may be practically inculcated.

[2.] The title of real estate given to or purchased by the Mission for Church purposes, shall be vested in the Trustees of the Parochial Fund of the Diocese of Western New York, to be held by them until such time as the Mission shall become a duly incorporated Parish, or longer, if the parishioners shall so elect.

[3.] An organized Mission may be incorporated and admitted as a Parish, when, first, there shall be a sufficient number of male persons, members of the Mission, in good standing, duly qualified to act as Wardens and Vestrymen; and when, secondly, the station is provided with a church, and is able to support a Rector without Missionary aid.

[4.] Missions duly organized shall report annually to the Bishop through their Missionaries, or, if there be none in charge, through their Warden, or Clerk. And in these reports, in their own records, in all Diocesan statistics and accounts, and in the action of the Diocesan Council, they shall be held and treated as Parishes, with the obvious exceptions resulting from their having no legal incorporation.

[5.] The failure of the people of the Mission to fulfil their stipulation shall warrant the Bishop in withdrawing his Missionary, and, with the consent of the Diocesan Council dissolving the organization.

§ III. [1.] Every person becoming a member of the Mission, and willing to aid in its support, will be expected to name a certain sum per week, which he will pay to the proper officer, whether it be large or small, "according as God hath blessed him."

[2.] At every Sunday Service, or at least once when there are two on the same day, there shall be an Offertory; and then the contributors shall place the amounts due from them in the Alms-Basin, in envelopes, marked with their names or numbers. The Treasurer receiving and opening these envelopes shall credit the givers with the amounts enclosed, and at the end of each quarter shall collect whatever arrearages may be unpaid.

[3.] Money contributed outside of the envelopes shall be separately recorded and reported, and, excepting such amounts as have been collected as Communion Alms, or for Canonical objects, shall be appropriated : (1), to the contingent expenses of the Mission, and (2), to such other objects as the Missionary may deem expedient.

[4.] In addition to the Annual Report to the Bishop, a full report of the condition of the Mission shall be made to the Archdeacon by the Missionary, or in his absence by the Warden, at such times as the rules of the Missionary Board may require.¹

TITLE FIRST, CANON XIV.—Of the Establishment of New Places of Public Worship.

§ I. No new church or chapel shall be established, or new congregation or Sunday School gathered, nor shall the site of any existing church, chapel or congregation be changed without the consent of the Bishop of the Diocese.

§ II. When it is desired to establish a new church or chapel, or to gather a new congregation or to change the site of any existing church, chapel or Sunday School building, a petition shall be presented to the Bishop, setting forth the site proposed for the new place of worship or Sunday School building, as the case may be : Provided, That if the application be to change the site of an existing church or chapel, the petition shall aver that notice of the proposed change of site has been given by the Rector or Minister-in-charge to the congregation, at one public service on each of the three Sundays immediately preceding the filing of said petition.

§ III. As soon as may be, after the receipt of said petition, the Bishop shall cause a copy of the same to be served upon the Rectors and Clerks of the Vestries of the three churches whose places of worship are nearest to the site of the new place of worship or Sunday School building, together with a notice to said Rectors and Vestries to appear before the Bishop and Standing Committee at a time named by the Bishop, not less than twenty nor more than thirty days from the service of said notice, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the petition should not be granted.

§ IV. Notice similar to that provided for in Section III may be given by the Bishop, to any Rector or Minister-in-charge of a congregation, or Vestry, whose interests he may consider likely to be affected should the prayer of the petition be granted.

§ V. At the time named, the Bishop and Standing Committee shall hear any person or persons who may desire to be heard either for or against said petition. Within ten days after the hearing the Standing Committee shall advise the Bishop of its opinion in the premises and the reason or reasons upon which the same is based, and as soon as may be thereafter, the Bishop shall either grant or refuse the prayer of said petition, and file with the Secretary of the Council his decision in writing.

§ VI. If any of the churches mentioned in Section III be without a Rector, service of the petition and notice upon the Clerk of the Vestry of said church shall be sufficient.

TITLE FIRST, CANON XV.—On Retiring Allowance.

§ I. Any Clergyman of this Diocese who shall have been resident and at work in this Diocese for twenty-five years, and shall have reached the age of sixty-five, shall be entitled to, and on his application to the Bishop stating his desire to retire from the active duties of his ministry, shall receive a Retiring Allowance of $400 00 a year.

§ II. The amount needed for such Retiring Allowance shall be raised by a pro rata assessment on the current expenses (on the same basis as other assessments) of the Parishes of the Diocese in union with the Council.

§ III. And it shall be the duty of every Parish in this Diocese in union with the Council to pay to the Treasurer, for this purpose, on or before the tenth day after adjournment of each Annual Session, a contribution of such per cent. on the current expenses on the same basis as other assessments of the Parish as the Council shall determine.

§ IV. This Canon shall apply to such Clergymen as are in active work in this Diocese on January 1, A. D., 1901.

Title Fourth, Canon II, § 1, is stricken out.

OF REGISTERS AND REPORTS.

CANON ONE.

Of Parish Registers.

§ I. Every clergyman of this Diocese shall keep a Register of Baptisms, Confirmations, Communicants, Marriages and Burials, and of the families and individuals within his Cure, agreeably to such rules as are provided by the Canons of the Diocese.

§ II. The Register so to be kept by him shall specify :

[1.] The name, and place and date of birth, of the child or adult baptized, with the names of the parents, and sponsors or witnesses.

[2.] The names and ages of persons confirmed.

[3.] The names of all communicants within the Minister's Cure, with the time of their admission or reception to communion in the same, and of death, removal or transfer.

[5.] The names, ages, and residences of the persons buried.

[6.] The time when, and the place where, each rite was performed.

[7.] The names of all the families and individuals within his Cure, as nearly as can be ascertained.

§ III. These entries shall be made by the Minister in a book to be provided for that purpose by the Vestry of the Parish, and approved as suitable by the Bishop; which book shall be the Parish Register, and shall be preserved as a part of the records of the church, by the Minister, or, in the case of a vacant Parish or Mission, by the Warden ¹

§ IV. Such Register shall be always open to inspection by the Bishop, or by any person authorized by him, and also, in the case of a Missionary Station, by the Archdeacon.

§ V. A Minister resigning the charge of a Parish or Mission, shall deliver the Register, with the requisite entries complete, to his successor, or to the Warden, and take a receipt therefor.

CANON TWO.

Of the Triennial Report.

The Secretary of the Council, with such aid as he may require, shall, after the Annual Council next before each triennial meeting of the General Convention, assist the Bishop and Standing Committee in preparing a report of the State of the Church in this Diocese, and a list of the Clergy, to be presented to the House of Deputies.²

Title Third.

OF DISCIPLINE.

CANON ONE.

Of the Ecclesiastical Court.

§ I. There shall be an Ecclesiastical Court for the Diocese, having jurisdiction to try a Priest or Deacon thereof for any offence for which a Canon of the General Convention provides that a minister of this Church (not being a Bishop) shall be liable to presentment and trial.

§ II. The Court shall be composed of five Presbyters of the Diocese, to be elected by ballot by the Diocesan Council, from a list of ten such Presbyters chosen and nominated to the Council by the Standing Committee. They shall continue in office until others are elected in their places, but may at any time be removed by a vote of the Council.

§ III. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in their number by death, resignation, removal from the Diocese, or otherwise, such vacancy may be filled temporarily, and until the next Council thereafter, by an appointment to be made by the Standing Committee upon the nomination of the Bishop. And whether such vacancy shall have been so filled or not, the Standing Committee shall nominate to the said Council three Presbyters, one of whom shall be elected by the Council to fill such vacancy.

§ IV. The accused who is to be put on his trial shall have the right to challenge peremptorily any two members of the said Court, by notice in writing to the Bishop of such challenge, eight days before the meeting of the Court. Such challenge shall create a vacancy in said Court, so far as relates to the trial of the accused party, to be filled by the nomination of the Bishop as above provided, with a further right of a challenge of one such substitute after like notice to the Bishop ; and the vacancy thus made shall be filled in the manner above stated for other vacancies.

§ V. A majority of said Court shall be a quorum for the transaction of all business therein ; but no judgment or sentence thereof shall be valid, unless concurred in by at least three members of the Court who have been present during all the trial.

§ VI. No member of said Court shall sit or act in any case in which a Justice of the Supreme Court of this State would be precluded by law from sitting or acting as a Judge of that Court in a cause pending in such Court.

§ VII. A clergyman against whom proceedings for any crime or immorality shall have been instituted may, before his trial has commenced, and before he shall have challenged any member of said Court, present to the Bishop a request, in writing, signed by him, that the charges against him be referred to the Bishop of the Diocese for his godly judgment. Thereupon the proceedings against him in said Court shall be discontinued, and the Bishop, with three Presbyters of the Diocese, to be appointed by the Standing Committee, and who shall not be members of said Court, shall proceed to privately hear and examine such charges, and shall give full opportunity to all persons to appear and give evidence before the three Presbyters both for, and against the accused. The hearing, examination and testimony being concluded, the Presbyters shall make and present to the Bishop their opinion, in writing, signed by them, stating as to each charge against the accused whether he is guilty or not guilty, and if guilty, what sentence ought to be pronounced thereon ; and the decision of a majority of the Presbyters, concurred in by the Bishop, shall be final and conclusive. The Bishop shall thereupon pronounce sentence upon the accused, which shall not be more severe than that found by the Presbyters, but may be mitigated so far as the Bishop shall think proper. Such decision and sentence shall be a final judgment upon the charges preferred against the accused, and shall have the same force and effect as the sentence and judgment of the Ecclesiastical Court mentioned in the first Section of this Title, in a case tried before that Court.¹

§ VIII. The Chancellor of the Diocese, or in case of his inability or declining to act, some person learned in the law, to be appointed in his stead by the Bishop, shall attend the sessions of the Ecclesiastical Court, and act as its Assessor and legal adviser of the Bishop and Presbyters in every case heard under § VII. of this Canon; but shall have no vote upon any question arising upon a trial or hearing, or in any proceedings in said Court.

CANON TWO.

Of Proceedings in the Ecclesiastical Court.

§ I. The mode of instituting proceedings for the trial of a Clergyman in the Ecclesiastical Court, the course of procedure preparatory to, and upon such trial, and all the rules and regulations to govern the same, and the conduct thereof and the judgment of such Court, and the sentence thereupon, and the execution and effect of such judgment and sentence, and any modification or remission thereof, shall be prescribed by Ordinances to be enacted by the Council as canons are enacted, and which may be altered or amended as canons may be. Such Ordinances shall be a part of the Ecclesiastical Law of the Diocese, and, as such, shall have the same force and effect as if they were a part of the Canon Law thereof.

§ II. Until the enactment of the Ordinances provided for in the foregoing Section, the proceedings before and on trial in said Court, the judgment and sentence thereon, the execution thereof, and all other proceedings in respect thereto, shall be governed by the Canons relating to the trial of a Clergyman, heretofore existing in this Diocese.²

ORDINANCES FOR THE ECCLESIASTICAL COURT.

THE COUNCIL of the Diocese of Western New York doth enact the following Ordinances to be a part of its Ecclesiastical Law, pursuant to the provisions of Canon 2 of Title III. of the Canons of said Diocese.

I. Whenever a Minister of said Diocese shall become liable to be tried for any offence, such trial shall be had on a Presentment in writing, addressed and delivered to the Bishop of the Diocese, signed by the persons making the same, and setting forth the offence of which the accused is alleged to be guilty, with reasonable certainty of time, place and circumstance; and more than one offence may be included in the same Presentment.

§ II. Such Presentment may be made by a majority in number of the Vestry of any Church of which the accused is a Minister, or by any three Presbyters of this Diocese, or by the Standing Committee thereof, or as hereinafter provided.

§ III. Whenever from public rumor, or otherwise, the Bishop shall determine that there is probable cause to believe that a Minister of this Diocese has been guilty of an offence for which he is liable to be tried, and that the interests of the Church require an investigation, it shall be his duty to appoint by writing under his hand five persons, of whom three at least shall be Presbyters of this Diocese, to make such investigation. The persons so appointed, or a majority of them, may conduct their proceedings privately or otherwise, in such manner as they may think discreet and proper, and shall, if in their opinion there is sufficient ground therefor, make such Presentment of the Minister for trial as is hereinbefore provided, and deliver the same to the Bishop for his approval. If in their opinion there is no cause for such Presentment, they shall certify in writing to the Bishop accordingly.

§ IV. Whenever a Minister of this Diocese has reason to believe that there are in circulation rumors, reports or charges affecting his moral or religious character, he may, upon the consent and advice in writing of any two Presbyters of this Diocese, present to the Bishop his request in writing and such consent and advice, that the Bishop cause such rumors, reports or charges, specifying the same, to be investigated; and thereupon the Bishop shall appoint five such persons, and in such manner, as in the last above section is provided, to make such investigation; and all the provisions of the last above section shall be applicable to the proceedings and duties of the persons so appointed.

§ V. Whenever a Presentment shall have been made and delivered to the Bishop, and upon examination thereof he shall decide that the facts alleged therein do not set forth an offence for which the Minister is liable to be tried, he shall endorse his decision upon the Presentment and dismiss it. If he decide that some of the facts alleged do, and others do not, set forth such an offence, he may endorse on the Presentment his allowance thereof in part, and dismiss the residue; or if for any reason he deem it necessary, he may return it to the persons signing it, to be amended as he shall in writing direct, and again delivered to him.

§ VI. When a Presentment shall be approved by the Bishop, he shall endorse thereon his allowance thereof, and deliver the same to the Chancellor of the Diocese, with an order under his hand directing the Ecclesiastical Court of the Diocese to meet at a time and place (within this Diocese) to be fixed by such order, for the trial of the accused upon such Presentment; and shall also issue under his hand and seal, and deliver to the Chancellor, a Citation directed to the accused, commanding him to appear at the same time and place before said Court for trial upon such Presentment. The time named in the order and citation shall be not less than thirty-five days nor more than ninety days after the date thereof.

§ VII. The Chancellor shall cause such Citation, together with a copy to be certified by him of such Presentment and of the Bishop's endorsement thereon, to be served on the accused Minister. Such service may be made by delivering to him personally a copy of such Citation and Presentment, at least thirty days before the day of appearance fixed by the Citation. And the same shall be deemed duly served on the accused by leaving a copy of such Citation and such copy of the Presentment at his last place of abode in this Diocese, at least sixty days before such day of appearance, and by depositing in the Post office at the residence of the Chancellor, at least sixty days before such day of appearance, like copies enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the accused at his last place of residence known to the Chancellor, and paying the postage thereon.

§ VIII. The Chancellor shall also serve upon each member of the Ecclesiastical Court, and upon one or more of the persons signing the Presentment, personally or by mail, a copy of the Bishop's order for the meeting of the Court, at least twenty days before the time fixed by the order for such meeting.

§ IX. The Court shall hold its first session for such trial at the time and place fixed by the Bishop's order ; and the Presentment, the Citation and the Bishop's order shall be delivered to the Court, together with proof of the due service thereof, in the manner hereinbefore provided. Such proof shall consist of the Chancellor's certificate in writing of such service when made by him, and when made by another person, by the affidavit of such person ; and such certificate and affidavit, specifying the time, place and manner of such service, shall at all times thereafter be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated, as above provided.

§ X. The Court shall at such session appoint one of their number President, who shall preside at all its sessions held for such trial. They shall also appoint one of their number, or such other person as they may choose, to act as Clerk of the Court for such trial, who shall keep accurate minutes and make up the record of its proceedings, and with whom all papers delivered to or laid before the Court shall be filed, unless the Court otherwise direct.

§ XI. The accused must appear before the Court in person, and he may also, if he so elect, appear by Counsel ; and one or more of the persons signing the Presentment may in like manner appear in person and by Counsel to conduct the prosecution. The Court may determine what number of Counsel may appear for either party, as well as the order in which they may examine witnesses and address the Court, and the time to be consumed for that purpose. The Court may refuse to hear, and may exclude from its presence, any Counsel who shall disobey its orders, or while acting as such shall be guilty of any improper conduct.

§ XII. The accused may orally plead not guilty, or guilty, to the charges in the Presentment, or any of them, and he may also put in such special plea or answer in writing to the charges, or any of them, as he may be advised. If he appears in person, and neglect or refuse to plead, the Court shall enter a plea of not guilty for him, and proceed with the trial as if he had so pleaded.

§ XIII. If the accused after due service upon him of the Citation shall not appear before the Court in person upon the day fixed by the Citation, or upon such adjourned day as the Court may appoint, the Court may nevertheless proceed with the trial in the same manner and with the like effect as if he had appeared in person, and had pleaded not guilty to the charges in the Presentment.

§ XIV. The Court may adjourn from time to time as may be necessary, but always to some place within this Diocese; and the trial shall be conducted according to the principles of the Common Law as administered in this State; and the law of this State relating to evidence shall govern the Court, except as in these ordinances is otherwise provided. But inasmuch as the Court may often find it difficult, if not impossible, to obtain primary or original evidence, from its want of power to compel the attendance of witnesses, and the production of papers, the Court may in its discretion, and when in its judgment justice will be thereby promoted, modify, enlarge or extend the exceptions now recognized and allowed by the laws of this State to the rules which require the production of primary or original evidence. The Court may, in furtherance of justice, and upon such terms as it deems just, allow any amendment of the Presentment, or of any pleading, proceeding, or paper, and must disregard any error or defect in them which does not impair the substantial rights of the accused. But the Presentment shall not be amended after service thereof on the accused, so as to set forth any additional charge, or any offence not alleged therein when so served.

§ XV. Each witness examined on trial, or upon a commission, shall sign a declaration, which shall be read aloud to him before he testifies, and shall be in the form following, viz.: "I (A. B.), "a witness called to testify on the trial of a Presentment against "the Reverend (C. D.), now pending, do solemnly promise and "declare that the evidence I am about to give shall be the truth, "the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." And the evidence of each witness examined before the Court shall be reduced to writing and subscribed by him.

§ XVI. Upon the application of their party to the Chancellor of the Diocese, and it being made to appear to his satisfaction that any material witness cannot be produced before the Court on the trial, the Chancellor may appoint a Commissioner, and issue to him a commission to take the testimony of such witness, with proper instructions as to the execution and return thereof. The party applying for the Commission shall give to the other party at least ten days' notice of the time and place of taking the testimony thereon, and if the party on whom the notice is to be served shall reside at a distance of more than fifty miles from the place where the testimony is to be taken, an additional day's notice shall be given for each additional forty miles of such distance. Both parties may attend and examine the witness before the Commissioner, who shall cause the questions and answers on such examination to be reduced to writing. The deposition of the witness so taken shall be signed by him, and certified by the Commissioner, and by him returned to the Chancellor according to his instructions, and the Chancellor shall deliver the same to the Court.

§ XVII. Subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses before the Court may be issued by any member of the Court, or by its Clerk, and it shall be the duty of every person served with such subpoenas to attend in obedience thereto.

§ XVIII. The Court, after hearing the evidence of both parties, and the arguments of their counsel, shall make their decision in writing, signed by them, upon the charges contained in the Presentment, setting forth distinctly whether the accused is guilty or not guilty of each charge, and if guilty, stating the sentence which in their opinion ought to be pronounced; and each member of the Court may at his election make his separate decision. They shall also make up and deliver to the Bishop a judgment record, which shall be signed by the President and the Clerk, and shall consist of the Presentment, the Citation, the Proof of Service of each of them on the accused, his plea or answer to the Presentment, the Bishop's Order convening the Court, the minutes of the trial and of the proceedings of the Court kept by the Clerk, the evidence, and the original decision of each member of the Court, and all documents and papers filed with the Court having any relation to the trial.

§ XIX. If the accused shall have appeared on trial, a copy of the decision of each member of the Court shall be delivered to the Chancellor of the Diocese, who shall forthwith serve the same upon the accused either personally or by mail.

§ XX. If the accused shall plead guilty to all of the charges in the Presentment, then the members of the Court shall jointly or severally state in writing their opinion as to the sentence which ought to be pronounced against the accused, and shall make up and transmit to the Bishop a judgment record in the manner and form provided in the Eighteenth Section of these Ordinances.

§ XXI. In case the Presentment contains more than one charge, and the accused pleads guilty of one or more of the charges and not guilty to one or more thereof, the Court shall proceed with the trial of the issue made by the plea of not guilty, and shall make its decision and make up and transmit to the Bishop its judgment record in manner and form hereinbefore provided, and shall deliver a copy of its decision and opinion to the Chancellor, who shall forthwith serve on the accused a copy thereof either personally or by mail.

§ XXII. If the accused plead guilty, or is adjudged guilty by the decision of the Court, the Bishop, upon receiving the judgment record from the Court, and after due examination and deliberation, shall pronounce such canonical sentence as he shall deem just, not exceeding in severity that specified by the opinion of the Court. Before pronouncing sentence, the Bishop shall cause to be served on the accused, and upon three Presbyters of this Diocese, a Summons in writing under his hand and seal to meet him to hear sentence pronounced upon the accused at a time and place to be fixed by the Summons, which place shall be a Church or Chapel in this Diocese, and which for that purpose shall at the time fixed be open to all persons who may choose to attend, and the sentence shall be then and there publicly pronounced by the Bishop. The provisions of the Seventh Section of these Ordinances, in respect to the service of the Citation on the accused, shall apply to the service of such Summons on him, but the same may be served on the three Presbyters personally or by mail.

§ XXIII. The Bishop shall deliver the judgment record, with a certificate of the sentence pronounced by him, to the Standing Committee of the Diocese, to be kept as a part of its permanent records.

§ XXIV. If the Bishop shall be satisfied that justice requires it, he may make an order setting aside the decision of the Court, and dismissing the Presentment, or granting to the accused a new trial, instead of proceeding to pronounce sentence upon him.

At the Council of the Diocese held next after the making of such order, an Ecclesiastical Court shall be elected in the place of the Court theretofore existing, and such new trial shall be had before the Court so elected, subject to the right of challenge secured to the accused by section IV. of Canon 1 of Title III. of the Canons of this Diocese. The provisions of these Ordinances shall govern all the proceedings preparatory to, during, and after such new trial, including the sentence ; but no new service of the Presentment upon the accused shall be necessary, and the evidence taken on commission and read before the Court on the first trial shall be equally as competent to be used on such new trial as on the first trial. The judgment record and the Bishop's order granting a new trial shall be delivered to the Court before which the new trial is had, at its first session.¹

NOTE.

In preparing the Ordinances, the Committee have consulted Canons 1, 2 and 9 of Title II. of the Digest of the Canons of the Church; the Eighth Title of the Constitution of this Diocese; Canon One and Two of the Third Title of the Canons of this Diocese; and Canon 15 (originally No. 16) of the Canons of this Diocese, adopted at the Annual Convention of 1840 (printed in the Journal of that year) and which is referred to in the Second Section of Canon Two of the Third Title or the existing Canons of this Diocese.

Title Fourth.

§ II. The duties proper to a Deaconess or Sister are declared to be, the care of our Lord's poor and sick, the education of the young, the religious instruction of the neglected, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be set apart to the work of a Deaconess or Sister until she be twenty-five years of age, unless the

Bishop for special reasons shall determine otherwise ; but in no case shall the age be less than twenty-one years ; it being further provided that no woman shall be so set apart until she shall have laid before the Bishop of this Diocese testimonials certifying (a) that she is a communicant of this Church in good standing ; (b) that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the branches of duty above declared. Such testimonials shall be signed by one Presbyter of this Diocese, and by five Lay communicants of the same ; of whom two shall be men, and three women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious ; which preparation shall have covered the period at least of one year.

§ IV. No Deaconess or Sister shall take any vow of perpetual obligation in admission to or connection with her office. The Bishop of the Diocese may at any time suspend her from her office, and she may at any time resign the same to the same authority, provided, that if she do so resign she shall not be re-admitted, unless, in the judgment of the Bishop, such resignation was for weighty cause.

§ V. The constitution and rules for the government of any institution for the training of Deaconesses or Sisters, or of any community in which said Deaconesses or Sisters are associated, shall have the sanction in writing of the Bishop of this Diocese.

§ VI. All books of devotion and instruction, and all formularies of worship used in such institution or community, shall have the like sanction, and shall be in harmony with the usages of this Church and the principles of the Book of Common Prayer.

CANON TWO.

Of the Registration of Communicants.

§ II. [1.] Communicants removing from one Parish to another, or wishing their names to be transferred from the list of communicants in one Parish to the list of communicants in another without changing their residence, shall procure a certificate of good standing as communicants, as provided for in Title II., Canon 12, Section 1, of the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.

[2.] No Rector or Minister in charge of a Parish in this Diocese shall receive as an habitual communicant, or enter upon the list of communicants under his charge, the name of any person who has been a communicant in any other Parish in this Diocese, without a certificate or letter dismissory from the Parish to which such communicant last belonged.

[3.] In case of the refusal of such certificate or letter dismissory for other reasons than those of ecclesiastical discipline, on application to the Minister in charge of the Parish to which said communicant belongs, the application shall be referred to the Bishop of the Diocese, or, in the vacancy of the Episcopal Office, to the Standing Committee; and the answer and decision of the Bishop, or of the President of the Standing Committee, as above provided, shall be final and conclusive.

CANON THREE.

Of the Due Celebration of Marriages.

§ I. No Clergyman shall solemnize the Rite of Holy Matrimony, without the written consent of the parent or guardian of, or other person standing in such relation to, either party who shall be a minor.

§ II. For the purpose of this Canon, a minor shall be deemed to be, in the case of a woman, one who shall not have arrived at the age of eighteen years; and in the case of a man, one who shall not have arrived at the age of twenty-one years. And the person standing in the relation of parent or guardian to a minor, shall be deemed to be any person of full age, and of approved moral standing, known to the Clergyman, and who would, in the case of the marriage of an adult, be recognized as a proper person to give the woman to be married to the man, under the Office for the Solemnization of Matrimony in the Book of Common Prayer.

CANON FOUR.

Of Lay Readers.

§ I. [1.] A Communicant of this Church, being a layman of full age, may receive from the Bishop a written license, terminable at his discretion, or by act of the Ecclesiastical Authority in case of a vacancy, to conduct the public worship of the Church, in a Congregation convened for public worship, as a Lay Reader; but such license shall not be granted for conducting the service in a Congregation without a Minister, which is able, and has reasonable opportunity, to secure the service of an ordained minister. Such license may be given by the Bishop, of his own motion, for service in any vacant Parish, Congregation, or Mission; but where a Rector is in charge, his request and recommendation must have been previously signified to the Bishop. Such license shall continue in force for three years at least, unless otherwise provided in the written license, or unless it be at any time revoked by the Bishop himself.

[2.] Any male Communicant of this Church, in good standing, may read the Book of Common Prayer, aloud, for the spiritual benefit of persons disposed to avail themselves of his aid in their devotions; but he must conform to all the prescriptions herein contained to govern the licensed Readers of the Church; and he must further conform to all the Canons which regulate the Ministers of the Church, as to parochial rights and those of Rectors and other Clergy in cure of souls.

§ II. A Lay Reader so licensed shall not act as such in any Diocese other than his own, unless he shall have received another license from the Bishop of the Diocese in which he desires to serve. If he be a student in any Theological Seminary, he shall also obtain the permission of the presiding officer of such institution.

§ III. Every Lay Reader shall be subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by the Ecclesiastical Authority. In all matters relating to the conduct of the service, and to the Sermons or Homilies to be read, he shall conform to the directions of the Minister in charge of the Parish, Congregation or Mission in which he is serving, or where there is no Minister in charge, to the directions of the Bishop. He shall not use the Absolution, nor the Benediction, nor the Offices of the Church, except those for the Burial of the Dead, and for the Visitation of the Sick, and of Prisoners, omitting in these last the Absolutions and Benedictions. He shall not deliver Sermons of his own composition; but he may deliver instructions as a Catechist in vacant Parishes, Congregations, or Missions, if he be specially licensed thereto by the Bishop. He shall not assume the dress appropriate to Clergymen ministering in the Congregation; but he may wear any academic costume to which he is entitled, or any gown appropriate to under-graduates in any college under the control of the Clergy and Laity of this Church.

§ IV. The Lay Reader, whether licensed under [1] § I., or reading under [2] § I., of this Canon, does not officiate, or minister in the Congregation, but simply aids the devotions and conducts the worship of the faithful, as the head of a family reads the offices of Family Prayer in his household.

Title Fifth.

OF THE EPISCOPATE.

CANON ONE.

Of the Solemn Election of a Bishop.

§ I. Whenever, in the Providence of God, it may be necessary for this Diocese to choose a Bishop, due notice of the same shall be given by the Ecclesiastical Authority, and the prayers of the Clergy and people shall be bidden, that God would supply a Pastor after His own heart.

§ II. If the Episcopate of this Diocese shall fall vacant at any time other than within two months before the Annual Council, the Ecclesiastical Authority shall, within fourteen days after such vacancy shall have occurred, call a Special Council for the election of a Bishop.

§ III. When the Council is met, and the matter of the election of a Bishop is in order, the President of the Council shall ask whether any member desires to make a nomination; and if it be found that one or more nominations are likely to be made any member may move that the Council go into Committee of the Whole, and sit with closed doors. And this shall be a privileged motion, which shall be carried by one-third of the votes of each Order.

§ IV. When the Council is resolved into such Committee, Prayers shall be offered, with the reading of appropriate Lessons of Holy Scripture. Also, shall be solemnly read the Testimonials that must be signed in behalf of a Bishop-elect, and the vows required of him by the Ordinal, to the end that none other may be elected than a godly and well-learned man.

§ V. When all nominations shall have been sufficiently discussed, the Chairman of the Committee shall solemnly remind all present that their proceedings and sayings have been confidential, and must be so considered and respected by all, upon their sacred honor.

§ VI. When the Committee has risen, the President of the Council having taken his seat and reopened its session, the Chairman of the Committee shall report its action to the Council. After which any member may make a personal nomination, but without argument or discussion.

§ VII. When all things are ready, and a motion to proceed to the election has been carried, all persons not canonical voters in the Council shall be required to leave the seats provided for members only, and the President shall appoint stewards to keep the bar of the Council, so that none other than members may pass within.

§ VIII. Then all shall be moved to prayer, and the Veni Creator shall be said responsively in the longer form; and the President shall add further supplications and the Lord's Prayer, after which, tellers having been appointed, and decent vessels provided to receive the ballots, the names of Clergy and Parishes shall be slowly and solemnly called, all other voices being suppressed, and silence being maintained by all. Each member shall vote religiously and in the fear of God, the whole solemnity being an act of religion and part of public worship.

§ IX. The votes having been received, the tellers shall retire to count them, excluding all other persons during the count.

§ X. When the tellers return, all members shall rise, and non-members being again ordered below the bar, they shall report, and the President shall declare the result; after which, if the election be complete, prayers and praises may be offered. But if there be no election, new ballotings must be made with all solemnity as before, until by God's Holy Spirit a Bishop be duly chosen and declared elected by a majority of both orders present and voting.

§ XI. No words of comment as to any nomination that may be made, or in praise or censure of any Clergyman, shall be in order, except in Committee of the Whole. But it shall always be in order to go into Committee of the Whole, upon motion, by a minority vote as aforesaid, save only when the actual solemnity of election is in process.

§ XII. This Canon is hereby declared to be an act of solemn homage to God, by whose Holy Apostles the Episcopate was established, and by whose Holy Spirit it hath been perpetuated; and it is enacted to the end that all things may be done decently and in order, and that the Lord God may be with us and our children, as He was with our fathers in old time.

Earthquake and fire, causing the wholesale destruction of Church property and a temporary paralysis of church life; that it has a well-grounded hope that the great loss to these fair fields may be somewhat made up by concerted and well devised plans and efforts of Bishops, Clergy and Congregations of the Church in the United States, which will set the stricken jurisdictions upon their feet again in the midst of a heroic people determined, if possible, to restore desolated and deserted communities to former conditions of prosperity and usefulness; that this Council respectfully requests the Bishop to appoint a Sunday for a general and generous offering for this purpose, in this Diocese, among those parishes which have not already sent pecuniary relief to the Pacific Coast; and that Sunday the twenty seventh inst. be the designated day for this tangible expression of Christian and Churchly sympathy.

W. C. ROBERTS,

C. M. SILLS.

AMOS SKEELE.

The Rev. Mr. Irish of the Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary, presented the following report, which was received.

REPORT.

Report of the Committee on the General Theological Seminary.

The Committee find that, according to the Seminary's official list, and the minutes of the Council of 1905, the Diocese has been without representation on the Board of Trustees during the past year.

We have, however, been able to consult the Report issued by the Board of Trustees, and find that the record of steady advance in the prosperity of the Seminary has been maintained. There is evidence of improvement in the efficiency of instruction, an increase of the missionary spirit and deepening of the devotional life of the student body, as well as gain in the material equipment and the number of students in attendance. In regard to the latter, the number of men matriculated during the year was 49, as against 35 during the previous year; and the total number of students is 124.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

G. M. IRISH,

WM. S. BARROWS,

W. A. WILLIAMS.

The Rev. Mr. Gaviller of the Commission on Sunday Schools, made the following report, which was received, and the proposed Canon contained therein was referred to the Special Committee on Constitution and Canons.

REPORT.

Right Reverend Father in God:

Your Sunday School Commission desires to report that the forward movement in Sunday School work goes on with ever increasing force rapidly revolutionizing the idea and methods of Sunday School work.

From all parts of the country come the reports of the good progress which is being made. The introduction of text books for training of teachers, graded courses of study for the Sunday School scholar, and the extension of the scope of curriculum, until it includes not only the catechism and Elementary Bible study, but also Church History and Liturgics, Bible classes for older scholars, with the growing use of wall maps, and the utilization of the stereopticon.

For some years the Diocese of Western New York has had a Sunday School Commission, annually appointed by the Bishop, and yet the Diocese lags far behind, in comparison to the progress made by others, and the Commission in reality exists only on paper. Its hands are tied, and its energies are paralyzed. The secret of this lamentable condition is that your Sunday School Commission has no financial support, and without this, a commission cannot undertake any serious work, or keep pace with those of other Dioceses.

It is the function of a Sunday School Commission to collect and distribute information,—to be in fact a bureau of information and encouragement to all who are interested in Sunday School work within the Diocese,—not only so, but a bureau of information for those in other parts of the country. For example, several of the commissions in various parts of this land have been collecting and tabulating information obtained from Commissioners of other Dioceses, as to methods employed in the present day movement for the better preparation and qualification of teachers.

There is also that organization known as the "Federation of Sunday School Commissions" which meets annually. This body consists only of those who are the duly accredited representatives of organizations in their respective Dioceses, which have been officially constituted by whatever name they may be locally known. Your Commission ought to be represented in the federation of Sunday School Commissions.

Further, we may add, a Sunday School Commission should be large enough to be thoroughly representative, not only geographically, but as to schools of thought, for there are many, and sometimes even, opposing theories as to what form the forward movement should eventually take.

With a view to placing the Commission of this Diocese on a better footing and making it a reality, and an energetic body from whom this council may rightfully demand some really useful assistance, and also to bring Western New York into line with the most progressive Dioceses in the American Church, your Commission recommends the due enactment of the following Canons which is also made a part of this report.

CANON NO. I.

There shall be a Diocesan Sunday School Commission, whose duty it shall be to secure information concerning the present status of Sunday School work, together with its needs and requirements, and shall annually report to the Council the state of the Sunday Schools of the Diocese, and shall distribute information as to new and improved methods in Sunday School work, and shall be authorized to organize Sunday School Associations, establish courses of study for teachers, and take whatever steps it may deem advisable (subject to the Bishop) for the advancement of Sunday School work.

II.

The Commission shall in all respects perform the functions of the Standing Committee on Sunday Schools, hitherto appointed by the Bishop.

III.

The Commission shall be composed of ten members,—six of whom shall be elected by the Council, and four appointed by the ecclesiastical authority, the Commissioners shall hold office for three years, or until their successors are chosen. But the Commission may add to its numbers as occasion may require, or as it may deem advisable, provided that only communicants of the Church, of full age, shall be eligible for membership.

The Commission shall annually elect its own officers, and make such By-Laws as occasion may require, and conduct its own business in such way and at such times as it may deem desirable.

For its financial needs, the Commission shall have authority to levy an assessment upon all Sunday Schools of the Diocese, (not to exceed one per cent of the receipts of the Schools) to defray its necessary expenses, and it shall be the duty of all Rectors, and Clergy having care of souls, to require their Sunday School Superintendents to make an annual report to the Commission, stating the income of their respective Schools, together with such other information as may from time to time be asked for.

The Commission shall annually make a full report of all its operations during the past year, and shall submit therewith a detailed statement of all receipts and disbursements to the Council.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Council then suspended business and the Rev. Dr. Ashton offered prayer for Missions.

On resumption of business, the Rev. Dr. Hayes of the Special Committee on the revision of the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese, made the following report, which was received.

REPORT.

The Special Committee appointed under resolution of the Council of 1905, on the Revision of the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese, respectfully report:

The Committee received notice of their appointment January 17, 1906. There being no copy of the Constitution and Canons printed which could be cited as correct at that date, their first duty was to compare the edition of 1896 and 1905 with the Journals of the last nine years, and have copies carefully revised and interleaved for their use, a work taking considerable time and labor. Since then there has not been time to make such progress in their work as to enable them to report in detail to this Council in regard to amendments of the Constitution or Canons which may be desirable. They therefore respectfully ask that they be continued, or a new Committee appointed to report to the next Annual Council: and recommend that any amendments proposed at this Council and not requiring immediate action, be referred for such report.

The Rev. Mr. Ebersole of the Special Committee on Christian Unity, presented the following report, which was received, and the Committee continued.

REPORT.

Your Committee appointed at the last Council to study movements in this Diocese upon Church Unity, have had no opportunity of securing information or studying such movements if there were any, and therefore report that it has nothing to present to the Council.

A. W. EBERSOLE,

G. M. IRISH,

WM. G. STANILAND.

Mr. H. C. Spendelow of the Special Committee on the Increase of the Episcopate Fund, made the following report, which was received.

REPORT.

Your Committee beg leave to report that its members have given considerable thought to the matter referred to them; and although the eight men are located so far distant from one another that a meeting of all the members at any one time previous to the Council has not seemed practicable, yet information has been gathered from a number of sources and together with the comprehensive reports of Committees in the 1905 Journal, has been submitted to the members in writing, from time to time, for their consideration.

From these sources it would appear that the basis of this fund generally is the assessment plan; coupled in some instances with special large gifts and bequests.

Referring to the various sources of information in the 1905 Journal, we note that the amount of the Episcopate fund, one year ago, was $42,486.72; that of the DeLancey fund, $2,200.00; making a total amount of the Permanent fund $44,686.72.

The income of these funds for 1904-5 was	$1,968.41
(about 4½ per cent).

The receipts from four Diocesan offerings in 88 Churches out of a total of 154 Churches and missions, were	3,885.85
--	----------

Total income for that year,	$5,854.26

If the 66 Churches and Missions not contributing had contributed on same basis (that is, 3 per cent of salary expenditures), the income would have been increased by the sum of $384.41, and the total income would have reached the sum of $6,238.67.

We believe that the adoption of some kind of a "follow-up" system, so successful in mercantile affairs, would ensure the collection of a large number of these unpaid apportionments, and greater promptness in receiving the Quarterly offerings, and would recommend that a Committee of perhaps eight members located in different parts of the Diocese take charge of the matter of "stirring up pure minds to remembrance" in many places, so allotting the number of Churches and Missions to each member of the Committee that he would need to "follow-up" only 18 or 20, and thus entail no great task upon any one man.

We also believe in a greater measure of proper publicity for the multitudinous labors of our Diocesan and the workers in the diocese than is at present given to our parishes through the medium of only 1,000 copies of Journal, of which, perhaps, not more than a dozen copies are circulated in any one parish, and think that the publication of judicious information in leaflet form, from time to time, would greatly increase the intelligent interest of many parishioners, besides affording a most excellent opportunity to urge upon people of great means the advantage to our large and increasing work of making the Diocese their beneficiary, either by gift or bequest, without subjecting any rector to the imputation of unkindness or indelicacy in suggesting such an idea to any of his charge. We recommend such a plan.

We recommend that the amount of the Permanent Fund be fixed at $75,000.00; it is now less than $50,000.00. There are two ways, at least, in which to secure this increase:—first, to apportion equitably the difference needed upon all parishes and missions, and seek to realize the sum as soon as practicable; the second, to ask, for experimental purposes, from the churches and missions, a special contribution of one per cent. additional as at present rated, which would increase the Permanent Fund by about $1,800.00 for one year, which, with adding to the principal of the fund any annual excess of income over expenditure, would, in the course of a period of years, bring it to the figure previously named, $75,000.00.

We leave it for this body to determine which of these suggestions is most feasible.

Respectfully submitted,

The Council then took a recess until 3:30 P. M.

Trinity Chapel,

3:30 P. M.

The, Hon. W. J. Tully, of the Special Committee, on the Management of Trust Funds, made the following report, which was received.

REPORT.

The Committee appointed to consider and report changes in the conditions and restrictions in the investments of various trust funds of the Diocese, to audit the accounts and verify the securities of such trust funds, and to establish a Standing Committee of Audit respectfully asks that it be continued until the next Diocesan Council. The task imposed upon the Committee is very great and sufficient opportunity has not been given since its appointment to permit the submission of intelligent recommendations at this time.

WILLIAM J. TULLY, •

• W. A. WILLIAMS,

F. N. TREVOR,

ALBERT E. JONES,

C. H. GIFFORD.

The following resolution in connection with the above report was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee appointed to investigate the condition of the various trust funds of the Diocese and to make recommendations thereon, be continued until the Diocesan Council of 1907; that the Trustees of the several funds of the Diocese be directed to furnish to said Committee within ninety days from this date, full and detailed statements of the condition of said trust funds, the amount of money on hand and the securities in which each of said trust funds is invested.

The Hon. W. J. Tully of the Special Committee on the portion of the Bishop's Address relating to Clerical Support and the Thanksgiving Day Offering made the following report which was received.

REPORT.

The Special Committee on that portion of the Bishop's address relating to Clerical Support and the Thanksgiving Offering would report;

That we heartily commend to the Vestries of the Parishes of the Diocese for serious consideration, the fact to which the Bishop so forcibly calls attention, namely, that inasmuch as living expenses have increased within the past ten years more than 25 per cent, wherever possible, parishes should increase correspondingly the salaries of their clergy, and in estimating their ability, they should consider, not merely the income of the Parish or Mission but the ability of the parishoners to meet such proposed increase in salary.

In this connection, we desire to call attention to the habit of too many parishes and missions allowing the salaries of their clergy to fall continually in arrears. This is pernicious and unbusinesslike for which there can be little excuse.

The income of the clergyman is generally so small that it should be paid in such way as it can be used to best advantage and he may well be spared the harrassing anxieties of debts; moreover as a matter of business principle, the Rector is surely entitled to his salary when due. We commend the practice observed in many parishes of making temporary loans at banks for the purpose of meeting current obligations promptly.

We also commend the Bishop's recommendation, that the Thanksgiving offering always be taken for the personal use and benefit of the rector or missionary as prescribed by custom.

L. W. ROCKWELL,

W. J. TULLY.

The following resolution, offered by the Chancellor of the Diocese, was adopted.

Resolved: That that portion of the Bishop's Address referring to salaries of clergymen and the devotion of Thanksgiving offerings to the use of the clergyman of the parish or mission, be pressed upon the attention of vestries and congregations; and that, to that end, the remarks of the Bishop and this resolution be printed upon a separate sheet in such quantity as will be sufficient to place with each clergyman, his congregation, and individuals, copies thereof, so as to give the fullest notice of same.

The Tellers then made their report, and the following were declared elected by concurrent vote.

For Standing Committee: The Revs. J. A. Regester, S. T. D., Walter North, L. H. D., Andrew J. Graham, Charles H. Smith, D. D., Messrs. H. R. Hopkins, Selden S. Brown, H. B. Hathaway, Elbert B. Mann.

For Deputies to the General Convention: The Rev. Walter C. Roberts, Mr. Charles McLouth.

For Provisional Deputy to the General Convention: Mr. Elbert B. Mann.

For Trustee of the Episcopate Fund: Mr. Richard F. Rankine.

For Trustees of the Parochial Fund: Messrs. A. D. McLeod, A. L. Chew, (three years), Mr. John W. Mellen, (one year.)

For Trustees of the Christmas Fund: Mr. Charles McLouth, (three years,) Mr. Wm. B. Farnham, (one year.)

For Trustee of the General Theological Seminary: The Rev. Charles H. Smith, D. D.

For Trustees of De Veaux College: Mr. De Lancey Rankine, Gen. Henry C. Hodges, the Rev. Philip W. Mosher.

For Treasurer of the Diocese: Mr. V. Moreau Smith.

The following resolutions offered by the Rev. McDuff were adopted:

Resolved: That the recommendation of the Committee on Increase of Episcopate Fund, namely, the adoption of some form of the "follow-up" system for the general and prompt payment of the Diocesan assessments therefor by means of a committee of eight be adopted.

Resolved: That the second recommendation of this Committee, namely, a greater degree of publicity by means of leaflets be adopted.

Resolved: That the amount of the Episcopate Fund be fixed at $75,000. and that it be secured by apportionment, as suggested, be adopted.

Resolved: That for the purpose of putting these recommendations into execution the same Committee be continued with full power to act, subject to the approval of the Bishop.

The Rev. Mr. Burrows of the Standing Committee on the Report of the Trustees of De Veaux College made the following report which was received and the resolution contained therein adopted.

REPORT.

The Committee to which was referred the annual report and the special report of the Trustees of De Veaux College for Orphan and Destitute Children, has carefully examined the annual report and finds it in proper form, containing a comprehensive and satisfactory account of the financial affairs of the institution, and complying in all respect with the Act of Incorporation.

In their special report, the Trustees refer to the decision of the Court of Appeals definitely determining that a pay-pupil department never can be lawfully established; expresses the unanimous opinion that the Church should make better use of the present equipment of De Veaux College, which may be done by increasing the endowment to such an extent that the school can be filled to its full capacity; and suggests that the Council authorize the enlargement of the endowment of De Veaux College, and appoint a committee to act with the Trustees in this matter; all of which this committee approves.

This committee therefore recommends the adoption of the following resolution by this Council:

Resolved, That this Council hereby authorizes the enlargement of the endowment of De Veaux College to such an amount as shall be sufficient to yield an income adequate to carry on the institution, filled to its full capacity; and that the Bishop appoint a committee of three or more persons to act with the Trustees of the College in endeavoring to attain this object so much to be desired.

All of which is respectfully submitted:

Mr. E. H. Boynton of the Board of Missions of the Archdeaconry of Buffalo made a statement with reference to the work of the Rev. Mr. Smielau, Missionary to Deaf Mutes, and on motion the Treasurer was authorized to pay Mr. Smielau $50 from each Archdeaconry to reimburse him for monies advanced.

A discussion of the Men's United Offering to be made at the General Convention was then held.

Archdeacon Davis offered the following resolution, amending the Canon, which was referred to the Committee on Constitutions and Canons.

Resolved: That Section 2 of Canon IX., Title I., be stricken out. That Canon XVI. be added to Title I., to read as follows:

CANON XVI,

Of General Clergy Relief.

In every Parish of the Diocese there shall be made annually, on or about Christmas Day, an offering which shall be forwarded by the Wardens of the Parish to the Trustees of the Fund for the Relief of Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen, and of Aged, Infirm, and Disabled Clergymen, instituted by the General Convention of 1853, and incorporated in Chapter 459 of the Laws of the State of New York in 1855, to be applied by said Trustees to the purposes of the corporation.

The Rev. Mr. Hart read the report of the Missionary to Deaf Mutes which was received.

REPORT.

To the Right Reverend William D. Walker,
Bishop of Western New York:

Reverend Father in God:—During the year in the Mission to the Deaf, services have been held and visits made in the following named places: Buffalo, Rochester, Geneva, Lockport, Watkins, Perry, Penn Yan, Niagara Falls, Sodus Point and East Aurora.

Twenty-two services were held in the Buffalo Archdeaconry and 30 in the Rochester Archdeaconry, a total of 52. The Holy Communion was administered 12 times.

Baptisms,—Rochester, 1.

Confirmations,—Rochester, 1; Geneva, 1.

Two couples were united in marriage, one at Buffalo by the Rev. Mr. Berry, and the other at Niagara Falls by the Rev. Dr. Roy.

I have made as many personal calls on the people as I possibly could.

For the Mission at Rochester, a Communion set was purchased. It is a memorial of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet who first began this work among the Deaf in this country.

In the Buffalo Archdeaconry the money raised was apportioned as follows:

St. Paul's Church,	$10.00
Gallaudet Home,	5.00
Travelling expenses of the Missionary,	21.71
	$36.71

In the Rochester Archdeaconry:

Diocesan Missions,	$ 5.00
S. Luke's Church,	5.00
Gallaudet Home,	2.50
San Francisco Relief	4.00
Travelling expenses of the Missionary,	55.84
	$72.34

My travelling expenses for the year amounted to $163.55.

We were unfortunate this year to have so many rainy Sundays when I held services at Buffalo and Rochester. The average attendance at the services in Buffalo was 13. The highest was 24.

At the services held in Rochester the average was 24 and the highest 35.

The condition of the work is most encouraging in both Archdeaconries. At Buffalo better progress is being made now than was reported a year ago. At Rochester harmony prevails among all the Deaf and there is a continued and deep interest in the services.

Trusting that the future has much of prosperity in store for this work, under God's blessing, this report is respectfully submitted.

FRANKLIN C. SMIELAU.

Williamsport, Penn., May 14, 1906.

The Rev. Dr. Roy of the Standing Committee on

Archives and annals presented the following report of the Registrar.

REPORT.

The Registrar of the Diocese reports the Archives under his charge in order, exchanges have been made with many Dioceses, Libraries and other institutions. The Registrar further reports that he will be obliged to throw out many duplicate Journals of other Dioceses, to make room for incoming current Journals.

(Signed,) THOMAS B. BERRY.

The Rev. Mr. Harrington offered the following resolution which was referred to the Special Committee on the Increase of the Episcopate Fund.

Resolved: That it is the sense of this Convention that one compulsory offering a year from each Parish and Mission, on penalty of deprivation of representation in Convention, for the increase of the Episcopate Fund, should be appointed by Standing Committee.

A resolution offered by the Rev. C. J. Davis, to merge the Christmas Fund with the General Clergy Relief Fund was unanimously referred to the Special Committee on Constitutions and Canons.

A resolution of thanks for hospitality was adopted.

A thousand copies of the Journal were ordered printed.

The minutes were read and approved.

After suitable devotions, the Council adjourned sine die.

APPENDIX I.

BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

Reverend Brethren and Brethren of the Laity:

Again your Bishop welcomes you heartily to your places in the Council of the Diocese, and to the work which has for its purpose the strengthening of religion within our borders, and the edification of our Saviour's Holy Church.

We are gathered in that solemn time of the year which speaks the highest comfort, and of the eternal hope. To us, that Resurrection from the rich man's new tomb at Jerusalem centuries ago, is a reality, and is an unqualified, indisputable truth. It was a dead Jesus that came living again from the grave, and in the torn brow, wounded side and pierced hands and feet as he wandered here and there through his native country, showed himself alive by many infallible proofs. It was a Mary who cried out "Rabboni," that saw him: and it was Cephas again that beheld him, and the twelve too. It was also "500 brethren at once that looked into his face. And James saw him as well. And last of all, the Apostle to the Gentiles. A great company of witnesses—saints who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valient in fight, turned to flight the armies of the "aliens."

Yes! the fact that these Holy ones testified to, gives us cheer in this Holy-tide of our assembling, because it is a risen Lord and our certainty of resurrection too that speak to us in this Easter season. But it is not merely the fact, the doctrine of the rising from the dead, that we grasp and clasp to our hearts. It is that teaching that the Church accentuates as its corollary, that we too should rise out of the grave of sin, to newness of life, which also gives it high sanction and sanctity. And thus this holy-tide is precious to us as pleading for, and teaching of, life as it should be here, and life as it is to be beyond. This is, in its two-fold sense, what the rising from the dead should mean to us.

While dwelling upon this subject of the Resurrection, we naturally turn to those leaders in the Church who have gone forth from us to the rest of Paradise. I name 1st. Rt. Rev. Frederick Davies, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Michigan. Who knew him but to love him? A scholar, a gentle Christian, a wise man was he. His record as a parish-priest was one that any might covet. He was ever among his people, ever in the pulpit, witnessing for the truth, ever administering the affairs of his parish with discretion.

Called to the Episcopate in later life, the experiences of a long ministry gave health and wisdom to his executive work. And so a strong Diocese was made stronger, under God, by his faithful and wise labors. As my personal friend of many years, I think of him today with tender memory and an honoring affection.

2. I would speak secondly, of Rt. Rev. Benjamin Wistar Morris, D.D., the veteran Bishop of Oregon. When death came, he had rounded out 82 years.

Those years which were spent in the Episcopate were years of anxiety and weary toil. What hardships he endured through the rigors and discomforts of a new country, none knew in their fullness but himself and his Master above. Weary drives through forests and over arid plains and across rugged mountains, amid loneliness and cold and storm and heat, with intense fatigue, and amid numberless dangers,—these made up the warp and woof of his life through long, long years. He was wonderfully patient. He was wonderfully brave. He was wonderfully hopeful. He believed in God's Faith and God's Church and God's care. And so he worked on, comforted by the consciousness that he was not alone; but that the Holy Ghost was with him.

Though busy on the frontier with his toilsome duties, he was still the cultivated man. Reading and refinement and the polish of a gentleman characterized his career, and him. Volumes of his sermons that were published many years ago showed great literary force in the man, and a strong devotion to his Church and its privileges, and a sweet spiritual-mindedness. And with all these gentler, more religious traits, there was the cordial, rugged breeziness and the outspoken honesty that demonstrated the strong personality. You felt, when in his presence that he was indeed the consecrated man of God and that he had what some one has denominated shrewdly, a "sanctified common-sense" too.

His work in Oregon was a large success, and the Institutions and Missions under his direction prospered richly through his discreet management. Pardon a personal reference. On the sacred day when I assumed the awful vows of the Priesthood, it was my privilege to be presented for Ordination to the then Bishop of New York, Rt. Rev. Horatio Potter, by Bishop Coxe, who had not at that time reached the Episcopate. On that occasion, the preacher was the recently deceased Bishop of Oregon. His able teaching and beautiful counsels and tender warnings were worthy a very Chrysostom. The then young priest has never forgotten them. They have helped him, as Priest or Bishop, through these many passing years.

Of each of these Rt. Rev. Fathers, we may say as we gaze upon his grave, "Servant of God, well done."

Our own Diocesan family—I love to use that term when speaking of this division of the American Church which bears the name of Western New York. A family, Yes! what nearness and sympathy and brotherly love and harmony it suggests! Shall these not be the characteristics of it in this Council? I pray that it may be so. Not disharmony, not unbrotherliness. Our Diocesan family, I say, has been reduced by two in the ranks of the Clergy since we met, a year ago.

I. Rev. B. F. Miller, who was the rector of our Churches at Sodus and Sodus Centre, has gone home. We miss him from the group of Missionaries, who in the Archdeaconry of Rochester have been and are doing conscientious and strenuous work. His bright reports of his labors and his genial personality always called out interest at our Annual gatherings. He loved his field and was beloved of his people. He had high ideals regarding the Ministry of the Church of God and of his duty and responsibility in that Ministry and his aim was to make the ideals realities.

For many years he ministered at altars in this Diocese, and won for the Church and the Truth, honor, because he well represented them in graciousness, by unshrinking loyalty and in righteousness of life. For his country, too he had made sacrifice. In the war with the South he was one of our patriots, and went unhesitatingly into the ranks, and came home, his work done, with an honorable record. The work of the Church of Christ then attracted him, and he sought another oath of fealty, and gave himself to be an officer in the army of the Prince of Peace. And the latter life was the dearer one to him, because he loved his Lord, and His will and work were precious in his sight. His name will not soon fade among the many whom he helped to serve Jesus humbly.

2. I stood a week ago yesterday, by the open grave of one whom I had just consigned to rest with the Church's sweet devotions of hope. He was an aged Priest of the Church of Christ. He lies there in the midst of his flock, among the quiet graves of that still Churchyard where the shadow of the old Sanctuary in which he served so many years shall fall upon the sod that covers him.

His name was Rev. John E. Batten. It has stood on the records of our Diocesan household for 34 years. On the day that he was buried, the anniversary of his entrance upon his labors as Rector of St. Clement's Church, Wethersfield Springs, dawned. And that post was filled by him holily and conscientiously, while seasons came and went through that long period of a score and a half years, plus an added term of 4 years more. He passed from earth having worn his stole as a minister of Christ in this His Church for no less than 52 years.

That half century was lived modestly, quietly and holily, in the service of His Master. He meditated much on the things of God. He was the thinking-reader through all those years until a few weeks before he went to sleep. His parish was small, but it had its duties that were many and sacred—and his labors were not in vain in the Lord. People went out from him, to the larger fields of industry,—as is the case in so many villages of this state—to better themselves in the material world. But they carried forth the influence of a Godly man's life illuminating their characters, with it a faithful priest's fervent blessing. We bid him good-bye in St. Clement's Churchyard's calm, but we hope through the pardoning mercy of God and a dear Redeemer's sacrifice to meet him where it shall be no more the pain and the weary flesh, but the exultant songs of the ransomed before the Throne. Father above, through Jesus, grant us that endless joy.

Among those whose places are vacant this year, we must speak the name of William B. Rankine. He had come to be one of us in the fullest sense. As vestryman of his parish, as a Trustee of De Veaux College, as a member of the Standing Committee, as Deputy to the General Convention, and as chancellor of the Diocese, he was a laborious and faithful worker in this portion of our Lord's vineyard. He was a generous giver, a devout Churchman, a live man. All knew him not alone to admire his talents, but to honor his high character. To me, he was the trusted friend and the sagacious counsellor. He loved the Church and took delight in working for it to the extent of his ability. His direct honesty, his clear-headed advice in time of need, his thorough uprightness, his simple truth, won the confidence of all. We have met with a grave loss in his departure from among us. His name however will live. The memory that shall linger with us will be that of an honorable gentleman, and a high principled Christian. God be praised for the comfort and the sound influence of so faithful and Godly a layman.

We will now—in accordance with our custom and with that of the House of Bishops when the Necrology has been read at its sessions—join in suitable devotions.

And now I turn to the Diocese and its concerns. As to my own part in its work, I desire to say, this year as last, that our Heavenly Father has, in mercy, given me health that has been intermitted not for a single day throughout the whole twelvemonth. I have been able to meet all engagements—except three—and these were cancelled only because duty in connection with the matter that has given us so much grief as a Diocese during the past year, demanded. Regarding that subject, good taste and Christian considerateness forbid any further reference here. And so I pass on. It was indeed a great gratification and comfort to be able to go to my brethren on the days fixed for their visitations, without let or hindrance. I know the labor they give to the preparation of their classes, and the anxiety they naturally feel until they have brought their loved candidates to the higher privileges and joys of the religion of our Saviour. I know the difficulties in undermining prejudices and dissipating fears and overcoming doubts. I know the strong passion in their hearts for the souls committed to their care, and the gladness they have in winning for the Master. These I know because an experience of 21 years in charge of my flock in New York gave me realization of the hopes and disappointments and yearnings and strugglings men—pastors—have in caring for and guiding the sheep of the fold. Oh! my brethren, you know not the sympathy and the joy at your holy achievements that goes out to you from my heart as I see marshalled before me the men and the women who have been the objects of your prayers, and at last have followed your leadership to the heights. Much this year has there been joy in my soul as I have seen the victories of so many of you in your battle with the world for the Redeemer's glory. That illness or bodily weakness has not come to me, and so I was able to go to you,

I thank God for every day of my life. And this has been—praise to His name—the case through the 9 and a half years I have ministered here as your Bishop. Not once in all that period has a visitation been cancelled because of sickness. You cannot conceive the intensity of my gratitude for my Father's so great goodness to me, his child.

My records show that, since the close of the sessions of the Council of 1905, I have laid the corner-stones of 3 Churches, Dedicated 1 Chapel, and 1 Church, and 2 Parish-Houses. I have also consecrated 3 Churches and 1 Church Tower. Two Deacons have been ordained by me. Also 2 Priests. I likewise officiated at 6 Funerals. During the year it was my privilege to preside at 65 meetings in the interest of the Church's work within the Diocese. These are gatherings independent of those associated with my visitations, when I have—what is esteemed by me a great satisfaction and pleasure—the privilege of meeting the Vestries or Mission Boards of the Parishes. By such contacts, I have genuine opportunities to learn of the health or weakness of the work here and there throughout the whole Diocese. But especially is it a real delight to meet face to face, and have a cordial interchange of greetings and confidences with the men who are the backbone and vital forces of our Church in Western New York.

During the twelvemonth, I officiated at 173 services of either Morning or Evening Prayer. I preached 119 times, and delivered 154 Addresses on as many different occasions. I held Confirmations 106 times in as many separate places. The number of persons Confirmed by me was no less than 1472.

I think you will agree with me, that this is a generous record of work by the Bishop. But it has been made easy, brethren of the Clergy, by your cordiality and helpfulness, and by the comforts you have arranged for me in my visitations from their beginnings to their end. And, too, your kindnesses have been supplemented by your people so lavishly, that my goings in and out among you have had no hardship in them. For such gracious welcomings and entertainings, I must here, in this public way, express my gratitude, and offer the full thanks of my whole heart. A Bishop's life is lightened, and his cares soothed, and his burdens made easier as he thus finds kindly greetings, and hospitable deeds shown him by his people, as he moves hither and thither among them. A feature preeminent in my visitations of this year has been very large, in fact, extraordinary congregations in most of the Churches. Of course, the gatherings were made up in part of people from other Christian bodies. It is good thus to see the Church delivering a message to many others than her own children, and manifesting the "beauty of holiness" in her chaste rites and their devotional worship, as people of other Ecclesiastical names crowd her courts. I am glad when the clergy aim to make the service rich and stately on the occasion of the Bishop's visit.

Few occasions touch human hearts more deeply than when a number of people, amid reverent prayers and uplifting canticles, and anthems and sacred hymns, offer themselves to God in Confirmation, with the new-old vow of the ages. I have, during my Episcopate, received thousands upon thousands of people into a closer relationship with their Saviour by the laying on of hands—and yet, I can solemnly say, that never has the service, whether held in an upper room, or in our stateliest Church, been anything else than an august and awful solemnity. The thrills and fears and awe of those serious faces and those moved souls before me, call out response from my own. A Confirmation is never a perfunctory office with me. It always seems to bring me near to God in the sympathetic, spiritual emotion that flows toward those self-consecrating ones who kneel reverently at the Altar, and seek light and life in God. And if such be the influence on the Bishop's thought and feeling, who is constantly mingling in these hallowed offices, may there not be an even higher tide of such sacred influence called forth for the spiritual elevation of the thronging hosts who seek the Courts of the Lord's House on such days of ministration. And so, I conclude with a warm commendation of the splendid services shaped for the Bishop's visitation, that our precious Lord may be reverently honored in the presence of all people.

The subject of the Missions of the Diocese is one that I feel justified in pressing upon your consideration. The year just passed shows a record which is more than creditable for our Missionaries, and for our Archdeacons. Through the cheerful perseverance and the consecrated energy of both the Archdeacon of Buffalo and of Rochester, Missions that were absolutely moribund have revived and put on, not merely new, but intenser life. In several such places phenomenal classes—well instructed—have been presented for Confirmation; great congregations have gathered; new people have taken work in hand; contributions for Mission work, General and Diocesan, have increased, and in fact, a revolution has taken place. There has been a Church revival, in the Church's way. Inexpressibly has my heart been rejoiced as I have gazed upon the rich results of their devoted labors.

And then when I turn to the fields of the individual Missionaries located at this point or that, where the Church necessarily is weak, because of lack of population, but where our own children abide who ought to be shepherded, and fed with the Bread of life, I find self denying ministrations, godly men, who are patterns to the flock, and are in and out among their people; advisers, friends, comforters, leaders, teachers, sympathizers. as well as priests at the altar and preachers of the truth. Are you aware, brethren, that many of the good men who are working in our smaller parishes, with a Mission or two appended to the central point of labor, have no light burden to carry? There are discomforts and hardships knit with their life, of which there is no criticism by them. There is uncomplaining, cheerful acceptance of it all. Said one of them not long ago, when I was expressing regret that many comforts were lacking in his rectory, and in the general character of the village where he labored, "Bishop, these are nothing in view of the privilege and joy that comes with being a priest of the Church of God." It was a true heart that spoke, without intending to utter any heroic speech. And I could name many such consecrated servants of Jesus, filling pulpits in this Diocese, who rejoice in their Priesthood, because they "know in whom they believe", and heart is given, and care is "cast upon him." It is not heated fanaticism. It is a "reasonable service" for Jesus, whom they adore as their one Saviour, and would serve with their very lives, if need be.

Thus I am necessarily led to address you on the theme of Clerical support. A little thought I think, will convince all that sit in these pews, that the salaries in the Ministry are generally inadequate. We all know from personal experience, that the cost of living has been steadily rising for ten years past. The very necessities of life are more expensive to the degree of 25 and 30 per cent. beyond the status of a decade ago. The ordinary luxuries of life, that by the way rarely enter into a parson's schedule of existence, have risen to a higher price mark. It is all based on an obvious principle, viz, this; wages having been increased for nearly all labor, and the hours of labor having been diminished, the products of that labor must bring more pecuniary result. Whether this all comes of the tariff problem or of Trusts, or through both, I am not political economist enough to determine. I only know the fact, and it is a terribly real one.

Now, amid all this advance of salaries or wages in every vocation, the clergy stand an unprivileged class, as a rule. It is a rare thing to hear of increased income for them anywhere. The standard of a dozen years ago is in too many instances the standard of to-day.

Under such circumstances, it is no easy matter for many of my reverend brethren to support their families and keep debt from the door. It is hard that, in the midst of their meditation and prayer and laboring for God, they should have thrust upon them also, anxious concern for the bread and meat that should surely come—surely come, I say, because the Master's declaration applies today, as in those centuries long gone, to each of his ordained ones, "the laborer is worthy of his hire." It is a happy help to me to know conditions that, on my visitations, the Rector and vestry in nearly every Church give me the privilege of meeting with them and glancing briefly at Parish affairs. Since the adoption of this plan by me, about half a dozen years ago, I rejoice to say that the governing bodies of the different Churches aim at the time of the Bishop's visit, to show a clean record of obligations paid, and of debts, where possible, blotted out. One of the most charming experiences in connection with my official visit, is the contact I have with the Rector and his vestry for a heart-to-heart talk about their concerns. I think much good-will and sympathy is established thereby.

But let me speak of practical suffering which results to godly people because Clergymen's salaries have not kept abreast of those received by other classes of men. I could bring you to Rectories where gentle women, of most refined education, who have never had part in servile work before, are laboring with their hands at coarsest toil, because the meagre salary will not admit of the employment of help. I could enter the doors of other Clerical homes with you, where the Pastor himself with a loyal and loving husbandliness, day by day, is engaging in ordinary housework, and at the same time ably performing the sacred duties of his office. I could show you daughters in Clergyman's homes, of highest sweetness and richest culture, engaging in the commonplace drudgery that large families entail with a Christian courage and a cheerful self-sacrifice. There are many martyrs, brethren, in the quiet Rectories throughout the land, for it is not in this Diocese alone that salaries are inadequate often to sober need, but in many another part of the nation is this condition existent. I presume my thought and feeling on this subject has taken more definite and positive form, because of the practical knowledge and the kindly sympathy in these concerns of one who accompanies me on my journeys throughout the Diocese, and sees closer into the privations and toils so beautifully born than I can with a lesser experience in domestic affairs.

And now what is the summing up of the whole matter? It is simply an appeal on the part of your Bishop to the Laity, that where circumstances permit, the salaries of your Clergy be increased. "They that preach the Gospel," saith the Good Book, "shall live of the Gospel."

I think you will feel that it is not unfitting in this connection, and at this stage of my address, to call attention to two offerings, that, by direction of the Council are obligatory upon all parishes and missions on certain days, or on days near the dates specially designated. I refer first to the offering on Thanksgiving Day. For years and years it has been the law, that the monies received in the Alms Basin on that day shall go to the Rector, or Missionary as the case may be, for his personal benefit and use. It is not a charity. It is an honorarium. It is an expression of the flock's affection for the shepherd, manifested in a helpful way.

Now the clergy of this generation did not formulate that statute. It has been a kindly law in our group of standing rules from the Genesis, I think, of the Diocese. It follows therefore, that each clergyman is in duty bound to take such an offering, whether it be in accordance with his feeling or no. Nor should any pastor of a flock, when he announces, mayhap urges that offering, have hesitation in the matter. He has no responsibility for the Diocesan rule, now more than a half-century old, but he has another responsibility, and that is to allow his people the privilege of contributing to the cause designated by the Council so long ago, and never rescinded, for the Church's interest and gifts on that day. The Clergman, therefore, in performing his duty, is official and impersonal. although it is a duty done that in its results benefits him and his. I am prompted to speak thus at large upon the theme, because many of my Reverend brethren at different times have expressed delicacy and hesitation in the matter of presenting to their people, the subject of the Thanksgiving offering. They did not desire to stand in God's house, seemingly, asking gifts for themselves. I honor the modesty and the Christian grace that prompts them to be no 'self-seekers' as Ministers of Christ, or as honorable men.

But I think I will have the sympathy of the many loyal and Godly layman here today in my urgency upon my Reverend brethren to simply do the clear duty, and take the offering in conformity to the Church's rule.

I refer secondly to the offering, which by the Canon, is appointed to be taken on Christmas Day, or some neighboring Sunday. As you well know, its purpose is to provide funds for the supply of partial help to Clergymen who have grown old, or are broken in health and cannot perform regularly the duties of their office, and also to aid the widows of deceased Clergymen of our Diocese. I know no plea is necessary from me in behalf of this cause. No man, as we all know, is free from the assault of disease, and to each of us age creeps on apace. Is it not therefore human in us, and holy too, for our hearts to be generously moved to the comforting of the old man, or the worn one, or the sick one, who has labored for Christ through long years, and yet who has no opportunity, owing to meagreness of support in his working days, to "provide for the rainy day." I am sure it is only necessary to have spoken in this presence on the subject. I know the large sympathy of my brethren, lay and clerical, for the cause. I know how many of them present tenderly and earnestly the subject when the time comes each year. There are, however, some who are newcomers to us, of recent years, and to them I simply speak this reminder because the matter is one near my heart, yes! energetically so, for I know the trying conditions of some who are now so comforted, and how essential what is thus done out of the graciousness of God's people, on the birthday of Him who was miraculously and gloriously born by the power of the Holy Ghost of a holy Virgin, is for their very existence in the world.

I plead no more. The matter is safely in the hands of my Reverend brethren, and their brotherly kindness and love will not fail.

The subject of Parish-houses or Guild-halls and their use, is one that I return to this year also.

The demand of the day, and rightly, is for a working Church, a Church that meets the social as well as the spiritual needs of the people. It is good that the holy institution which our Lord established in the world should be able to come face to face with every human need, and help in the rightful equipping of the entire man for his posts in this world and the next. It is good that body and intellect should be trained under the merciful helpfulness and direction of God's Church. It is good that the things which have to do with our recreation and amusement should have a healthy but liberal restraining hand upon them. It is good that the tritenesses and the commonplaces of life should come within a sphere where they can be elevated to dignity, and sometimes to a hallowed grandeur.

But there is a limit to even these things in the parish-house, or rather a limit to them as a factor in the parochial life. Is it not possible for the Men's Club or the Boy's Guild to elbow aside the Parish Church? I make reply to my own question in the affirmative. Is it not possible for the Girl's Friendly or some other woman's organization to defeat by its imperious demands upon time and heart the real purposes of religion? I again reply, Yes! And my answers to the questions are based upon the experiences of many of my Reverend brethren who have concern for the souls of their flock. They are learning that with some of their young people—at least—the interest is greater in the next dance to be held in the Parish-house than in the next service to be held in the Parish Sanctuary. They are learning that many are neglecting Communion and the hearing of Sermons and the work which has to do with merciful service to fellow-men. For these things many pastors are grieving—and have need to grieve. Let us make the Parish-house robust and far-reaching. Let it meet generously and sympathetically the social needs and the intellectual tastes. But let the Church and its worship and its sacred labors be the dominating force in the Parish. Let it be the asserted, prevailing, truth that God and His sacred service are pre-eminent are the regnant factors in a Churchman's life.

I speak these things, first to strengthen my Reverend brethren, who have sometimes in this behalf squarely to confront an issue. And I speak them, too, as a note of warning to some rectors who may feel inclined to surrender the reins to the irresponsible or the disloyal or the purely worldly. My last word on the subject is, brethren, "cave," take care.

The subject of De Veaux College comes before us this year with a new interest. A reference to the report of the Trustees of that institution will show that its finances and its household concerns and its teaching work have been conducted with the usual conscientiousness and painstaking care. Outlay always keeps step with income. The maximum of students with the maximum of cost in securing able instructors to provide all of education that a liberal curriculum requires is the governing law. The development of the physical man is recognized as a factor in De Veaux's life, as well as of the spiritual and the intellectual. The good health that has prevailed and the good conduct that has characterized the daily life of the boys for years past, attest the fitness and the faithfulness of our self-unsparing, discreet, conscientious and gentlemanly head-master.

It is a privilege to enter its doors these days. There is cleanliness and good order everywhere. A sound discipline that has no note of harshness in it, while it is at the same time firm and unwavering—yet absolutely reasonable—controls the entire household and gives us there a reign of peace.

As to the religious element in the atmosphere of the College, I, the Bishop, can only speak with a joyous satisfaction. The young people are not worried and satiated and—at last, disgusted—with a large and unnatural number of services—as has been the case in some Church-schools of the past. There is only a reasonable number of these—such as would enter into the daily experiences of an ordinary Christian family. There is music, admirably rendered and there is a simple spirit of reverence prevailing throughout—with no affectations of superior devotionism. It is only modest manly religious worship, after the sober rule and ways of our dear Church. The visitation for Confirmation yearly to De Veaux is one of your Bishop's peculiarly happy days. The soldierly bearing, the healthy faces, the attentive listening, the young voices ringing out in canticle or anthem or hymn, the devout bearing without affected stiffness, the tone of reality in it all that makes one feel that it is good to be there—and turns grateful thought to the memory of the honored and generous founder, whose name it bears. I would that more members of this Council and of the Clergy and people of the Diocese might be present on Confirmation Day or Commencement Day, that they might see with their own eyes that De Veaux College is a living institution, and that it is accomplishing a high purpose and working out a sound problem for the glory of God, the good of His Church and the benefit of many of His children.

It will be remembered by those who were in the Diocese a dozen years ago, that a policy which had been in force for years was suddenly changed, viz.: the policy of numbering pay-pupils—as they were called—among those who filled the ranks at De Veaux. The doors were closed for a defined period—five years—to any but “foundationers”—as they were technically named. A year or so after the expiration of that time the subject of a return to the old system was brought before the Council. It was considered and referred for later consideration at another Council. Finally it was resolved to bring an amicable suit before the Courts. It was a course of action that I had always favored—after the first year of my abode among you—having in that year tried to grasp the different sides of the problem, which had been before the Diocese for more than a quarter of a century.

The three Courts before which the question was brought, have decided that under the strict construction of the will of Judge De Veaux, and by the observance of every legal technicality—leaving out, of course, the questions of expediency, or—I will add, equity, too—it is not competent for the Trustees to open the doors again to the class excluded a dozen years ago or thereabouts.

To many of us who know that the renewal of such a system would be for the advantage of the Institution and would secure a larger outreach toward needy boys through the generous profit that would result, the decision of the final Court is a genuine disappointment. We had hoped to accomplish—what the story of five years careful management showed to be possible—not merely possible, but an absolute certainty—namely, with the profits on the tuition and board of a certain number,—who could be conveniently accommodated, provide for the care of a dozen more orphaned boys. Some of us believe that could the founder speak to us from out of his grave, his direction would be to go on and make his benefaction more far-reaching and largely active than it now is.

But we bow to the majesty of law. The question is settled. Doubts are removed. Our way is clouded no longer. De Veaux College must move onward in its restricted path. The echoes must still resound in the deserted halls. Its splendid daily roll-call of the past numbering up to four score or even perhaps a hundred names, must keep shrivelled as it is to-day to a score and a quarter of foundationers moving quietly and solemnly among the shadows and the deserted corridors.

A report will be presented by the Trustees covering their action in obedience to the direction of this Council. Appended to it is a suggestion or resolution of a practical nature which I commend to your consideration.

I must add that as a Board, we can give, as I think, a good account of our stewardship.

Looking forth upon the General Church we find, as with ourselves in Western New York, a wholesome and a steady and a strong growth. The Mission work is developing wherever the standard of this American Church has been lifted up. China, Africa, Japan, the Phillipines, Cuba, Porto Rico, South America, Mexico, the West, the South — everywhere it is increasing Communicant lists, added Churches, Missionaries ardent toil, Jesus loved and served more and more. With such growth and such zeal and such self-effacement by Godly men and women among those who are sent, our representatives, into the new fields athwart the world, we may well rejoice in the honor of membership within this Church. It is not only the work of those devoted Ambassadors who are out in the field. It is ours, too. We have privilege of partnership in it—the honored privilege of silent partners who provide capital and secure the success of the enterprise and give reality to the industry.

Suffer a word of exhortation, brethren, in this behalf.

Missionary zeal is large among the women of this Diocese. The Auxiliary stands well to the front among those of other parts of the nation. The Juniors are alive to duty and are being well-taught as to their responsibility for the extension of the Church by their pastors, teachers and Spiritual masters. Even the nurslings are doing a part for their Saviour in their cradles. For what is the Babies' branch, a product of Western New York, born in this Diocese, but an Infants' Missionary Society stretching out baby hands while listening to mothers' lullabies for the aid of Christ's ambassadors in the land that is alien or in the destitute field within our own fair borders.

And in the Churches on Foreign or Domestic Missionary offering day we find willing hands dropping consecrated earnings into the alms-basin in the name of Jesus. For all this, I, your Bishop, often have thanked God, and taken courage.

But may I earnestly plead with you—and through you, with those not here; of whom you are the representatives—the Church people everywhere throughout the length of the Diocese—for considerably augmented contributions in this direction? I know the difficulty in “making both ends meet”—to use the word of the world—within the borders of some of our Parishes and Missions; I know what a hard problem is in some cases presented to Vestries as they strive to keep income and outlay abreast—not from lack of devotion on the part of the people, nor from lack of any sort in the rector—but solely because of insufficient means within the people's purses,—because of narrowness in their finances. These conditions, of course, sometimes dampen the earnestness for Mission work in many. "Charity," they say, "begins at home." I say, in reply, that is true: but should it abide there. I trow not.

Now, we as a Diocese, have not gathered the amount due on our apportionment for General Missions in any year since the system was adopted by the General Convention. I feel indeed that too much is asked of us in proportion to our real ability. I would that the authorities in New York had made the burden proposed to us to bear much lighter. But my duty is—and I esteem it a privilege also—to urge each and every Mission and Parish to make extraordinary effort to raise the sums asked of them. I know some simply have not the ability to do so. The people have not the money. They absolutely cannot do what is asked of them. But are there not many Parishes failing to raise the needed amount, year after year, who can by a little effort achieve the desired end? May I not appeal to all such to realize their responsibility for the extension of Christ's Kingdom on earth. And, too, may I not solemnly urge upon every Communicant of the 24,500 resident in this Diocese the high duty and privilege which is theirs to be co-workers with Jesus Christ their Lord in the winning to Him of those who are out of the way. Conscientious giving, liberal self-sacrifice, generous devotion to the cause of Missions in your Mother, the Church, is my earnest desire of you and all my people, brethren, in the Lord. And now let me just touch, in closing on a matter that is authoratively and energetically before the Church to-day. At the last General Convention it was solemnly, nay! enthusiastically resolved that the men of this Church should be asked to make a great Thank-Offering for the help of its Mission work at the gathering to be held in Jamestown, Va., next year, when at the General Convention to assemble in Richmond on the first Wednesday in October, there will be a commemoration of the Three Hundreth Anniversary of the founding of the Church in this land. It is a royal purpose and should arouse our liveliest enthusiasm. When we consider the blessing that the Church has shed on our country, the beneficence it has wrought into the social structure, the unspeakable joy and comfort it has fed day by day to our personal lives, should we not be willing to show our thankfulness for it all by generous gifts of the means which a good Father has bestowed? Our numberless privileges as a people as members of this Church justify a liberal demand upon us to give to Him from whom has come the power to get this wealth. And so I ask of you grave consideration of the matter. I trust our Churchmen everywhere in Western New York will view it as a privilege to fall into line with the men of the other Dioceses throughout the country and on the giving-day at Richmond do generous part in the glorious work.

Thus I close this address and give place to the business of the Council. We are brethren. We have work for God to do. It is glorious privilege to be joined with the Most High,—reverently I speak it,—as His fellow-laborers. We will do it all in a spirit of love and forbearance. The Apostle's injunction will come home to our hearts: "Be pitiful, be courteous—not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing—but contrariwise blessing." And so the Spirit of God shall rule in our hearts.

Rankine, in "The Churchman"	5.25

The following resolutions on the death of the Hon. William B. Rankine, Chancellor of the Diocese, and a member of this Committee, were read, and the same were approved and ordered to be printed.

"The Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western New York, hereby places upon record the expression of its great loss, in the death of one of its members, Mr. William Birch Rankine.

No Layman in the Diocese stood higher in the estimation of his brethren, both of the Clergy and Laity. His judgments were clear and calm, his character singularly honest and sincere, his devotion to the persons and causes he loved was untiring.

The Church in this Diocese will miss his wisdom and generosity, and the members of this Committee are deprived of the presence and friendship of a faithful and discriminating co-worker. Unswerving in purpose and unremitting in toil, in the midst of his days and in the joy of life, with the crown of success in his hand, and the love of God and man in his heart, he passed from the shadows of time to the Light that does not vanish.

To his wife and mother and all who mourn his absence, we extend the sympathy born of true love."

January 23, 1906.

Consent was given to the Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of St. John's Church, Honeoye Falls, to deed to the authorities of the town, certain lands owned by them, on certain defined conditions.

March 8, 1906.

The Committee met in Trinity Church, Buffalo, to attend the funeral of Mr. Nathaniel Rochester, when the following minute, was read, adopted, and directed to be printed in the Church papers, as well as sent to the family of the deceased.

"The Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western New York, duly assembled at Trinity Church, Buffalo, March 8th, 1906, to pay its last respects to the memory of its late member and co-worker, Nathaniel Rochester, hereby records its appreciation of the loss to the Diocese as well as to itself.

Mr. Rochester, inherited from his grandfather, the late Right Reverend William Heathcote De Lancey, D. D., LL. D., D. C. L., former Bishop of Western New York, and his father, the honored Thomas Rochester, M. D., a sense of responsibility, as a son of the Church, and as a Communicant, Vestryman, Warden, in his Parish, as member of the Diocesan Council, of the Missionary Board of the Standing Committee, he was always faithful to his duties.

His rare business knowledge, his familiarity with all matters of finance, his discriminating judgment of men, made his advice of singular help in our counsels and actions; while his genial character, his generous hospitality, his unhesitating though modest expression of opinion showed him as a cordial and appreciative friend.

Though a busy man in the world, he always found time for Church work, and no matter how troublesome or disagreeable the duty, that which he undertook was always well done. In this respect, he is an example to the men of this remarkable and hopeful age. Would that there were more such men!

In the prime of life, a devoted husband and loving father, a useful citizen, his passing seems rude and calamitous, a parting to be questioned and mourned; but in the serene rays of the higher Light, we see through our tears and recognize our brother as one to whom the loving Lord has said:—

"Well done, good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things, enter thou into the joy of Thy Lord."

Supplementary resolutions were passed as to the transfer of the property of the Church of the Greater, Rochester.

Mr. Elbert B. Mann was elected a member of the Standing Committee, in place of Mr. Nathaniel Rochester, deceased, subject to the approval of the Bishop of the Diocese.

April 5, 1905.

The Bishop's approval of the election of Mr. Elbert B. Mann was announced.

The Secretary read a report of the Trustees of De Veaux College, relative to the adverse decision of the Court of Appeals as to the legality of the term pupil department of the College.

De Veaux College,
Station A, Niagara Falls, N. Y.
March 15, 1906.

The Rev. Walter North, D. D.,

Secretary of the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western
New York.

My dear Doctor:—

By a resolution of the Trustees of De Veaux College, passed at a meeting held this day, in the City of Buffalo, I am ordered to report to the Standing Committee and to the Secretary of the Diocesan Council, as follows:

A resolution of the Council directing the Trustees to open the College to certain pay-pupils, was acted upon by the Board of Trustees of De Veaux College, by the passage of a resolution authorizing the establishment of a pay-pupil department. Afterward the Trustees were enjoined by an order of the Supreme Court of the State from carrying into effect that resolution, the order having been made on the ground that under the will of Judge De Veaux, we were not authorized to receive pay-pupils into the Institution. The Board of Trustees of the School retained Mr. John G. Milburn, one of the leading lawyers in the State, to present the argument in favor of receiving pay-pupils, and the case was contested through the various Courts of the State to the Court of last resort.

This Court, within a few days last past, decided that under the will of Judge De Veaux, the Institution could not receive pay-pupils.

We, therefore, make this report to the Standing Committee and to the Diocesan Council.

Most respectfully yours,

PHILIP W. MOSHER,
Secretary.

The Committee received the challenge from the counsel of Dr.

Crapsey, of the Rev. C. W. Hayes, D. D., and the Rev. C. Morton Sills, D. D., members of the Ecclesiastical Court.

On the nomination of the Bishop, the Rev. G. Sherman Burrows was elected a member of the Court for the trial of the Rev. Dr. Crapsey.

April 6, 1906.

The Rev. Nathan W. Stanton was elected a member of the Ecclesiastical Court for the trial of the Rev. Dr. Crapsey.

April 16, 1906.

The Bishop was requested to convey to the Governor of the State, the disapproval of the Diocese of Western New York, of certain proposed changes in the Laws of the State, as to the election of Wardens and Vestrymen.

Action was taken concerning the removal of the remains of the Rt. Rev. William Heathcote De Lancey, D. D., LL. D., D. C. L., to the city of Geneva

April 17, 1906.

DE LANCEY DIVINITY SCHOOL.

Report of the Warden for the Year Ending May 1st, 1906.

To the Board of Education of the Diocese of Western New York:

The Warden of the De Lancey Divinity School respectfully reports that there have been during the last year on the register and pursuing the course of studies, seven students from Western New York, and eight from Central New York, in all fifteen, of whom twelve have been in attendance on the lectures part or all of the year. Three of the Central New York students are now in Priest's Orders, and will not attend the lectures for the next year. All are using the text-books and books of reference supplied by the school. One other has applied for admission recently. The increased number of students has of course added greatly to the interest of the lectures and of all the work of the school.

The library of St. Andrew's Divinity School, formerly at Syracuse, will during the summer be placed with ours in the Library Building of Hobart College, by direction of the Bishop of Central New York.

There have been added to library during the year, by gift or purchase, 389 volumes, and it now contains 2,010, besides 759 duplicates (the latter mostly text-books and books of reference), in all 2,769, to which the books of St. Andrew's School will add about 1,000. Among the gifts of the year are a complete set of the Biblical World for twenty-five years, from the University of Chicago Press. The Warden repeats his regret that so few of the Clergy of the Diocese avail themselves of the privilege of using freely this large and exceedingly valuable collection of books.

The expenses of the school for the year reported by the Warden have been:

For lectures and examinations.....	$413.68
For the library, text-books and binding....	375.69
For miscellaneous expenses.....	64.44

Of which $25.00 has been paid from the Swift Book Fund, and $232.56 by the Bishop of Central New York for the expenses of his students, and $22.50 from books bought by students, leaving a total of $573.75 from the income of the School.

The Warden has from time to time visited the students in both Dioceses, and has officiated without compensation almost every Sunday, and frequently on week-days in various Parishes of the Diocese, and in some in Central New York.

CHARLES WELLS HAYES,

Warden.

The total number of boys received on the foundation during the year 1905, was 30; the greatest number in attendance at any one time was 23; the average number maintained for the year was 23; the average age of the boys in attendance during the year was 15, the youngest being 12 years old, and the oldest 19 years old.

The course of study remains practically the same as heretofore published in the Register and is the same as that followed in the Public High Schools and the two upper grades of the Grammar Schools in New York State.

SPECIAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF DEVEAUX COLLEGE.

The Trustees of De Veaux College, respectfully report to the Diocesan Council, that on May 20th, 1902, the Council, by resolution, instructed this Board to establish a pay-pupil department and to test its validity by an appeal to the Courts.

At a meeting of the Board held June 26th, 1902, it was resolved that a pay-pupil department be established. Immediately upon the passage of this resolution, Mr. W. B. Rankine gave notice that he would by injunction restrain the Board from establishing such a department.

That injunction was served upon the Trustees, and the case has been tried in the Supreme Court, and argued in the Appellate Division, and in the Court of Appeals. All the Courts sustained the injunction. Therefore, it is unlawful for this Board to establish a pay-pupil department, as ordered by your resolution of May 20th, 1902.

The act of Legislature brought to the attention of the Board, under which it was thought that the Supreme Court might issue an order permitting us to take pay-pupils, has been found, after consultation with competent legal authority, not to apply to our case.

This Board is unanimous in the opinion that the Church should make better use of the present equipment of De Veaux College. This may be done by increasing the Endowment to such an extent that the School can be filled to its full capacity.

This Board respectfully suggests that the Council authorize the enlargement of the Endowment of De Veaux College, and appoint a Committee to act with the Trustees in this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

TRUSTEES OF DE VEAUX COLLEGE.

By PHILIP WHEELER MOSHER,
Secretary.

(D) DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

REPORT OF THE ARCHDEACON OF BUFFALO.

Rev. Father in God:—

I would respectfully report, that under your direction I have performed the duties of Archdeacon during the past year. A detailed account was read at the Annual Meeting of the Archdeaconry, showing that some aggressive work had been done; Missions strengthened and built up, some seeming to hold their own, others at a standstill, yet progress is evident all along the line.

The following places have received regular monthly services with a celebration of the Holy Communion:

Attica, Alden, Angola, Brocton, Corfu, Darien Center, East Randolph, Forestville, Franklinville, Gowanda, Hinsdale, Irving, Little Valley, Perry, Randolph, Ripley, Sinclairville, Township of Brant, Indian Reservation.

The following places have had occasional services with a celebration of the Holy Communion:

Angelica, Belfast, (Buffalo, St. Philips), Hamburg, Silver Creek, Salamanca.

There are other Missions within the Archdeaconry which are under the spiritual care of Rectors, who receive stipends from the Board of Missions, for which the Archdeacon is not responsible.

Chautauqua and Hartfield under the Rector of Mayville.

Springville under the Rector of Ellicottville.

Tonawanda under the Rector of North Tonawanda.

Belvedere and Friendship under the Rector of Belmont.

Belfast under the Rector of Angelica.

GEORGE W. S. AYERS,

Archdeacon of Buffalo.

REPORT OF THE ARCHDEACON OF ROCHESTER.

Since our last Annual Council, your Archdeacon has performed the following offices in the interests of the Church:

Morning and Evening Prayer	121
Holy Communion, public and private	54
Sermons and Addresses	135
Baptisms	9
Presented for Confirmation	7
Marriages	3
Funerals	4

Aside from the above, there have been many meetings, and a ceaseless flow of correspondence to claim my attention. Much time has been given to the material as well as the spiritual interests of the field. Your Archdeacon is both architect and builder as well as preacher.

Of the twenty-eight Missions in the Archdeaconry, all except six, i. e., Allen's Hill, Victor, Bergen, Bradford, Wayne and Fairport, are receiving regular Sunday services, two of these are about to be filled). To the six unprovided for, your Archdeacon has given as much of his time during the year, as circumstances would permit.

Last summer the Church building at Bergen was renovated and put into first-class order. The chimneys which had fallen down were rebuilt, broken windows repaired, the interior thoroughly cleaned and walls tinted. Services were maintained during the summer and fall with good attendance and interest. With the approach of cold weather we were obliged, however, to suspend operations, owing to a lack of proper means to heat the building. Services have now been resumed and a good second-hand furnace has been presented to the Mission by the Church in Brockport.

At Himrod a Church building was erected during the summer at an expenditure of some $1,500.00. Towards the building of this Chapel, the Missionary Board made a grant of $300.00, from the Advent offering of the Sunday Schools for 1904. The building is all paid for, and the Mission is in a flourishing condition, under the Rev. Wm. S. McCoy.

From the Advent offering of our Sunday Schools for 1905, which, by the way, is the largest offering ever received from them, amounting to $613.47, the Missionary Board has made a grant of $500.00 towards the erection of a Church building in the Town of Despatch, and we hope to begin operations there before many weeks. The prospects for growth in Despatch are most encouraging. It is our intention to work the Despatch Mission in connection with the one at Fairport three miles further east.

It is also our purpose to renovate and remodel the Church building at Victor, if sufficient funds for the purpose can be secured. This town is growing and the prospects for the Church are by no means discouraging. We shall need about four hundred dollars for the work.

The resignation of Mr. Stoddard from the rectorship of the Churches at Bradford and Wayne, left these places unprovided for. Situated as they are, far from a railroad, it has been hard to find any one willing to take up the work, and it has fallen upon me to minister to them as best I could.

Wolcott and East Bloomfield are most acceptably served every Sunday, either by Lay readers or myself, and these places have enjoyed another year of harmony and prosperity. The Church building at East Bloomfield was renovated and remodeled during the year.

The Mission at Corfu has been transferred to the Archdeaconry of Buffalo, as it can be more easily served from that end of the Diocese.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis continues his efficient and faithful work at Holley.

The vacancies at Sodus, Sodus Centre, and Sodus Point, caused by the death of the Rev. Mr. Miller, and the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Allison, have been happily filled by the appointment of the recently ordained Deacon, Rev. J. V. Cooper, to the field.

The Mission at Shortsville is blessed with the services of the Rev. Mr. Gilbert of Phelps, and improvements to the property has been made. The Rev. L. B. Johnston, recently called to the Church at Clifton Springs, has taken charge of the work at Manchester.

Dr. Hubbs has the work at South Phelps, the Rev. M. Searing at Caledonia, Knollmeyer at Livonia, Lippett at St. George's, Charlott and Ascension, Rochester, McCoy at Dundee, Dresden and Himrod, Dennis at Nunda and Hunts, Stevenson at Montour Falls, Martin at Union Hill and St. Thomas', Rochester, Taylor at St. Stephen's, Rochester, and Simelau of the work among the deaf mutes.

While the Missionary work of the Archdeaconry is perhaps, on the whole, in a comparatively satisfactory condition, your Archdeacon feels nevertheless that the financial support given to it is far from what it ought to be.

It is not enough that we simply maintain in a niggardly way the work that we already have in hand, nor is it right that we should content ourselves with building one or two new Chapels each year. We ought to be doing greater things than these. This is a day of great things, and in this respect the spirit of the age should permeate our work for the extension of our Lord's Kingdom. We ought to be doing great things and I believe that our people will do great things, if the work of the Church is set before them in a definite and businesslike way.

The people of this country, and especially those of our own communion, are the most liberal and lavish in their giving, of any people on the face of the globe, and all that is needed to turn their treasures into the lap of the Church is leadership on the part of the ministers of our various congregations.

We need one more organization in our Church. We have the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions. We have our King's Daughters and our Girl's Friendly Societies. We have Chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, and our Church Clubs. Our Sunday Schools have been organized into Missionary Societies, and we have even gone so far as to enlist the babies in the great cause of Missions. The purpose of these societies is to arouse and maintain in the breasts of the Laity an enthusiasm for Missions.

One thing we lack, i. e., a society to arouse in the hearts of the Clergy an enthusiasm for the extension of Christ's Kingdom.

We are weakest right at the point where we should be the strongest. The work of extending Christ's Kingdom is being held back, because at the present time we have too many rectors of parishes, and too few ministers of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Instead of going into all the world to preach the Gospel, as our Leader has commanded us to do, many of us are staying at home and preaching parochialism. No man has any right to call himself a Christian minister if he is simply running a parish.

I interpolate these remarks here, only after a deep and searching analysis of my own character, and because after two years of effort to raise money for the support of Missions in this Archdeaconry, I am forced to believe that the Laity are willing and that the Clergy are weak.

I trust that the last year of my term of office as your general Missionary, may be one of greater devotion on my part, as well as on the part of others, to the great work of the Church.

With this end in view, I ask the prayers and hearty co-operation of the Clergy and Laity of the Archdeaconry of Rochester.

Faithfully yours,

W. L. DAVIS.

Rt. Rev. and Dear Sir:—

As Secretary of the Trustees of the Parochial Fund, I respectfully report:

That the term of office of Augustus D. McLeod and Alexander L. Chew, Trustees, will expire Sept. 1, 1906.

On the 13th of January, 1906, James P. Mellen, Trustee and Treasurer of the Fund, died, a great loss to this corporation and to the Diocese. A trustee should be elected to fill his unexpired term, which would end September 1, 1907.

We have chosen Mr. John W. Mellen Treasurer of the Fund, in place of Mr. James P. Mellen.

Since our last report, we have sold and conveyed the property held by us for the benefit of St. Andrews Church, Rochester, situate on the corner of Hickory and Ashland Streets, and have received therefor $5,000. (less exchange) which we hold, under the terms of the trust, to be invested in similar property for the benefit of St. Andrews Church.

We have also sold a lot belonging to St. Mark's church, Newark. The deed is in the hands of the Vestry of that church, and the consideration, $700, when received, is to be applied upon the mortgage on the church property.

We have also received a conveyance of a church lot in Savona.

Respectfully submitted,

A. P. ROSE,

Secretary.

There needs to be elected one trustee for three years, in place of Charles McLouth, and one for two years in place of Wm. H. Farnham, deceased.

VI. Motions, Notices and Resolutions to be considered by the Council may be presented after the President has appointed the Standing Committees, and called for the matters to be respectively referred to them. But the Bishop's Address shall take precedence of all other business at any time.

REPORT.

The Special Committee on the Revision of the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese, appointed at the Annual Council of 1905, respectfully report:

They have given careful attention during the past year to the matters referred to them.

II. CONSTITUTION. Title III., Sections 2 and 3. (Page 146 as printed in the Journal of 1905.) Excludes from membership in the Council, except "by the concurring vote of two-thirds of the respective orders present," two classes of clergymen: "Presbyters in regular standing * * * who are acting as presidents, rectors or instructors in * * * institutions of learning within the Diocese * * * not incorporated," and "Canonically resident Clergymen who have been engaged in the active work of their office until disabled by age or infirmity." It seems clear that there should be substantial reasons for denying the right to seats to any presbyter canonically resident. In Dioceses centering in large cities, such reason is found in the considerable number of clergymen having merely a residence and either idle or engaged in secular occupations. In this Diocese no such condition of things exists, and the exclusion of the classes of clergymen specified seems unnecessary and invidious. We recommend that in Section 2, the words "duly incorporated" be stricken out; that at the end of the section be added "or who have been engaged in the active work of their office until disabled by age or infirmity," and that Section 3 be repealed. It will be noted that the proposed amendment does not admit to a seat and vote in the Council Clergymen not disabled and not engaged in educational work in recognized institutions of learning.

II. THE CONSTITUTION. Title VII., Section 2, (page 149), provides that the Standing Committee "shall be a Council of Advice for the Bishop of the Diocese in all matters by him referred to them." The limitation in the last clause is in apparent conflict with Canon 48, Section 2 of the General Convention, which provides that the Standing Committee shall not only "be summoned on the requisition of the Bishop, whenever he shall desire their advice," but also that "they may meet of their own accord and agreeably to their own rules when they may be disposed to advise the Bishop." We recommend that either (a) the words "in all matters by him referred to them" be stricken out, or (b) the provision of Canon 48, Section 2 of the General Convention, be added at the end of Section 2, paragraph 1.

III. A resolution offered at the Council of 1906 to amend Title I., Canon 9, so as to transfer the annual offering required for the Christmas Fund to the General Clergy Relief Fund (see Journal of 1906, page 36) was based, as your Committee understand, on the supposition that the increase of the Christmas Fund from capital was now sufficient, or nearly so, for its beneficiaries, and that the appropriation of the annual collection to the General Clergy Relief Fund would give the Diocese an equitable claim upon the income of that fund. On the first point we note that the last report of the Trustees of the Christmas Fund shows an income from interest of $1,165.00, and from offerings for the year of $1,158.55, with disbursements to three clergymen and sixteen widows of clergymen exceeding the total income by $382.50. The Trustees do not report, and are not required to, the income and disbursements from a bequest of about $15,000 received by the Diocese in 1903, and administered by a Special Board of Trustees consisting of the Bishop of the Diocese and the Trustees of the Christmas Fund, for the benefit of clergymen only. (See Journal of 1903, page 50.)

Your Committee are, therefore, unable to determine how far the additional income from this fund would warrant the Council in transferring all or part of the offerings to the General Clergy Relief Fund. We are informed by the Treasurer of this fund that nineteen parishes of this Diocese have contributed during the past year $575.58 to it, while the Diocese has received from it benefits amounting to $1,450.00, two and a half times as much as it has given. In view of these facts it seems to us that the Christmas offering might fairly be divided between the two funds.

They strongly commend to the earnest consideration and effective action of the Council, first, that the offerings for the Christmas fund have been for many years past shamefully inadequate to the number and wealth of the Diocese and the aid justly due to its beneficiaries. It will be remembered that the fund as founded by Bishop De Lancey in 1840 was for disabled clergy only, and it was not until 1865 that there was added the provision for widows, which now, by report of the Trustees, requires four-fifths of its whole income. Yet the early Journals show that for the first ten years, the Diocese, with less than one-fourth of its present numbers, and the merest fraction of its present wealth, contributed nearly the same aggregate as now, and an average per communicant of twenty cents, instead of four and a half cents, as last year. Secondly, it goes without saying that such a Diocese as Western New York ought to be ashamed to receive from the General Clergy Relief fund two and a half times as much as it contributes to that fund; that the very least we can do in decency is to divide our gifts with that fund, and to double and treble and quadruple them in the years to come. The Trustees of the General Fund state in their latest circular that sixty out of eighty dioceses and missionary jurisdictions are now, by merger of their own funds, or otherwise, depending entirely upon that fund for pension and relief.

We recommend that the Canon on the Christmas fund be so altered as to divide the Christmas collection equally between the Diocesan and General funds, and that the Bishop be requested to call the special attention of the clergy and laity of the Diocese to the importance of this offering.

IV. Title I., Canon 11, Section 4 (page 169), requires a notice of seven to fourteen days to be given to the Bishop before the calling of a rector to any vacant parish, "to the end that he may give to the vestry such counsel and advice as he may think² proper." Canon 14 of the General Convention, Section 2 (Journal of 1904, page 54), provides for notice of "sufficient time not exceeding thirty days," a period which seems none too long in any case. But we are advised by sundry members of the Council, clerical and lay, that as a matter of principle, the Bishop of the Diocese ought to have in some cases more than a mere advisory power, not only in consideration of the essential character of his office as Pastor Pastorum (which there is no danger of unduly exalting at this day), but because he is often in a position to know better than anyone else the wisdom or unwisdom of any proposed action in such case. We recommend that for Section 4 of Title I., Canon 11, be substituted Section 2, of Canon 14 of the General Convention (providing for thirty days' notice), adding, "nor if the Bishop, with the advice of the Standing Committee, shall refuse his consent to such election."

V. Title III., Canon 1. "Of the Ecclesiastical Court."

There has been referred to the Committee by a member of the Council, and, as we are informed, after consultation with others, an amendment of the above Canon providing a method of constituting the Ecclesiastical Court apart from any nomination by the Bishop or Standing Committee. We are unanimously of opinion that no change in the present Canon is necessary or expedient, because it was tested last year as severely as it is ever likely to be, with the result, as is generally admitted, of a perfectly fair and satisfactory procedure, sustained in all points by the Court of Review of the General Convention. But inasmuch as it is felt by some that the Constitution of the Court under our present Canon is objectionable in giving to the Standing Committee as a possible presenting body, the power of nominating (not appointing) members of the Court, we present for consideration if desired by the Council, but without recommendation, the amendment referred to us with some material modifications. This amendment provides for the election by the Council of a "panel" of twenty presbyters, to be divided into four classes each serving four years. In case of a presentment, this panel is to be reduced to an "eligible list" of ten, by challenge of five members each by the presenters and the accused; and of this eligible list of ten, five are to be chosen by lot as a Trial Court. While the general principle of this amendment seems to us unobjectionable, we think that the somewhat complicated process of election may be simplified to advantage, and therefore report the following modification of it for the consideration of the Council.

Substitute for Title III., Canon 1, Section 2, 3 and 4, as follows:

“Section 2. The Court shall be composed of twelve presbyters of not less than five years’ standing in the priesthood, and three years of canonical residence in the Diocese, immediately preceding, to be elected by ballot by the Diocesan Council. On the first election they shall be divided by lot into four classes of three each, to serve one, two, three and four years respectively; and at each subsequent election three qualified as above shall be chosen to fill vacancies occurring by expiration of term or any other cause. But vacancies occurring between successive annual Councils may be filled by the Bishop until the next Annual Council. The term of office of members of the Court after the first election shall be four years, and until others are chosen in their place, except in filling vacancies occurring otherwise than by expiration of term.

“Section 3. Whenever a presentment shall have been made as provided in Title III., Canon 2, and not less than twenty days before the time appointed for the trial, the Court shall meet at a time and place appointed by the Bishop, and shall elect five of their number to serve as a Trial Court. The accused shall have a right to be present at such meeting, and to challenge peremptorily two of the five members chosen for the Trial Court; and the place of those thus challenged shall be filled by the Court from the remaining members. It shall be the duty of the Bishop to notify the persons thus finally chosen, and their duty to serve on the trial.”

Title III., Canon 2 (Ordinances for the Ecclesiastical Court, page 180), Section 3. Add at the end, “Such Certificate” (of Committee of Investigation that there is no cause for presentment) “shall not be a bar to presentment by others as specified in Section 2 above.”

Section 6 (page 181).. For “thirty-five” and “ninety” (days for the time to appear to answer citation on presentment) substitute “thirty” and “sixty.”

Your Committee trust that the above modifications in Canon referred to them may meet with the approval of the Council. But in this connection they desire to call your attention to the principle on which our Diocesan Court was constituted twenty-four years ago by two of the ablest Canonists, now deceased, which this or any Diocese has ever had—the late Judge James Murdock Smith, so many years its Chancellor, and the late Rev. Lloyd Windsor, D. D., and on which every such Court should be constituted, having regard to the double character necessarily held by such a body, serving practically both as a Court to decide questions of law, and a Jury to determine questions of fact. In this respect it differs from Civil Courts in general, and for this reason should have every possible safeguard of permanency, character, experience, and at least some knowledge of civic and ecclesiastical law. In consulting, as we have, the Canons of all the dioceses as far as they were accessible, we have found in many, an apparent ignoring of this consideration, with the result that the Jury character of the tribunal at least greatly overshadows that of the Court.

VI. Title IV. of Parochial Work. Canon 1, of Deaconesses, and Canon 4, of Lay Readers (pages 187, 90). Both these Canons differ in certain respects, generally unimportant, from Canons 20 and 21 of the General Convention on the same subject. We have compared these Canons carefully, but as the detail of such comparison would add considerably to the length of this report, we simply recommend here that the Diocesan Canons be repealed, seeing that those of the General Convention overruling them are sufficient in all respects; or that they be referred to this Committee, or to the Standing Committee on the Constitution and Canons, to be reported at the next Council with such modifications as will make them harmonize with the Canons of the General Convention.

VII. There has been referred to your Committee a Canon given on page 28 of the Journal of 1906, providing for the appointment of a Sunday School Commission. After such consideration as we have been able to give to this Canon, we refer it to the Council without recommendation.

At the Council of 1906 your Committee were authorized by a resolution which does not appear in the Journal, to print the revision of the Constitution and Canons as now proposed, for the use of the Council. As there is great need of a correct and authoritative publication of the Canon as finally revised, we have not thought it best to incur this additional expense; but we recommend that the Constitution and Canons as revised by this Council be printed as soon as practicable under the care of this or a similar Committee.

Committee.

On motion, the report was received, and its consideration made the order of the day for 3 o'clock.

The Council then adjourned until 2:30 P. M.

2:30 P. M.

The Council met.

The Standing Committee on Constitution and Canons made the following report:

REPORT.

The Standing Committee on Constitution and Canons respectfully report:

That they have considered the matter of an authorized offering for the General Clergy Relief Fund, and are of the opinion that while it may be well for individuals as they may choose, or parishes, in their discretion to aid by contributions or offerings the said fund, the same, if done, should be so done, and at such time of the year, as will not in any way interfere with the support of or the Christmas offering to and for the Christmas fund of the Diocese as it has heretofore been aided and as the Canons and law require; and that the said Christmas fund should be at all times maintained and carefully supported for the exclusive use of this Diocese in aid of its infirm clergymen and the widows and orphans of clergymen.

On motion, the report was laid upon the table until the report of the Special Committee on Constitution and Canons be taken up.

The Standing Committee on the report of the Trustees of the Episcopate Fund made the following report:

REPORT.

The Standing Committee on the Report of the Trustees for the management and care of the fund for the support of the Episcopate of the Diocese of Western New York respectfully report as follows:

The report contains complete and easily followed statements in detail of the present condition of the fund, all of the investments and real estate held by the Trustees, and the income and expenditures during the year last past.

The total amount of the fund is.....	$42,286.72
The De Lancey fund.....	2,200.00
Combined funds	$44,486.72

The total receipts for the year were $7,197.19 and the expenditures $5,910.93; leaving a balance of $1,286.26.

For the past two years the Trustees of this fund, under an agreement with the Standing Committee of the Diocese, have expended, over and above receipts, a balance of $1,469.03 in managing the old See House on Delaware Avenue and payment of rent upon the present See House on Elmwood Avenue in the City of Buffalo. The Trustees feel, and your Committee agrees with them, that the management of the old property and payment of rent upon the new See House is not properly their duty and should not be a charge upon this fund.

We therefore recommend the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The Trustees of the Episcopate Fund, on request of the Standing Committee, have advanced certain sums, covering the differences between the net receipts from the Delaware Avenue house and the payments of rent for the Elmwood Avenue house, now occupied by the Bishop, as reported to this Council; and

WHEREAS, The Trustees of the Episcopate Fund report that the income of such Fund can be charged with such sums without making a deficit.

RESOLVED, That the action of the Trustees in advancing such sums be approved and that they be directed to charge such amounts against the income of said Fund, but that they be relieved from further care of this Buffalo property, which is not properly under their control.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE B. RICHARDS,

T. G. MOULSON.

On motion, the report was received and the recommendation adopted.

On motion, the following recommendation was adopted:

RESOLVED, That until further order be taken, the Cathedral Chapter of this diocese be empowered and directed by the Council to pay the taxes and repairs upon the old See House, to receive the rentals therefrom, and to pay the net balance remaining from said rentals after caring for said taxes and repairs, toward the rent of the present Episcopal residence, No. 367 Elmwood Avenue, Buffalo; and to draw on the Standing Committee for the balance that may then be required to pay the rental of said present Episcopal residence.

On motion, the following resolution was adopted:

RESOLVED, That this Council respectfully make request of the Bishop that the form of Parochial Report may be recast and simplified.

The reports of the Standing Committee, the Financial Board, the Board of Education, the Trustees of the De Lancey Divinity School, the Warden of the De Lancey Divinity School and a letter from the Trustees of De Veaux College were read and, on motion, received.

Section III. Repealed.

CONSTITUTION, Title Seventh, Section II. Add at end of first paragraph, after the words "by him referred to them," the words "and they may meet of their own accord, and agreeably to their own rules, when they may be disposed to advise the Bishop."

But any clergyman thus inhibited may at any time claim the right of presentment and trial, or of a hearing as above under Section 7, for his vindication; and in such case the inhibition shall continue until the conclusion of the procedure, unless the Bishop shall terminate it earlier.”

(Printed and postponed to the next Annual Council.)

The Special Committee appointed to nominate Provisional Deputies to the General Convention made a report nominating the Rev. J. W. Ashton, D. D., the Rev. E. P. Hart, the Rev. J. B. Hubbs, D. On motion, the Amended Canon on Discipline was ordered printed in the Journal to be acted upon at the next Diocesan Council.

The Canon with proposed amendment by the addition of Sections 9 and 10 will read as follows:

CANON ONE.

Of the Ecclesiastical Court.

Section 1. There shall be an Ecclesiastical Court for the Diocese, having jurisdiction to try a Priest or Deacon thereof for any offence for which a Canon of the General Convention provides that a minister of this Church (not being a Bishop) shall be liable to presentment and trial.

Section 2. The Court shall be composed of five Presbyters of the Diocese, to be elected by ballot by the Diocesan Council, from a list of ten such Presbyters chosen and nominated to the Council by the Standing Committee. They shall continue in office until others are elected in their places, but may at any time be removed by a vote of the Council.

Section 3. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in their number by death, resignation, removal from the Diocese, or otherwise, such vacancy may be filled temporarily, and until the next Council thereafter, by an appointment to be made by the Standing Committee upon the nomination of the Bishop. And whether such vacancy shall have been so filled or not, the Standing Committee shall nominate to the said Council three Presbyters, one of whom shall be elected by the Council to fill such vacancy.

Section 4. The accused who is to be put on his trial shall have the right to challenge peremptorily any two members of the said Court, by notice in writing to the Bishop of such challenge, eight days before the meeting of the Court. Such challenge shall create a vacancy in said Court, so far as relates to the trial of the accused party, to be filled by the nomination of the Bishop as above provided, with a further right of a challenge of one such substitute after like notice to the Bishop; and the vacancy thus made shall be filled in the manner above stated for other vacancies.

Section 5. A majority of said Court shall be a quorum for the transaction of all business therein; but no judgment or sentence thereof shall be valid, unless concurred in by at least three members of the Court who have been present during all the trial.

Section 6. No member of said Court shall sit or act in any case in which a Justice of the Supreme Court of this State would be precluded by law from sitting or acting as a Judge of that Court in a cause pending in such Court.

Section 7. A clergyman against whom proceedings for any crime or immorality shall have been instituted may, before his trial has commenced, and before he shall have challenged any member of said Court, present to the Bishop a request, in writing, signed by him, that the charges against him be referred to the Bishop of the Diocese for his godly judgment. Thereupon the proceedings against him in said Court shall be discontinued, and the Bishop, with three Presbyters of the Diocese, to be appointed by the Standing Committee, and who shall not be members of said Court, shall proceed to privately hear and examine such charges, and shall give full opportunity to all persons to appear and give evidence before the three Presbyters both for and against the accused. The hearing, examination and testimony being concluded, the Presbyters shall make and present to the Bishop their opinion, in writing, signed by them, stating as to each charge against the accused whether he is guilty or not guilty, and if guilty, what sentence ought to be pronounced thereon; and the decision of a majority of the Presbyters, concurred in by the Bishop, shall be final and conclusive. The Bishop shall thereupon pronounce sentence upon the accused, which shall not be more severe than that found by the Presbyters, but may be mitigated so far as the Bishop shall think proper. Such decision and sentence shall be a final judgment upon the charges preferred against the accused, and shall have the same force and effect as the sentence and judgment of the Ecclesiastical Court mentioned in the first Section of this Title, in a case tried before that Court.

Section 8. The Chancellor of the Diocese, or in case of his inability or declining to act, some person learned in the law, to be appointed in his stead by the Bishop, shall attend the sessions of the Ecclesiastical Court, and act as its Assessor and legal adviser of the Bishop and Presbyters in every case heard under Section 7 of this Canon; but shall have no vote upon any question arising upon a trial or hearing, or in any proceedings in said Court.

“Section 9. Whenever the Standing Committee of the Diocese shall be satisfied from personal knowledge, or from evidence laid before them, that any priest or deacon of this Diocese against whom no presentment has been made, is living in violation of his ordination vows, or has repeatedly within one year past been guilty of conduct unbecoming a minister of Christ, and such as to subject him to discipline under Canon 23, Section 1, of the General Convention, it shall be their duty, at a meeting duly convened, and by the concurring vote of three-fourths of their whole number, to certify the same in writing to the Bishop of the Diocese.

“Section 10. If the Bishop, on receipt of such certificate, shall be of the opinion that it presents sufficient ground for his action, he shall give to the clergyman offending notice to show cause within thirty days why he should not be inhibited from officiating. And if within such time such cause shall not be shown to the satisfaction of the Bishop, he may proceed to inhibit the said clergyman from officiating in public as a minister of this Church, until he shall by presentment and trial, or by request for a hearing by the Bishop and three Presbyters of the Diocese as provided in Section 7, of this Canon, or by other procedure satisfactory to the Bishop, be cleared from such charge. But any clergyman thus inhibited may at any time claim the right of presentment and trial, or of a hearing as above under Section 7, for his vindication; and in such case the inhibition shall continue until the conclusion of the procedure, unless the Bishop shall terminate it earlier.”

The Special Committee on the application of the Rev. Henry S. Dennis, to be retired under the provisions of Title I, Canon 15, made the following report:

REPORT.

The Committee to which was referred the application of the Rev. H. S. Dennis for the Canonical allowance to those who desire to retire from the active duties of the ministry, would respectfully report:

That the Rev. Mr. Dennis has fulfilled all the conditions required for the reception of the allowance asked for, and his long and faithful unbroken service in the Church in this Diocese richly entitles him to receive this slight recognition of the value of his labors, and the Committee are sure that the Council and the Church in Western New York will take great satisfaction in making the grant for which he asks. The Committee recommend the amendment of Canon 15 by the substitution for the second and third sections the following.

Title I, Canon XV:

Section 2. Strike out the whole and insert the following: The amount needed for such Retiring Allowances and all arrears thereof shall be estimated annually by the Standing Committee and included in the annual assessment under Canon 6, Section 1.

Section 3. Strike out the whole and insert the following: In case the funds on hand at any time shall be insufficient to pay allowances to which clergymen shall have become entitled, the Standing Committee shall borrow or otherwise obtain the money necessary to pay such allowance promptly to every clergyman from the date on which he shall have become entitled to the same and shall pay the same promptly.

L. B. VAN DYCK,

W. L. DAVIS,

H. A. BULL.

On motion, the report was received.

On motion, according to the recommendation of the foregoing report, Title I, Canon 15, was amended as follows by a unanimous vote:

On motion, one thousand copies of the revised Constitution and Canons were ordered printed.

On motion, the following resolution offered by the Rev. Mr. Bartlett was adopted unanimously:

WHEREAS, The Rev. L. C. Washburn is about to leave us for work in another diocese, be it

RESOLVED, That we part with great regret from his fellowship, and shall remember with deep gratitude his great services for upholding the usefulness and concord of the Diocese as pastor, archdeacon and delegate to the General Convention. Wishing him an affectionate Godspeed.

The report of the Missionary of Deaf Mutes was read and received.

TO THE RIGHT REVEREND WILLIAM D. WALKER, BISHOP OF WESTERN NEW YORK:

Reverend Father in God: I herewith submit my report as missionary to the deaf mutes in the Diocese.

Services have been held and visits made in these places: Buffalo, Rochester, Geneva, Watkins, Lockport, Niagara Falls, Perry, Silver Springs, Olean, East Aurora and Castile.

Fifty-eight services were held. There were twelve celebrations of the Holy Communion.

The attendances at the services has been steady. At Buffalo there are a number of deaf mutes who are beginning to take an active interest in this missionary work. The large number of deaf mutes in Rochester and Buffalo has made it necessary for me to devote most of my time to these two places.

There are at least six hundred deaf mutes in this Diocese. Of this number ninety-five are communicant members of the Church.

The peculiar nature and the numerous difficulties and disadvantages of this work are not generally understood. The deaf mutes are scattered everywhere, even in the large cities and it takes more time to reach them than is generally supposed. . And as the majority are working during the day they can be reached only in the evening. The missionary also has to look after these silent people in two other Dioceses—Central Pennsylvania and Harrisburg. In these three dioceses there are a little over three thousand deaf mutes. At Buffalo, New York, and Scranton, Pennsylvania, the Roman Catholics have services for the deaf, but the denominational churches have no part in the work of religiously educating the deaf. (In the three dioceses, during the past year, there were fifteen baptisms, eleven confirmations, seven marriages and three burials.)

It is very difficult for one missionary to look after all these silent people in such a large field. Every diocese should have its own missionary for this special work, but there are not enough "laborers for the harvest."

The receipts during the year amounted to $160.11. Of this sum $151.25 was expended for traveling, leaving a balance of $8.86.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANKLIN C. SMIELAU,

Missionary.

Williamport, Pa., May 1, 1907.

On motion, the following resolution was adopted:

RESOLVED, That the Special Report of the Trustees of De Veaux College be laid on the table for consideration of the next annual Council.

The sum of fifty dollars was ordered paid each Clerical Deputy to the General Convention.

On motion, the Canon creating the Sunday School Commission was adopted.

The sum of ten dollars was ordered paid the Sexton of S. James' Church, Batavia, and a resolution of thanks for hospitality by the parish was unanimously adopted.

The report of the Standing Committee on the report of the Trustees of De Veaux College was received.

REPORT.

The Standing Committee to whom was submitted the report of the Trustees of De Veaux College, has carefully examined the report and finds it in admirable form and perfectly correct to the best of the Committee's knowledge and belief.

Respectfully,

G. SHERMAN BURROWS,
EUGENE C. DENTON,
JOHN M. PROPHET.

One thousand copies of the Journal were ordered printed.

The report of the Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary was read and received.

REPORT.

The Committee on the General Theological Seminary have been unable to obtain the report of the Trustees of the institution for the past year. They have therefore no data on which to base a report to this Council.

GEORGE M. IRISH,
WM. S. BARROWS.

The report of the Special Committee on the Increase of the Episcopate Fund was received.

REPORT.

TO THE RIGHT REVEREND THE BISHOP AND MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL:

Your Committee on the Increase of the Episcopate Fund beg leave to report that the "follow-up" system recommended in last year's report, for the more full and prompt collection of the apportionment, has not seemed necessary to be put into action, as the increase in contributions over last year is from 19 to 20 per cent. ($4,715.79, against $3,951.72), with about the same degree of promptness as heretofore.

It has not seemed feasible to strive for a greater measure of publicity than formerly, through printed leaflets or other methods, because of lack of funds; no appropriation having been made by the Standing Committee, and there being no other present source of revenue for that purpose. The sum of fifty or sixty dollars would probably cover all needful expense for one year, including proper distribution to members of the various parishes and missions. We invite some action by your body on this point.

We recommend for experimental purposes that the Standing Committee be instructed to ask, this coming year, a special increase in the contributions for the Episcopate Fund from the churches and missions, of one per cent., which would add some $1,800.00 to the principal. If the experiment is successful this year it may prove wise to continue the plan, and, with other gifts and possible legacies, attain eventually the maximum amount of principal which has been fixed at $75,000.00.

We do not approve of the resolution offered to your body last year and referred to this Committee, as set forth on page 38 of 1906 Journal, making offerings to this fund compulsory on penalty of deprivation of representation in Council, as we believe results may be obtained more satisfactorily by quiet and systematic persuasion.

Respectfully submitted,

H. C. SPENDELOW,
FRANK B. REDFIELD,
JOHN M. PROPHET,
JAMES SAVAGE.

- The report of the Standing Committee on Archives and Annals was received.

REPORT.

This Committee reports that a very desirable improvement has been made in the condition of the shelves for the documents in the possession of the Registrar. Solid backs have been added to the bookcases, so that, for the future, the books and documents will be preserved in a more cleanly condition than formerly.

The documents contain most valuable information for those who wish to become familiar with the history, not only of this Diocese, but of the Church as a whole; and the courteous Registrar is always ready to open up his treasures for those who need to examine them.

Signed in behalf of the Committee,

JAMES ROY.

The Standing Committee on Finance made the following report:

REPORT.

The Finance Committee begs leave to report that it has had presented to it the report of the Parochial Fund and the report of the Christmas Fund. The Committee finds that they are clearly drawn up as to all details, so that all the transactions of the past year can be readily understood. They are properly audited, and the Committee can only again, as was done last year, commend the fidelity and painstaking work with which the Secretaries and Treasurers have attended to the duties of their office and prepared their several reports.

A. SIDNEY DEALEY,
F. W. CRANDALL.

The report of the Standing Committee on Missionary Reports and Board of Education was received.

REPORT.

The Standing Committee on Missionary Reports and Boards of Education respectfully submit that there have been handed to them, and duly examined, the annual reports of the Archdeacons of Buffalo and Rochester, and the report of the De Lancey Divinity School and of the Board of Education, and the same are recommended to be printed in the Journal.

W. C. ROBERTS,
Chairman.

On motion, the reading of the minutes was dispensed with, and after suitable devotions the Council adjourned sine die.

Attest:

ADDISON M. SHERMAN,
Secretary.

G. SHERMAN BURROWS,
Assistant Secretary.

APPENDIX I.

(A.)

Bishop's Annual Address.

Reverend Brethren and Brethren of the Laity:

Welcome to your places and work in this Council.

May all your labors be crowned with blessing and may brotherly kindness, peace and love prevail.

We are privileged members of the Church of Jesus Christ. Our spirit and labor here may help to the glory of God and to the advancement of true religion. We may, if we realize our grave responsibility, our rich duty, our high privilege, be found true co-workers with Christ. Oh! the awful accountability of such a co-partnership and the mighty possibilities of such a Divine work. Let us pray for grace to please God as we labor and counsel together in His Name. So shall we be a true Council of Christ's holy Church.

When the first Oecumenical Council met at Nicaea nearly 1,600 years ago, and 318 Bishops gave their testimony as to the doctrine held in the Diocese or Branch of the Church which they severally represented, it was not a Patriarch of Jerusalem or of Alexandria, nor a Bishop of Rome that sat on the throne of judgment or of presidency. It was no human being to which appeal was made for decisions of faith or morals. No! but on a great chair in the center of the upper dais of that vast hall, confronting the eyes of all that gathered Episcopate, was a copy of the Holy Scriptures. There it reposed in crowned majesty—the standard of appeal, the supreme judge, the last authority.

In the House of Bishops of this American Church today, whenever it is assembled—if even for a few hours only—for the performance of any of its corporate duties, there, on a lectern before the view of all, rests an open Bible. And so the Church of the primitive day and of this modern time, the Church of Nice and of America join hands across the centuries, are one in their reverence for God's Holy Word. Would it not then be fitting, Brethren, that this Council of the Diocese of Western New York should enthrone the Divine Word with open page and in open view ever as we sit in regular session, that to it we may turn and learn from its sacred words the law to govern our life and the inspired utterances that tell God's holy and undefiled Faith?

When the roll of the House of Bishops is called in Richmond, next October, three of those who were in the flesh when we last met, will not be there to answer to their names.

They are Rt. Rev. Isaac Lea Nicholson, D. D., Bishop of Milwaukee; Rt. Rev. Samuel I. J. Schereschewsky, D. D., Retired Bishop of China, and Rt. Rev. George Franklin Seymour, D. D., Bishop of Springfield.

Regarding the first of these honored names it may truly be said of him who bore it that he was able and brilliant as a preacher, that he was diligent in the work of his Diocese, that he had the generous, sympathetic heart, and that he was keenly jealous for the honor of the Church of God and for the maintenance of the faith of Christ.

The late retired Bishop of China was pre-eminently the scholar. He loved study. He loved books. It was a heroic work he wrought for religion as with patient hand and heart through long years of feebleness—for he was a suffering paralytic, I think, at least for a decade—he labored over the translation of the Holy Scriptures into the Mandarin dialect of the mysterious and intricate language of China.

I am told by those who have some acquaintance with that tongue that his was a master-work, and that nothing less than long years of weary labor of the most taxing and wearing species could achieve so monumental a result. His name, as the first full translator of God's Word for the countless millions of that great Empire of the East, will descend to posterity with a halo of light crowning it.

The deceased Bishop of Springfield was my personal friend, tried and true. He was known to several of my reverend brethren seated in this church today, as their brilliant instructor in the truths which relate to redemption, the Church, and Jesus Christ. How precious was the comprehensive phrase to him regarding the Kingdom of God that its heritage was, "Evangelic truth and Apostolic order." Any of us who ever heard him preach must have been profoundly impressed, not with the eloquence of the man only, but with the earnestness of his faith in that which he offered as the truth of the Gospel. He loved teaching, and he knew how to teach well. The Church was to him a Mother—and for its fame and honor he was very zealous. It was of Divine origin and Divinely ordered and Divinely guided in his eyes; and so he felt that to it was to be given heart and substance, talents and life.

From our own company of priests three brothers have gone forth to the land beyond. Each had served a long stewardship in the world and the Church. One, the Rev. James Stoddard, was absent from our borders for several years, because of impaired health. Some time before he passed to his rest he returned to the home-Diocese, and was able on occasions to serve at an altar. But full restoration of strength had not come in the long absence, and so it was with infirmity that he performed some of the duties that came to him here. He was anxious, indeed, to do the Master's work, and it was pain to him, not to be able always to respond "adsum" to the Church's call. He went forth from us after a comparatively long illness at the closing of life, and lay down to rest.

My other reverend brother who has departed from our midst to the Paradise beyond bore the name of Andrew J. Warner. For many years he lived among us, helping, as best he could in the parish where he abode, Angelica. He had reached beyond the four-score years of life, and until a very short period before his decease had the strong voice and clear brain which gave surprise to all who met him and heard him. He loved to see his brethren, and in his vigorous, intelligent way commune with them on the subject of the Nation's and the Church's past. Much could he relate that interested his younger brethren when he dwelt on the rise of the Kingdom of God in the Middle West, and the early struggles of pioneers who were faithful to the Truth.

One other name suggests itself to you as you recall our own departed, Edwin S. Hoffman, D. D. We all esteemed him highly, and all recognized in him the earnest scholar, the conscientious pastor and the godly man. What a record of good living, of Christian devotion, of wise thoughtfulness, he constantly exhibited at home or abroad! He was the dignified priest and he was the cordial man among men. He was the faithful Biblical student, and he was the reasonable man of affairs. He was trusted and honored and beloved by his people and by his brethren in the ministry. He came to us from another ministry, where he had a sound and a manly record. Conviction and a thorough study of our claims brought him into our fold. Head and heart were given to us then. He loved the Church. He believed in it and in what it taught. Its high moral code and its rich credal system and its reverent orderly worship won his conscience and captured his affections. And so he sought our priesthood, and it was never dishonored by him. How often he and I talked together of Divine things, of personal religion, of the "good estate of the Catholic Church"—to use the quaint expression of the English liturgy. A hearty and healthy piety, what it is—the Divine Word, its meaning and its comfort and its blessedness in the world—the Catholic Church in its history and work and triumphs and authority—the Ministry, the Sacraments, their Divine origin, their need for man—all that had to do with God and the redemption of mankind and the life after death and the world to come—these were the glorious and the sweet things that were the subject of his thought and talk as I communed with him from time to time. I always felt that I was in the presence of a man of great devoutness, of a man of God. His death is to me a personal loss. I cannot think of him but with the feeling of a heavy bereavement. But he has gone to the Paradise he sought and to the Saviour he adored.

So we part with our brethren one after another, wishing for each of them when they lie down that their sleep may be a sweet sleep.

As is our custom, we will now engage in the recital of the Nicene Creed, and join in other suitable devotions commemorative of the faithful departed.

Ter-Centennial of the Church.

As Churchmen we are all rejoicing in this our ter-centennial. The 300 years that have sped by since those first colonists landed at Jamestown have been fraught with privilege for this great country of ours. Of course, in looking back through that vista of time our eyes turn also to Plymouth Rock and its colonies, and the sterling traits that characterized those first settlers on that stern coast. We recognize heartily the vigor and the sacrifice and the British pluck that laid the first foundations of the New England character and the Puritan's grave and austere life. We see in the iron nerve and the calm blood which constituted and dignified the manhood of that branch of our race the elements that told much in the sound development of our national being. But too, we view in retrospect and with admiration those valiant first colonists of Virginia who came with Prayer-books and Bibles in their hands, and from the beginning established a daily public worship in the spirit and with the instrumentalities of their Mother, the Church, which they had left behind on the parent shore over the seas.

Let us abide awhile in the study or contemplation of that sacred record of history, the founding of the church three centuries ago on these, then, inhospitable shores.

It seems to me that an event so charged with portentous results for a great nation is worthy of our interested meditation here and merits our life-long thankfulness to God.

As I read the record of Jamestown and its original inhabitants and the others that soon clustered about or followed them, it has for me the charm of a romance, and the poetic flavor that warms my sentiment and gives beating pulse to my imagination. The arena at Ephesus and the Amphitheatre at Rome, the martyr's stake at Smithfield, and the market-place in Oxford with its persecuting fire, tell their majestic story of sacrifices to the death in a confession of the Saviour of the world—and the Church's annals rightly glow with that noble recital of undismayed loyalty. But, too, this modern Church of America may feel in its veins the throb of gratification and gratitude for an ancestry which endured hardship and met a disheartening environment, yet still, amid it all never furled the banner of the Cross and never turned its back on the King of kings who was its sovereign. There were individual defections, many—there were darkest days, and almost despair when the pestilence raged and famine invaded the diminishing camp; but there was still a general trust—dim perhaps in character—in the care and the love of the God of the nations. The men—for women were few among them—could—and did—persevere in their hard fight because many of them—sometimes indeed with a trembling hand—kept that hand on the helm of their religion. It taught them solidly of hope, and of the duty of persevering care, and of a Divine presence to each trusting child of the Heavenly Father.

And so they went on working, believing, praying as day followed day. Just as in that time, of the old Temple's building, centuries ago, each man held "his trowel in one hand and his sword in the other, and so builded, these builders of our Nation wrought likewise. And "now they rest from their labors."

Little did those men who took ship on New Year's day in the year 1607 realize that they were set apart by Divine Providence to be the founders of a splendid Christian Commonwealth which, in time, would take its place high in the ranks of first powers of the world. The adventurous spirit, the desire to acquire wealth, the purpose of developing the talents given them under new conditions indeed prompted their brave venture as they breasted the sea in the three little barks bearing these significant names, Susan Constant, the Discovery, and Godspeed. But while commercial enterprise, and perhaps the discoverer's thirst, was a strenuous force stirring them to action, yet they were men who could not, and did not, eliminate religion and its duties and exercises from their new lives. They were professors of Christianity at home, and crossing the sea did not alter their attitude toward Him whose protection they sought as followers of the precious Redeemer.

And so Robert Hunt, chaplain and priest, rises before us, a hero with the rest, who, whatever the difficulties and fears and anxieties that beset the little colony, kept them true to their devotions and led them to their Father's throne each morning and evening to bow the knee there and give Him the loyalty and love of their hearts and the service of their lives. Rites indeed were few and ceremonial was simple in that primeval grove, where a sail-cloth was the sole baldachino for an altar, and where the temple itself had only the arching trees and heaven's canopy between it and the King's palace on high. But the bowed knee and the bowed hearts of those suppliant servants of Jesus were not in vain. The rugged life gave a robust faith doubtless to many and even in dark days, as chaste supplication and canticle of the Prayer-book were poured out in unison, they realized the nearness of the Father to His children, and of the Elder Brother to those who are His brethren in the world.

The picture to me is one that stands forth in history unique and august. There is little of the emotional displayed in it, and little that could be called romantic in the men who constituted the tableau. It was privation and labor; it was fear and struggle; it was at times ruin and despair. And yet the little sanctuary resounded daily with the songs of praise and the lowly utterances of praying men. In God was their trust.

There is a feature in this marvelous record of religious devotion which gives it a resplendent character. Brave Robert Hunt, after ministering with a self-effacing zeal and tenderness to those scattered sheep in the wilderness, at last went to his rest. But his work and the Church of God did not die. The picture shows the laymen of the Colony continuing the daily Morning and Evening Prayer, as one and another of them in turn read the Church's devotions in the little Church. For the two or three following years, whether hostile Indians molested or pestilence cast its dark shadow upon their humble homes, they gathered for worship and waited in patience until the time came when another, with Apostolic commission, crossed the sea to preach the Word and administer the Sacraments of their dear Church.

But to bring ourselves more closely into the view of this romance of history. Is there anyone here who does not, as he gazes upon that broken company of colonists, in the sheerest despair, after those terrible experiences of famine, disease and blood (the 500 reduced to 60), turning their backs on the scene of their tragedies to seek refuge elsewhere, suddenly changing their course as Lord Delaware's little fleet appeared, and repairing at once to God's House, to thank Him with swelling hearts for the mercies that they had waited for so long—is there anyone here, I say, who does not believe that there was a religious consecration of life and work in that early youth of our land which was phenomenal and heroic? And yet another fact gleams on that distant horizon which may well wake our enthusiasm and turn our hearts strongly toward those fathers of Christian civilization in our country. As you are aware, in about a dozen years from the date of the first settlement the colonists had grouped themselves into almost as many different communities. For good order and for mutual protection it became necessary to institute a system of government.

And so came the choice of two burgesses from each settlement to represent their neighbors in a Convention or Congress assembled at Jamestown. And to the glory of the Church be it declared that the first session of that unique body was held in our little sanctuary reared in Jamestown. And thus it became the birthplace of the free institutions and the personal liberties that are, to-day, the glory of our land.

It was England's history repeated in diminutive form—the liberties of the people and the uplift of the masses—the result of the work of the Church in their behalf. It is the story of the Saxon day. It was the story of King John's day. It is the story of that Kingdom's modern life—the Church of God in truth, the people's friend.

I have not set out to traverse the Church's history in this country through these intervening years between birth and to-day's fair strength. It would be a long story of weakness and gradual—yes, slow—development and ups and downs of years and years.

I would only turn your thought to that handful of men, three centuries ago, with their one priest, faithful worshippers, loyal Churchmen through vicissitude and peril and storm; and then I would have you gaze with thankful gratification at the development which this year of grace presents. The 1 Church at Jamestown has blossomed out into the nearly 8,000 of to-day; the 1 clergyman of that time is now represented by the 102 Bishops and the more than 5,000 (5,381) of the present time. The 60 communicants of that first settlement have grown to the large army of nearly 850,000 souls, in addition to the swarms of other baptized persons, non-communicants. The modest offerings of that primitive time, reaching only a few pounds sterling, have swelled to the splendid sum of $17,314,000 for a single year. Ours shall not be an unfitting pride as we recall this rich record of the great organization of which we are members and officers; but we shall rather have thankfulness toward God that His children's devotion has prompted the love and the sacrifice which these represent. Nay! we shall have grateful hearts for all the privilege and comforting blessing that have come to us as individuals through our sacred relations with this the Saviour's Bride.

Men's Thank Offering.

Thus, I am led to speak at this stage of the Men's Thank Offering. It will, perhaps, be remembered that, in my address of a year ago, I took occasion to urge this great plan of the Church to raise a vast fund for Missionary work through its men, and from its men. In many of your parishes, too, on the occasion of my visitation, I endeavored to present the importance of the cause. It is a reason for thankfulness that the Dioceses throughout the land are warming to the work, and that already large sums have been contributed by men. Do you not agree with me that we, as one of the units of this American Church,—we of Western New York,—ought not to be satisfied until every man who is a communicant and every one whose only connection with the Church is through the bond of Holy Baptism—has taken part in the swelling of this proposed offering to God?

It is to be the confession—in a practical way—of our men that God is good, that a Saviour's mercy and sacrifice is a blessing, that the Holy Ghost's ceaseless aid is the soul's comfort, that the Church, our Father's family on earth, is home and joy and refuge and delight to us His children—and that for these rich manifold gifts we are glad and would pour out our thanks to the good Giver of it all.

First Celebration of the Holy Communion.

I need not remind you that the 300th anniversary of the First Celebration of the Holy Communion on our soil, in our tongue, is drawing nigh. The 16th day of June, which this year occurs on the third Sunday after Trinity, is the date. I recommend that everywhere throughout the Diocese there be an administration of that Sacrament on that day. Especially would I urge that the men in every parish be exhorted to meet their Lord at His altar then. Let it be a Eucharist indeed—a memorial of God's love to His people and church, a patriotic as well as a devotional service from every man enrolled in the ranks as a Communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Western New York.

I have also set forth a brief service which may be used in connection with those of the day or as a separate office of devotion. Let us all, then, on that memorial day—we men—be glad and rejoice before God.

The service to which I refer is as follows:

Service of Commemoration and Thanksgiving.

1. Any one or two of the following Psalms shall be used: Psalms 48, 111, 121, 122, 107, 145.

4. The Lord's Prayer.

3. The Versicles.

2. The Nicene Creed.

5. The following Collects:

ALMIGHTY FATHER, we, Thy children, come before Thee in a grateful sense of Thy many mercies and of Thy watchful care of this our great country. We thank Thee for the peace that reigns within and without our borders; for the success that is now crowning the labors of husbandman or trader, of artisan or instructor, of miner or manufacturer; of all who in the spirit of industry or of sacrifice or of service for Christ, are using talents and consecrating their gifts to righteous labor.

We beseech Thee to continue Thy merciful goodness to us that prosperity and peace may abide among us through all generations.

Especially would we give Thee thanks today for the blessed privileges in this Church of which we are members; for these three centuries of salutary growth; for the heritage of fair rites and pure ceremonial and rich devotions which have come to us down the ages.

May the Missionary fervor which has risen among us in these days of our progress at home, grow and increase until the whole world shall give allegiance to Jesus, and His Name shall be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations. All these things we beg in the name of Jesus, our Saviour and Redeemer. Amen.

BLESS, O GRACIOUS SAVIOUR, Thy holy Catholic Church; fill it with truth and grace; where it is corrupt, purge it; where it is in error, direct it; where it is superstitious, rectify it; where it is amiss, reform it; where it is right, strengthen and confirm it; where it is divided and rent asunder, heal the breaches of it, O, Thou Holy One of Israel; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O GOD THE HOLY GHOST, we, thine unworthy servants, most humbly beseech Thee to be our Light and Strength in our present work. Come to us and teach us what to do, that by Thy help we may please Thee in all things. Let not ignorance draw us astray, nor respect of persons corrupt our doings. Illuminate our minds and sanctify our hearts, O, blessed Spirit, whom, with the Father and the Son together we worship and glorify as one God, world without end. Amen.

O LORD, we beseech Thee, let Thy continual pity cleanse and defend Thy Church; and, because it cannot continue in safety without Thy succor, preserve it evermore by Thy help and goodness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, be with us all evermore. Amen.

6. A solemn Te Deum.

7. Benediction. "The God of peace who brought again from the dead," etc.

The Diocese.

To me the year past has brought a large variety and an abundance of labors. Duties that were unusual came, and they involved much time, thought and travel. The record of the twelvemonth is as follows:

I have officiated at 175 services, consisting of either Morning or Evening Prayer. 104 sermons were delivered by me in as many different churches. My addresses on various occasions numbered 135. I held 102 different confirmations. It was also my privilege to preside at 56 meetings in the interest of the Church and its institutions, and independent of those held with vestries. The number of persons Confirmed by me was 1431. During the year there have been two ordinations. At one of these two men were received into the Diaconate; at the other, were elevated two to the Priesthood. I deposed one priest. One Parish House was dedicated by me. I also dedicated one church, and consecrated another. One new chancel was consecrated; likewise, I laid the corner-stone of a new church. I have given my sanction to the organization of two new missions. I have officiated at the commencements of two schools, one College and one University. I presided four times at meetings of the Trustees of De Veaux College, and attended a meeting of the Trustees of Hobart College. I presided at the Annual Meeting of the Babies' Branch of the Board of Missions, and at two General Meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese, and at Meetings of the Church Charity Foundation. These are the bare official acts which characterize the regular—shall I say routine—of that which touches so deeply the soul-life of such numbers of our brethren? No, I will not use that commercial, cold term. I shall rather speak of it, external as it is, as the daily hallowed offices of a Bishop's life. But there are other labors, duties, privileges that come to his lot—interior, sacred, solemn, sweet are they often—the confidences of godly ones seeking counsel or light on spiritual help; the secret story of a life seeking peace; the tale of wrong which has for its purpose restitution; the disputes to settle; the parish fears to allay; the distrusted clergyman to sustain; the sin to admonish; the peace to restore where ferment has arisen; the good to encourage; the weak to cheer; the financial burden to lighten by letter or gift; the good cause to commend; the weary in well-doing to rouse anew; the disaffected to soothe; the strong to warn against the oppression of the weak; the admonition for the wilful wrong; the comforting word to the oppressed or bereaved or sorely tried.

These, and many other like functions, are his. Day and night they come, abroad and at home. They touch the patriarch or the little child, the beggar or the opulent man, the communicant or the skeptic. For such offices his door has never been closed. During the twenty-two years and a half of my Episcopate I have never declined to see a single person who has asked an interview when he or she crossed my threshold or pulled my doorbell. God's good blessing in health has helped that. The feeling, too, that when pains are taken to seek my home by any it is a courtesy due—and a right, too—that they should be greeted and welcomed, and their interests considered—and helped, if possible—has prompted. Such a principle and such a rule has involved much expenditure of time and energy, when somewhat inconvenient and when in conflict with other stated duty. But it is God's work, as well as the higher offices of the Episcopate. And so, I can say honestly it has been willingly and cheerfully done.

Personal Experiences.

I must once again, with a more than ordinary gratitude, tell my brethren of the clergy and those of the laity in the many parishes and missions of the Diocese my deep sense of their hearty and loving greetings and welcomes during the year as I have gone to them. Peculiarly tender has been my intercourse with the flocks of which in the Providence of God I have the privilege of being Chief Pastor for twelve months past. Claspings of the hand and generous words and a cheering affection have greeted me on my visitations. Great congregations came, great services were held, great offerings of warm regard from office-bearers or from rank and file of the pew met me and mine continually. For such loyal, generous and loving treatment at your hands, at the hands of the people in your homes and churches I ask the acceptance of my sincerest thanks.

I have noticed as I traversed the Diocese, hither and yon, earnest efforts to make the worship a reality, a larger zeal for the fraternal and social side of the Church's work, and a devoted willingness on the part of many to spend and be spent for the Master. God seems thus greatly to have blessed the sound zeal and the prayerful efforts of a large number of the reverend clergy. The "right judgment" that we prayed for in the Collect of last Sunday, prompting to gentle ministrations, patient tolerance, kindly instruction, helpful preaching, quiet statement of truth, and correction of errors and faults—these attitudes and acts of the "bonus pastor," have won and strengthened, and I will say saved, souls in many parishes by the Holy Spirit's grace.

De Veaux College.

De Veaux College and its usefulness should be the subject of our thought anew. The decision of the Court of final resort last year throws upon the Diocese a new responsibility—a responsibility rightly recognized at our last Council when a Committee was, by its action, appointed to take steps for an increase, if possible, of the Endowment Fund. Our pupils, as we all know, in view of the size of our buildings, are less than one-half the number we can care for and ought to have. It is not necessary for me to dwell upon the advantages of such an institution, whether from the standpoint intellectual or physical. They are well-known to you all, and have been stated again and again from this place in the long past and in more recent days. All that will help to evolve useful and rich young manhood for the Nation—and the Church—are ours. The one need now is more endowment in order to extend the high privileges of the College to a larger force of boys. Every $300 per annum of income from an invested fund will provide board, lodging, physical development, education, and spiritual training for any orphan boy in this Church. This is the matter in a nutshell. Your Committee will present their report, state the condition, make their appeal, and ask your help. I am not unreasonable, I am convinced, in requesting of you a thorough consideration of the subject-matter which they will offer for your thought. It is just for me to add that my visits to De Veaux are always a pleasure. I find a united Board of Trustees, earnest for its interests, a faithful Head Master and Faculty, many and studious boys, a beautiful domain, dignified buildings, a simple but palatable bill of fare in the dining-room, solemn and bright chapel-worship—a home, sympathy, good government, careful administration—all giving it robust health and usefulness.

The one lack is the old one still. Echoes resounding in unfilled halls, deserted dormitories, a half-empty dining-room; less of the bustle and energy that should pervade and make strenuously vocal the whole atmosphere. The lack in numbers of the youth who ought to be cared for and trained to high work within the walls of this noble home of the orphaned and the destitute among the boys of this Church, is the fact that confronts us. I trust and pray that an increase of endowment through the present effort will bring to pass so happy a result as full ranks on campus and in lecture-room again.

Peace Conference at the Hague.

I presume none of my brethren, clerical or lay, gathered here, are without interest in the Conference having an endeavor for universal peace as its object, which before long will gather at The Hague. It is good when men's minds are directed to such a theme; good that representatives of the nations should assemble for the discussion of such a tremendous subject. We may have our little pleasantries at the spectacle presented of the very countries that have talked most freely in that direction steadily and generously increasing their armament. And we may even point to the absolute impossibility for any land to divest itself of its forts and guards and battleships and death-dealing implements of war; but if earnest men, in a peaceful spirit, will steadily plead with governments, and pray to God that the tone of the world may grow more and more toward the gentle, peaceful spirit of our adorable Master, the "Prince of Peace," then indeed we may hope that the clash of arms and the blood and fury of war shall fade away, at least, to a degree. But, I presume, we will all recognize that while sin is in the world, and while there are so many that know not God among men, the sentinel must stand at his post on the frontier and at the coast-line, and the mounted gun must tell of a land that aims to be strong because it would defend its peace-loving citizens in their desire to abstain from the blood and carnage of the battlefield.

But, as Christian men who would honor the teachings of our lowly and holy Redeemer, as men who would long for a world where the "swords are beaten into plough shares, and the spears into pruning-hooks" we will daily pray that at this great Conference of the civilized nations wise counsels may prevail, that a passion for peace shall win all hearts, and that God in all things may be glorified as men in their devotion to Him and in their love of their fellows, not only pray for the peace of their own Jerusalem, but labor for a final disarmament which shall embrace the round world and unite in one brotherhood the whole race of man.

St. John's Church, Wellsville.

It is a sad calamity which has befallen St. John's parish, Wellsville, within less than a month. The church building, with its contents, was entirely destroyed by fire. It is a loss to the community, and a grievous loss to our own people abiding in that town and its neighborhood. The parish is nearly half a century old, and in all probability will commemorate its semi-centennial of life a couple of years hence. The building was chaste and tasteful—many would say somewhat old-fashioned—but it was Churchly withal. Like many others of its day it was constructed of perishable material, viz.: of wood. In the past lack of funds in many villages has compelled the erection of these cheaper structures. But they have served their sacred purpose, and hosts of human souls have been fed and nourished for Christ in them, although they had not the proportions of cathedrals or the splendor of great costly city churches.

Not only was the Sanctuary itself burned, but a fine new organ, as well as the old one, which was about to be forwarded to our church at Friendship, were also destroyed. It was a clean sweep of everything. To the credit of the vestry and to their business wisdom be it said that they had faithfully paid the premiums on moderate policies of insurance. There is, therefore, although some loss, not a total one. The chosen custodians of the property, the rector, church wardens and vestrymen, merit our praise for their judicious care of the trust committed to them. They ask our help now in the construction of a new church of less perishable material. Doubtless each of my reverend brethren has received the circular put forth by the corporation. I commend heartily their appeal to the Diocese—the more so because they were not negligent of their duty in providing for the “rainy day,” as they secured proper insurance policies to cover loss in case of fire. There were times when it was a strain to meet the obligation. But with faithful effort they raised the funds to keep their trust safe. There is a pathetic side to the whole matter, regarding which I must speak. My friend and brother, the reverend rector, Frederick W. Beecher, a faithful pastor there for many years and greatly honored by all the community, was the victim of a serious personal loss, consisting of vestments, books, and other personal property—upon which there was no insurance—to the extent of $75 in value. My affectionate sorrow and sympathy is deeply with him. I know yours is likewise. May we not hope that this Council, before it closes its sessions, will give hearty expression of its sympathy to the rector, vestry and parishioners of that afflicted parish in this day of its serious loss? I desire to add that they are not cast down, nor in despair, in a spirit of faith and Christian cheerfulness, rose to the circumstances and confronted bravely the work of rebuilding a temple to the honor of God.

Salaries of Clergymen.

I return to a theme treated of by me last year. I mean the salaries of the clergy. It was learned by me in the course of this twelvemonth past, with an infinite pleasure, that in several of our parishes, and in some missions, the good people have added to the income of their pastors, that the Thanksgiving offering was increased, that with a delicate and considerate affection definite additions, some quite generous, were made to the fixed sums promised for support. Several of my reverend brethren have spoken of these kindnesses from their people with very grateful words. In some parishes, however, there seemed to be no power to fall into line with the rest of the world in more fitly remunerating those laboring in their service. And yet, the prices for all commodities and for other labor go on increasing and loading their burdens on the backs of the pastors of the flocks as well as upon the members of their folds. Let me say, brethren of the laity, that it is an amazingly rare thing for any of my clergy to take the initiative in conversation with me on the subject of increased salary. The patience without complaint that so many show through the day-by-day struggle to make both ends meet moves me often very deeply. There is more faith in God's wisdom and right ordering of the affairs of this world in many pulpits than many of the laity imagine. The preaching of hosts of the men of God who are standing at the altars of this Church today is a preaching of sanctified trust. They believe what they give you and me as the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour. They believe what they tell you of a Providence that watches over and cares for them and the things of this world. They believe, tho' stress of times dawn, though bereavements come, though trials beleaguer, that the sun shines behind that frowning cloud, that a Father Who watches over each of His children has still a heart for them. As I talk with some of them, many of them, in a heart-to-heart way, regarding their religious experiences, their inner personal thought and devotion, I see the fire of a piety that tells a nobler trust and a more practical spirit of self-surrender to the Master even than the sweet meditations and ecstasies of an a Kempis or a Bernard of Cluny suggest. Sainly thought and consecrated hearts were not confined to cloisters or to lives lived down the corridors of past ages. There are reverent souls very close to God, and finding peace in the study and the contemplation of things that are Heavenly today, as well as when hermits abode in desert solitudes. God is not absent from this material, noisy world of our time. There are the silences and the seclusions of human souls in this daily priesthood of sacrifice which lift these servants of Christ out of the care and distress and fear to the plane where they have the vision of the Father. I am not speaking of artificial yearnings or a romantic religionism. I am telling you of the realities in some clergymen's lives which have more genuine substance to them than even the well-planned projects or the piled treasure of some of the men whose names stand first in the material realms of this world have in their eyes. This is not a stilted preaching that I am indulging myself with now. I am revealing to those who are compelled, alas! to gaze too strongly and steadily at the material side of the world, a picture of the higher and the more beautiful life—the life that finds in God its portion and its rich joy—the life that penetrates beyond the curtain that is physical and fleeting, and beholds the “brightness of the Father's glory and the express image of His person. Its satisfaction and its ecstasy none can know who does not at times separate himself to the solitude and the calm where God comes, and where a peace not of earth reigns.

There are many reverend brethren whom I know—sanctified in life, believing servants of Jesus—who have these visions, who know the joy of living near to God.

Bishop DeLancey.

Let me recite to you tonight a touching and sacred narrative which bears intimately upon the life of this Diocese. On October 8th, in the year 1797, at Mamaroneck, in this State, was born the third son of John Peter and Elizabeth De Lancey. At his baptism he received the name William Heathcote. He grew up in the Church's nurture, and early sought the holy ministry. After serving at her altars for a period of earnest and fruitful years as deacon and priest, he, on May 9th, in the year 1839, was consecrated the first Bishop of Western New York. Until the year 1865 he labored painstakingly and assiduously in his field of work. The Western New York of that day embraced all the territory that now constitutes the Diocese of Central New York, as well as our own. There are a few men and women at present abiding in this portion of Bishop Delancey's Episcopal fold who speak tenderly of that courtly gentleman's wise and godly administration. Those, however, who are his survivors, whether among the clergy or the laity, are not very numerous. And yet I ought to add that it is one of my occasional pleasures in country parts to clasp the hands of men and women, good workers and worshippers in their churches, who delight to announce that they received the laying-on-of-hands from that stately and consecrated prelate—or who, as children, received his tender blessing. His was pioneer work. So was Bishop Hobart's. They confronted difficulties and privations such as fall to the lot of our Western Missionary Bishops today. Railroads did not cross and criss-cross the townships and counties as now. Stages and canalboats and private conveyances of a simple character were almost universally the modes of transportation during the early years of Bishop De Lancey's Episcopate. As for some of the taverns in which he was at times compelled to lay his head—I mean those at inconspicuous crossroads—I have to say in the forcible and inelegant language of the West, “They were a terror.” Of course, comfortable homes without number were open to him in the more populated regions. But many of the features of living that now are demanded as very necessities of life were often entirely lacking then, or if to be found in some of the richer homes were looked upon as unwonted and inordinate luxuries.

But the noble man of God worked on, until the day came when, in his growing feebleness, he needed a helper and that brilliant soldier of the Cross, your late Bishop, by the command of the Church came to his side, and for those later months of life was his stay and his comfort.

At last the sun went down on that heroic and wise and devoted life; and the brave Bishop fell asleep in Jesus, at Geneva, his home, on April 5, 1865.

His own heart's desire and that of his kindred was that he should be laid to rest at the place of his birth. And so after appropriate and dignified services in Geneva, the body was borne to Mamaroneck. En route it reposed for a few hours before the altar of Calvary Church, New York.

I personally shall never forget that solemn night. Among those whose privilege it was to watch by that bier in that august Sanctuary then, was he who now addresses you. A priest somewhat more than a year old was he. The tender memories of that graveside vigil with its recital of the story of that gentle, august life as known by those who watched at the bier, too, can never fade. To this third Bishop of Western New York the fragrant name of its first prelate shall ever be precious.

On the following day the departed one was brought home and laid to rest in a wee private cemetery, perhaps not more than four rods square—a God's acre indeed—which formed a part of the estate that had been the possession of his ancestors, and in which he himself I think "had part and lot." There, with his loved wife by his side, he has lain this more than forty years. In the midst of ancestors and descendants he sleeps. It is a modest headstone that stands at one end of that grave. Its inscription is simple beyond measure. It has no epitaph. It is the wise, gentle life of a great bishop told in stone with a touching brevity. Here is what is carved there on that plain erect tablet of white, weatherworn marble:

RT. REV. WM. H. DeLANCEY,

D. D., LL. D., D. C. L. OXON.

FIRST BISHOP OF WESTERN NEW YORK,

THIRD SON OF JOHN PETER AND ELIZABETH DeLANCEY.

Born at Mamaroneck, N. Y., Oct. 8, 1797.

Consecrated at Auburn, N. Y., May 9, 1839.

Died at Geneva, N. Y., April 5, 1865.

This is all. I stood by the side of that grave last Thursday. That was a quiet resting place for the departed bishop during a long course of years. Around him are the graves of perhaps thirty others who were his next of kin. Now, however, the seclusion and the calm of that sleeping place is gone. The stone wall that separated the few graves from the surrounding fields is in part fallen; breaches here and there mar its former symmetry, some of the headstones are leaning in one direction or another, the grass is uncut and the bushes unkempt. A street within a few yards of the grave is noisy with the rattle of the traffic on its rough pavement, a barn is being reared within two hundred feet on the other side of that little cemetery. There is an air of decay, of neglect, of unseemliness for a holy man's sepulchre, whom God—in life—had called to sit in a seat of sacred authority in His Church.

The time has certainly arrived for action by this Diocese, having for its purpose the removal of the remains of its first bishop to a resting place within its borders. The subject has been, by your appointment and decision, in a former Council, committed to the Standing Committee for its consideration. The result of its inquiry and its conclusion in the matter will be laid before you in due season. I ask for it all your consideration and kindly treatment.

The Lord's Day.

To my brethren of the Diocese, clerical and lay, I would commend the subject of a more sacred and thorough observance of the Lord's Day—to the former as a topic for preaching; to the latter as a healthy and pious observance. I do heartily recognize the high pressure of modern business and the electric intensity of life in every sphere today. I see the need of the nerves of iron—or of ice—that some men are cultivating in order to meet the grapple in the world that their avocations demand. I see the wearying labor and the anxious responsibility that great enterprises require and that fierce competitions bring. I see the sleepless nights and the nervous straining that such plunging toil entail. I see men becoming machines and their daily round of developing into a mere cast-iron treadmill. Yes! I see a vicious trend in many of the conditions of our modern life, and my heart is often sore for the burden-bearing of so many of my brothers in the flesh.

But I see, too, a soothing force in that sweet Lord's Day which asks one-seventh of this period of human wear and tear, and which rightly used gives so much calm and placid rest to weary and troubled souls.

Many of the laity throughout the Church probably are unaware of the fact that our Mother—this Household of Faith of which we are children—enacted years ago a Canon on this subject. It is not obsolete, not a dead letter, not unwise for this more strenuous period in the old world's history. It speaks to us, clergy and laity alike, in the following calm words. Canon 43, "Of the due celebration of Sundays," is its title.

"All persons within this Church shall celebrate and keep the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, by regular participation in the public worship of the Church, by hearing the Word of God read and taught, and by other acts of devotion and works of charity, using all godly and sober conversation."

What considerate, practical wisdom the Church has manifested in thus accentuating this gracious duty. It calls the wearied to rest. It calls the active-brained to a new calmer exercise. It calls the excited to placid thought. It calls the tempted to the plane where help lies. These are results flowing from the devotional Sunday for the every-day care-laden life. They have to do with the physical or mental man.

But there is that spiritual self; there is that invisible side of the human life, of which every man, no matter how material or earthly he may be, has consciousness.

Its voice will speak. Its demands are for something above and beyond the perishing things that the work-a-day world and the every-day scramble bring. To have abstraction from all this at stated intervals, to have contact with that which in its higher glory puts these in eclipse, to reach out hand and heart to the Power unto which all these are subject, to be lifted to the world where these are only as the fickle and the fading pictures in a kaleidoscope, and to clasp hands with that which is eternal—this is the beautiful purpose and the grand province of the Lord's Day. It stands for another world, another Manhood, another life—an exalted world, manhood, life. It alters the currents of thought, feeling, aspiration, action. The man mounting to the realization and the privilege of these things is a new man. He is caught up from the lower self of his life and transported into the realm where all is transfigured. I am speaking of the man to whom the Lord's Day is a holy day, a day for the higher exercises, for translation into the region which is Divine, the worshiping man—the Church-man. I am not speaking of the man who seeks in it recreation or lassitude or change of scene and action only. I am not speaking of a Lord's Day which means self-indulgence, wanton pleasure, license—although these may be a change from the daily treadmill. I am speaking of the sober Lord's Day which this Church prescribes for her children, peaceful, cheerful, reposeful, graceful and grateful—an oasis in the hot Sahara of the sons of toil.

So, I close this Annual Address. Much more of mement might be touched upon. But I refrain.

My prayer is that of the Collect of the week: "O God, who, as at this time, didst teach the hearts of thy faithful people by sending to them the light of thy Holy Spirit; grant us by the same Spirit to have a right judgment in all things and evermore to rejoice in His holy comfort thro' the merits of Christ Jesus our Saviour."

DECISION OF THE COURT.

Ecclesiastical Court, Diocese of Western New York. In the matter of the Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey:

The undersigned members of the Ecclesiastical Court of this Diocese render the following report and decision with respect to the presentment made February 13, 1906, by the Standing Committee against the Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey, a Presbyterian of this Diocese:

The Court duly convened at the parish house of St. James's Church in Batavia, N. Y., on Tuesday, April 17, 1906, attended by Safford E. North, counsellor-at-law, who had been duly designated by the Bishop to act as Assessor to the Court. Upon the application of counsel for the accused an adjournment was had until April 25, 1906. Upon the last mentioned date, all parties consenting thereto, the Court convened in the Court House in Batavia, where all subsequent proceedings were had. The Standing Committee was represented by John Lord O'Brian, John H. Stiness and Franklin D. Locke, counsellors-at-law. The accused appeared in person and by J. Breck Perkins and Edward M. Shepard, his attorneys. The trial continued from day to day until Saturday, April 28, 1906, when the case was submitted for final decision. The members of the Court again convened at the parish house in Batavia, May 9, 1906, when, after due deliberation, the following decision was made by the members of the Court whose names appear signed hereto:

First—St. Andrew's Church, in the city of Rochester, is an organized parish church of the Diocese of Western New York, and the Rev. Algernon

S. Crapsey is now, and at all the times hereinafter mentioned was, a Presbyterian of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America and the Rector of the said St. Andrew's Church.

Second—That during the year 1905 said Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey, referred to in this decision as the respondent, caused to be published in book form, under the title, "Religion and Politics," a series of sermons theretofore delivered by him in his official capacity as the Rector of said St. Andrew's Church, and said book was published and caused to be sold and circulated by the said respondent.

Third—That contained in said book and prepared as a part thereof by the said respondent are the matters and statements set forth in said presentment and therein appearing as quotations from said book, numbered in fifteen separate paragraphs or extracts, all of which said paragraphs and extracts are correct and literal quotations from the said book so prepared and written by the respondent.

Fourth—That on or about December 31, 1905, the respondent delivered a sermon in the course of which he used and employed in substance the language imputed to him in specification 2 of charge 1 of the presentment.

We make and find the following conclusions with respect to the said matters and things written and published by said respondent, and we here set forth for convenient reference that portion of the presentment referred to and herein denominated "doctrines denied," being part of specification 1, charge 1.

It being intended by said language, words and terms to express the presbyter's disbelief in and to impugn and to deny the following doctrines, to wit:

"1. The doctrine that our Lord Jesus Christ is God, the Saviour of the world, as contained and enunciated in the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed, and as set forth, indicated, and declared in the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

"2. The doctrine that our Lord Jesus Christ was conceived by the Holy Ghost, as contained and enunciated in the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed, and as set forth, indicated, and declared in the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

“3. The doctrine of the virgin birth of our Lord Jesus Christ, as contained and enunciated in the Apostles’ Creed and the Nicene Creed, and as set forth, indicated, and declared in the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

“4. The doctrine of the resurrection of our Blessed Lord and Saviour as contained and enunciated in the Apostles’ Creed and the Nicene Creed, and as set forth, indicated, and declared in the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

“5. The doctrine of the Blessed Trinity, as contained and enunciated in the Apostles’ Creed and the Nicene Creed, and as set forth, indicated, and declared in the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.”

We find the respondent guilty of the charges set forth in the presentment to the extent now here stated:

(1) As to the said “doctrines denied—Presentment, charge 1, specification 1,—that by his writings contained in said book, “Religion and Politics,” the respondent impugns, if he does not express disbelief in and denial of, the doctrines set forth in paragraphs numbered 1 and 5.

(2) That in the said writings contained in the book, “Religion and Politics,” and quoted in the presentment, said respondent expresses his disbelief in, and impugns and denies, the doctrines referred to and set forth in paragraphs numbered 2, 3, and 4 of the matters herein referred to as “doctrines denied.” And as to specification 2 of charge 1, that by the language contained in a certain sermon delivered by the said accused on or about December 31, 1905, from which quotations appear in specification 2, charge 1, the following conclusion is made and found:

(1) That the accused impugns, if he does not assert his disbelief in and denial of, the doctrines set forth in paragraphs 1 and 4 of said specification 2.

(2) That by the use of the language from said sermon in said specification 2 the accused expresses his disbelief in, and impugns and denies, the doctrines set forth in the paragraphs numbered 2 and 3 in said specification 2.

Specification 1, charge 2,—that the accused did, by his said utterances contained in said book and sermons, and quoted as aforesaid in the presentment, violate and break the following declarations made by him at the time of his ordination:

“1. I do believe the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament to be the Word of God, and to contain all things necessary to salvation; and I do solemnly engage to conform to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

“2. Will you then give your faithful diligence always so to minister the Doctrine and Sacraments, and the Discipline of Christ, as the Lord hath commanded, and as this Church hath received the same, according to the Commandments of God, so that you may teach the people committed to your care and charge with all diligence to keep and observe the same?

“Answer: I will so do, by the help of the Lord.

“3. Will you be ready, with all faithful diligence, to banish and drive away from the Church all erroneous and strange doctrines contrary to God's Word; and to use both public and private monitions and exhortations, as well as to the sick as to the whole, within your cures, as need shall be given?

“Answer: I will, the Lord being my helper.”

The application made by counsel conducting the prosecution for leave to amend the presentment so as to include the year 1904 within the period covered by the allegations is denied.

In accordance with Section 18 of the ordinances of the Ecclesiastical Court of this diocese, we state that in our opinion sentence should be pronounced as follows: That the respondent be suspended from exercising the functions of a minister of this Church until such time as he shall satisfy the ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese that his belief and teaching conform to the doctrines of the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed as this Church hath received the same. However, we express the earnest hope and desire that the respondent may see his way clear, during the thirty days which, under the Canons of the Church, must intervene before sentence can be pronounced, to fully satisfy the ecclesiastical authority of such conformity on his part.

W. C. ROBERTS, President.

C. H. BOYNTON, Clerk.

G. S. BURROWS.

JOHN MILLS GILBERT.

MINORITY REPORT.

The undersigned, a member of the Ecclesiastical Court referred to in the foregoing decision, makes and files the following separate decision and report:

WHEREAS, The respondent constantly affirms his acceptance of all the articles of the Christian faith as contained in the Apostles' Creed; and,

WHEREAS, This creed declares the sacred mysteries of the incarnation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and of the most Holy Trinity, and a belief in the resurrection of the body, concerning which eternal verities of the Christian religion the said respondent is called in question, I find from his own statements and the evidence submitted for his defense that his error consists rather in presuming to define what God has not been pleased to reveal, and to interpret those doctrines in a manner not generally received by the Church, rather than in a denial and rejection of their truth and authority.

FRANCIS S. DUNHAM.

COURT OF REVIEW.

SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPEAL

REV. ALGERNON S. CRAPSEY, S. T. D.

The appeal of the Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey, S. T. D., to the Court of Review of the Second Judicial Department of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America from the decision of the Ecclesiastical Court of the Diocese of Western New York, rendered May 9, 1906, adjudging him guilty of certain canonical offenses as set forth in said decision came on to be heard by said Court at the Diocesan House in Lafayette Place in the City of New York on the 4th day of September, A. D. 1906, at 2 o'clock P. M. of that day. All the members of the Court were present, viz.:

Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, D. D., President; Rev. William R. Huntington, D. D., Rev. Alfred B. Baker, D. D., Rev. John Robert Moses, Charles Andrews, Frederic Adams, James Parker.

The appellant appeared in person and by his counsel, Hon. James Breck Perkins and Mr. Edward M. Shepard. The respondent, the Diocese of Western New York, appeared by members of the Standing Committee thereof and by Mr. John Lord O'Brian, Church Advocate. The hearing was continued on October 19 and 20, 1906, at the same place. The argument of counsel having been heard, the case was, on the day last mentioned, submitted to the Court for decision. The Court having taken the matter under advisement, and impressed with a profound sense of its responsibility in discharging the serious duty cast upon it, met from time to time to consider the appeal. After full consideration of the questions presented it has determined, with the unanimous concurrence of its members, that the judgment of the Trial Court should be affirmed, and it hereby affirms the same. In compliance with the Canon of the General Convention which requires that the decision of a Court of Review shall be in writing, signed by the members uniting therein, and that it "shall distinctly specify the grounds of the decision," the Court states the grounds of its decision as follows, viz.:

"First—The Ecclesiastical Court of the Diocese of Western New York had jurisdiction to try the accused for the offenses charged in the presentment. The several Dioceses have exclusive power to provide modes and institute tribunals for the trial of Presbyters for Canonical offenses. Article IX of the Constitution of the Church declares that "Presbyters and Deacons shall be tried by a court instituted by a convention of the Diocese or by the Ecclesiastical authority of the Missionary District in which they are Canonically resident." The Canons of the Diocese of Western New York (Tit. 3, Canon 1) declare: "There shall be an Ecclesiastical Court of the Diocese having jurisdiction to try a Priest or Deacon thereof for any offense for which a Canon of a General Convention provides that a minister of this Church (not being a Bishop) shall be liable for presentment and trial." The teaching publicly and advisedly of doctrine contrary to that held by the Church, or the doing of an act by a Presbyter involving a violation of his ordination vows, are enumerated among the Canonical offenses specified in Canon 23 of the General Convention. The fact that no court has been as yet constituted having at this time power to review the decision of a Diocesan Court on questions of faith or doctrine does not affect the power of a Court of the Diocese to try a Presbyter charged with teaching false doctrine. It cannot decline to entertain jurisdiction of the case in which its jurisdiction has been regularly invoked on the ground of expediency or policy. It is bound to proceed to administer the law of the Church or of the Diocese as the Court shall find it to be. The omission of the General Convention to complete the judicial system of the Church by establishing an Ultimate Court of Appeal having jurisdiction of questions of doctrine did not take away, nor in any manner abridge the power of Diocesan courts over the subject. Their original and undoubted jurisdiction remains complete and unimpaired. Canon 29, enacted in 1904, which creates Courts of Review, contains a variety of provisions based upon an assumption that an Ultimate Court of Appeal having jurisdiction of questions of doctrine would be established. But these provisions are inoperative and will continue so to be until the contemplated Court shall be created. The claim that the Trial Court should have declined to proceed in the trial of the case to await the action of some future General Convention would, if it had been allowed, have postponed the trial indefinitely, for it is impossible to forecast, at what time, if ever, the General Convention will exercise the permissive power conferred by Article IX of the Constitution. The existing situation leaves a Presbyterian who has been accused and convicted in a Diocesan Court of teaching false doctrine in the same position in which Presbyters have always been, viz.: without any opportunity to have the decision reversed by an appellate tribunal for error in respect of doctrine. This may be regretted, but this consideration neither takes away nor modifies the duties cast upon a Trial Court, except as it may serve as an admonition for considerate and cautious procedure.

“Second—The Trial Court was legally organized in conformity with the Canons and Ordinances of the Diocese of Western New York. The Canons provide that the Ecclesiastical Court of the Diocese shall be composed of five Presbyters elected by the Diocesan Council from a list of ten Presbyters chosen and nominated to the Council by the Standing Committee. Five Presbyters were so elected at the annual session of the Council May 17, 1905. In case of the resignation of any member of the Court the vacancy is to be filled until the next session of the Council “by an appointment to be made by the Standing Committee upon the nomination of the Bishop.” An accused person who is to be put upon trial may challenge peremptorily two of the members of the Court and the places of the persons so excluded are to be filled by an appointment by the Standing Committee on the nomination of the Bishop, as provided in case of resignations, and the accused may still further challenge one substitute appointed in the place of a person excluded by a previous challenge. Before the presentment was made one of the elected members resigned and another person was appointed to fill the vacancy. The Court as finally constituted consisted of two members elected by the Council; one member appointed to fill a vacancy created by a resignation, and two members substituted in place of persons excluded by challenge of the accused. The fact that a majority of the members of Court as finally constituted was composed of persons not elected by the Council is immaterial provided the result was occasioned by the exercise of the right of challenge, or by the filling of vacancies created by resignation. It ought to be assumed, and it is undoubtedly true, that the accused exercised the right of challenge fairly and for adequate reasons, but at the same time the fact that a majority of the Court were not persons elected as such was primarily due to the exercise of the right of challenge and not to the act of the Bishop or of the Standing Committee. It is insisted by the eminent counsel for the accused that the members of the Court were selected by the Standing Committee, who were the accusers in the case, and that to permit a prosecutor to select the judges to try the presentment was a violation of an elementary principle of justice. The Court is of opinion that the claim proceeds upon a false premise. The Standing Committee did not select the two permanent members of the Court. In performance of their duty under the Canon and before the prosecution was instituted they nominated ten Presbyters to the Council held in May, 1905, from which the Council selected five members to constitute the Ecclesiastical Court. Nor did the Standing Committee in any just or reasonable sense select the persons to fill the vacancies created by resignations or challenge. The real right of selection was in the Bishop. The duty of the Standing Committee in approving the nominations of the Bishop was an appointment by the Standing Committee in form only. The Standing Committee had no power to designate any member of the Court. It could approve or reject nominations made by the Bishop and this was the extent of its power. The Bishop who made the nominations was neither accuser or prosecutor in the case. In pursuance of his Canonical duty he passed upon the sufficiency of the presentment and in nominating members of the Court to fill vacancies he performed a duty expressly enjoined upon him. He was not disqualified to make such nominations, although he may have entertained an opinion adverse to the accused on the questions in controversy. In the opinion of the Court no substantial right of the accused, nor any principle of justice, was violated in the constitution of the Trial Court.

“Third—This Court cannot review the decision of the Trial Court adjudging that the statements of the accused were in conflict with the doctrine of the Church and constituted a breach of his ordination vows. Canon 29 gives to a Presbyter convicted of a Canonical offense by a Diocesan Court the right to appeal to the Court of Review of the Department in which the trial was had in all cases. But if the appeal is from a decision involving a question of doctrine, a Court of Review, until an Ultimate Court of Appeal shall have been created, has no power or jurisdiction to decide a question or doctrine or to reverse or affirm the decision of the Trial Court upon that question. This limitation of the jurisdiction and power of a Court of Review is found in the express provision of Canon 29, "That until after the establishment of an Ultimate Court of Appeal, as permitted by Article IX of the Constitution, no Court of Review shall determine any question of doctrine, faith or worship." But on such appeal to a Court of Review it is open to the accused to present for review any alleged errors in the Constitution of the Trial Court, the proceedings on the trial, the admission or rejection of evidence, or, in short, any question appearing in the record and raised on the trial and specified in the notice of appeal, the determination of which does not involve the decision of a question or doctrine. It is urged in behalf of the appellant that since the judgment of the Diocesan Court is the determination of a question of doctrine this Court of Review cannot determine it without itself determining questions of doctrine and so going beyond its jurisdiction. It may be thought, but perhaps does not logically follow, that by a parity of reasoning it appears that this Court cannot reverse the judgment. Having thus power neither to affirm or reverse, the Court would be at a standstill and would dismiss the appeal for want of ability to do anything. In that case the judgment of the Diocesan Court would stand. Attention to what it is that an appellate court does in reversing the judgment of another tribunal will dispel any apparent difficulty. The act of the Court below is presumed to be legal. This presumption stands until it is overthrown by demonstration of error. The question that confronts any appellate court is this: What error is there in the record we have power to correct? When jurisdiction fails the Court cannot find error, because it cannot look for it. Where jurisdiction exists it carries with it the power of review. This Court may, therefore, proceed to examine and determine the questions of which it may take cognizance. The finding of the Court that the accused in making statements, charges and admitted to have been made by him, violated and broke certain declarations made by him at the time of his ordination involved the finding of what was the doctrine of the Church on the subjects to which the declarations related. The Constitution in force when the accused was ordained declared, 'Nor shall any person be ordained until he shall subscribe the following declaration:

"I do believe the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament to be the Word of God and to contain all things necessary to salvation, and I do solemnly engage to conform to the doctrine and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States'." And on his ordination he answered affirmatively the question: "Will you then give your faithful diligence always so to minister the doctrine, and sacraments, and the discipline of Christ as the Lord hath commanded and as this Church hath received the same, according to the commandments of God, so that you may teach the people committed to your cure and charge with all diligence to keep and observe the same?" It is claimed that other promises and declarations made by him in the ordination service in same qualify the declaration and promise above quoted, and that if by diligent devout study of the Holy Scriptures a Priest should come to hold conscientious convictions as to what is the doctrine of Christ as revealed in the Scriptures it is within his liberty, and the liberty of the Church to teach and declare it, although it does not conform to the natural sense of the language of the Creed. This Court is of opinion that this claim is so essentially connected with the definition of doctrine that it is excluded from its consideration by the language of Canon 29.

Fourth—The Court is of opinion that charge 1 in the presentment, charging the holding and teaching by the accused, publicly and advisedly, doctrines contrary to those held by this Church was not, as is claimed by counsel, solely a charge of such teaching by the "delivery of the sermons" mentioned in the presentment. The charge fairly construed charges two distinct acts as violations of the Canon relating to false teaching; first, the delivery of the sermons; and, second, their publication in the year 1905. This contention is only important by reason of the fact that the conviction under charge 1 was based exclusively on the "publication of the sermons," and it is claimed that although the same statements were contained in the book as in the sermons, nevertheless, as the conviction must be of the specific act charged, and as the charge is based on the delivery of the sermons and not on the publication of the book, the conviction should be reversed. The introductory allegation in the presentment, states, among other things, that during the years 1904 and 1905 the accused delivered a series of sermons "which he thereafter caused to be published in book form, etc.," and that said book "was published, sold and circulated with the permission, consent and authorization of the said Presbyter." In the specification under the charge it is alleged that the accused did "openly, advisedly, publicly and privately utter, avow, declare and teach doctrine contrary to those held and received by the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America by the delivery of the sermons thereafter published in said book, etc." The answer of the accused and the course of the trial indicate that both the accused and his counsel at the time understood that the publication of the book was an offense charged in the presentment. On the trial the statements in the book were relied upon to support the charge. There was a controversy between counsel whether the book, as a whole, should be admitted in evidence, or, if not, whether the whole of any sermon in the book which contained the passages set forth in the presentment was admissible. But no suggestion was made that the publication of the book was not an act covered by the charge. The point that the charge does not allege the publication of the book as an offense is not, we think, well taken.

Fifth—The application made to the Court by the counsel for the accused on April 17, 1906, for an adjournment of the hearing until June following, for the convenience of counsel, was addressed to the discretion of the Trial Court. An adjournment was granted until the 27th of April, on which day the trial proceeded. There was an interval of more than six weeks between the issuing of the citation and the day originally appointed for the hearing, and of more than seven weeks between the citation and the day of the actual commencement of the trial. The counsel for the accused were both present and participated in the trial. This Court cannot review the discretion of the Trial Court, at least, in the absence of evidence that the discretion was abused, and we find no evidence warranting that conclusion. On the adjourned day, viz.: April 27, 1906, the counsel for the accused made an application for a further adjournment of the trial until after May 15, 1906, when the Convention of the Diocese of Western New York was to meet, and for the reason, as stated in the notice of appeal; "Which Convention would choose a Standing Committee in lieu of the Standing Committee which had made the said presentment, and the members of the Court in lieu of the members then sitting in said Court so that the Court would not consist of members appointed by the prosecution, except and unless the said Convention should so decide." The Court was asked in substance to adjourn the Court to a day beyond its own life and to suspend the exercise of the functions with which it was invested by the existing law of the Diocese to await contingent and problematical action of a future convention which might be favorable to the accused. We think this motion was properly denied.

Sixth—The credibility of witnesses was a matter for the consideration of the Trial Court. The evidence of the witness whose credibility is questioned on this appeal was taken in support of specification 2 of charge 1 in the presentment relating to alleged statements made by the accused in a sermon delivered by him about December 31, 1905. No evidence was offered by the accused contradicting the evidence of the witness as to the statements to which he testified. Those statements were substantially a reiteration of some of the statements in the printed sermons. The witness on his cross-examination exhibited evidence of ill-temper and his relations to the accused might subject him to the imputation of prejudice. The counsel for the prosecution after the evidence of the witness was closed suggested that a witness would be called to corroborate his testimony. The counsel for the accused thereupon stated that they would give no evidence on the subject, and the counsel for the prosecution replied, "I think very likely we shall not call him then," and there was no further reference to the subject. The Court based the finding on the evidence of the witness in question and there was no error in so doing.

Seventh—A portion of the fifth ground of appeal reads as follows: "That the said Court erred in refusing to receive evidence offered in my behalf to show that according to the doctrine of this Church, and also separately according to the common practice and understanding of its clergy and of the Church, the statements made by me and complained of in the said presentment were within my liberty, duty and right to make."

This ground of appeal brings up for review the refusal of the Diocesan Court to permit the five following questions to be answered. For convenience of reference they are numbered.

"One—In your opinion is there anything in the statements contained in the specifications which is contrary to the doctrine of Christ as the Lord hath commanded and as this Church hath received the same?

"Two—According to the understanding and practice of the Protestant Episcopal Church are the passages from the sermons and book of Dr. Crapsey within the doctrine and faith as the same have been received by such Church?

“Three—According to the understanding and practice of the Protestant Episcopal Church are the passages last referred to within the doctrine and faith as the same are held by such Church?

“Four—According to the understanding and practice of the Protestant Episcopal Church is a Presbyterian at liberty to preach the things said or written by Dr. Crapsey as proved on this trial if he be convinced that they are taught by the Holy Scriptures?

“Five—Is he at liberty—is a Presbyterian at liberty to preach the things written and said by Dr. Crapsey if he believes that they are within the meaning properly construed of the Apostles’ Creed and the Nicene Creed?”

These questions were addressed to a number of witnesses, each a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church, three of whom then held or had held a Professorial Chair. It is to be assumed that their learning and experience qualified them to answer competent questions as to church matters. Question one was put to the first witness called on behalf of the appellant. An objection was made and after full argument was sustained. The Court speaking by its Assessor thus assigned the ground of its ruling: In my judgment this witness was asked to substitute his opinion for the judgment of the Court. He is not called upon to give expert evidence according to the common identification of that term.” The Court went on to declare that this evidence, according to a settled rule of the law of evidence, is inadmissible. One of the learned counsel for the appellant then said: “I now propose to ask certain additional questions. I will say frankly to my friend on the other side that the reasons stated by the Court will cover the other questions I shall ask; but I desire to ask them that the rulings may appear on the record and I shall make no argument. If any of them in the opinion of the Court and its Assessor present any question which would lead them to modify the opinion already expressed they may say so.” The other questions were then asked of the same witness and met with objections. The objections were sustained without further discussion. Ten other witnesses were sworn in behalf of the appellant, and it was stipulated that it should be regarded that the same questions were put to each witness and the same objections and rulings were made as in the case of the first witness. Exceptions were duly taken to each ruling. Question one is plainly illegal. It asks for the opinion of the witness as to a matter that it was the function of the Diocesan Court to decide, and it is not within the exception as to expert testimony. An ordinance enacted as a part of the Ecclesiastical Law of the Diocese of Western New York enacts that the trial of a minister of that Diocese shall be conducted according to the principles of the Common Law as administered in that State, and that the law of that State as to the admission of evidence shall govern the Court except as otherwise provided. It may be affirmed that such a question has not been held to be sustainable in the State of New York by a Court proceeding according to the course of the Common Law and enforcing the established rules of evidence. Question five read as it stands is evidently governed by the same rule as is applicable to question one and requires no further attention. It is possible, however, that question five, by reason of its close connection with question four is to be regarded as elliptical, and that the words "according to the understanding and practice of the Protestant Episcopal Church" should precede the words "is he at liberty"? If it be read in this way it belongs to the same class with questions two, three and four, which it resembles in phraseology and is to be considered with them. It will be found on an examination of these questions that they are within the rule that condemned question one. The witnesses were not asked by these questions to lay before the Court the facts with which their learning and experience had made them acquainted. They were not asked to point out the formal and official standards of the Church. They were not asked to say whether these standards have an established and authoritative interpretation and to tell what it is if there be such an interpretation. They were not asked to say whether, apart from the formal and official standard, there is a doctrinal understanding and practice that is available as a test of teaching, and to tell what it is if there be such an understanding and practice. Each question assumes, without proof, that there is such an understanding and practice, or such an interpretation, understanding and practice and then asks the witness whether the teachings of the appellant accord therewith. To answer this question was the function of the Diocesan Court, not the right of a witness. Moreover, the questions call upon a witness to construe the teaching of the appellant. This also was the function of the Court. The portion of the fifth ground of appeal above quoted does not accurately state the action of the Diocesan Court. That Court did not refuse to allow the appellant to show that according to the doctrine of the Church, and also and separately according to the common practice and understanding of the clergy and of the Church the teaching of the appellant was permissible. What the Diocesan Court did was merely to overrule certain questions that called on each witness to assume the attitude of a judge. The source from which the judgment of the Diocesan Court was to proceed was the conclusion of the Court as to the understanding of the Church and as to the teaching of the appellant, not the conclusion of the witness as to that understanding and teaching. In short, questions one, two, three, four and five were illegal, and are illegal for the same reason.

The doctrines of the Church are set forth in the authorized standards and formularies which the Church has adopted as to the expression of its faith and doctrine, and first among such standards are the Apostles' and Nicene Creeds. Some of the questions seem to assume that sincerity of belief is the test by which a Presbyter is to be judged in teaching doctrines not in conformity with the doctrine of the Church. But the assertion by a clergyman of the Church of a liberty beyond the bounds of some grave obligation must be supported by something besides rectitude of purpose. It may be admitted that every clergyman is bound in his public teaching to yield to the paramount claim of conscience. But the Church as the guardian of the Christian faith as it has received and declared it, cannot without betraying its trust, when called upon to act, permit doctrines which it holds essential and fundamental to be impugned by those who minister at her altars, however pure their motives or sincere their convictions. This Court is prohibited by Canon from determining whether the utterances of the accused were or were not inconsistent with the doctrine of the Church. It simply decides that the evidence which was rejected was incompetent upon the issues involved. The claim that it was admissible as bearing upon the sentence which the Trial Court recommend was not suggested on the trial, and it would be manifestly improper to reverse the judgment upon a subordinate ground now mentioned for the first time, and which, by the course of the trial, was naturally regarded as withdrawn from the attention of the Court.

Eighth—In order to constitute the offense of holding or teaching false doctrine under Canon 23 it is essential that it be charged in the presentment proved on the trial and found by the Court that the false doctrine was held and taught by the accused "publicly or privately and advisedly."

An inadvertent or casual statement made by the accused without deliberation will not sustain the charge under this specification in the Canon. It is claimed that the decision of the Trial Court contains no finding that the statements of the accused were made "publicly or privately and advisedly," and, further, that the Court intentionally omitted to sustain the allegation of this fact made in the presentment. The presentment charges that the statements of the accused were so made. The Court in its decision does not expressly find that such statements were made "publicly and advisedly." The decision, however, contains findings from which this inference is unavoidable. The second finding is: "That during the year 1905 said Algernon S. Crapsey, referred to in this decision as the respondent, caused to be published in book form under the title 'Religion and Politics,' a series of sermons theretofore delivered by him in his official capacity as a Rector of St. Andrew's Church and said book was published and caused to be sold and circulated by said respondent." The decision then quotes the passages in the book upon which Charge 1, Specification 1, in the presentment is based. The finding of the Court that the accused delivered the sermons contained in the book and thereafter caused them to be published in book form and to be circulated carries with it an irresistible inference that the statements were "publicly and advisedly," that is to say, deliberately made, and this inference supplies the place of and is equivalent to an express finding that the statements were made "publicly and advisedly." The Court also found that in the sermon of December, 1905, the accused employed in substance the language imputed to him in Specification 3, Charge 1, which is a substantial repetition of the statements found to have been made by him in the book "Religion and Politics."

It is claimed by the counsel for the accused that the inference to which reference has been made cannot be indulged in support of the decision of the Trial Court for the reason that the Court, in its decision, found the accused guilty only "to the extent" stated therein; and that among the specific findings of the Court there is no finding that the statements in the book were "publicly and advisedly" made. The Court is of opinion that the claim of the counsel for the accused proceeds upon a misapprehension of the meaning and purpose of the qualifying words in the decision above quoted. The Court in its decision, before delivering its judgment upon the statements admitted to have been made by the accused, recites the allegations in the presentment as to the import and meaning of their language and as to the intention of the accused. These allegations may be summarized as asserting that the accused by such statements intended to express the "Presbyter's disbelief in and to impugn and deny"; (1) the Divinity of our Lord; (2) His conception by the Holy Ghost; (3) His Virgin birth; (4) His resurrection; (5) the Doctrine of the Trinity. The Court did not find these charges to their full extent. It found in respect to the first and fifth of these specifications that the accused impugned, but did not find that he denied the doctrines therein specified. It found that as to specifications two, three and four the accused both impugned and denied the doctrines stated. The same is true with respect to the charges in the specification relating to the sermon of December, 1905. The Court also failed to find one of the specifications in charge 3 relating to the violation by the accused of his ordination vows. The situation explains the purpose of the insertion in the decision immediately preceding the affirmative findings of guilt of the words "to the extent now here stated."

It is not a reasonable supposition that the Court intended to exclude a finding that the statements proved were made "publicly and advisedly," which was an irresistible inference from the facts actually found as to the circumstances under which the statements were made and published.

Ninth—Section 18 of the ordinances of the Diocese of Western New York provides that the Trial Court, in case they shall find an accused person guilty of the charge contained in the presentment, shall make a decision in writing, signed by them, stating (among other things) the "sentence which in their opinion ought to be pronounced." The ordinances further provide that the Bishop upon receiving the judgment record of the Court, shall, after due examination and deliberation, "pronounce such Canonical sentence as he shall deem just, not exceeding in severity that specified in the opinion of the Court." The Trial Court in its decision stated as follows: "In accordance with Section 18 of the ordinances of the Ecclesiastical Court of this Diocese we state that in our opinion sentence should be pronounced as follows: that the respondent be suspended from exercising the functions of a minister of this Church until such a time as he shall satisfy the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese that his belief and teaching conform to the doctrine of the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed as this Church has received the same." It is claimed that if the sentence recommended should be imposed the accused would be required, before he could be relieved from the sentence of suspension, to satisfy the Bishop not only of his doctrinal soundness in respect to the articles of the Creed to which the presentment related, and which the decision of the Court found he had denied or impugned, but in addition his doctrinal soundness as to the other articles of the Creed not involved in the presentment, trial or judgment. If this construction which the counsel for the appellant places upon the recommendation of the Court be the true one, and the Bishop should be guided by it in imposing sentence, it might very well be said that the penalty imposed would exceed the just limits of a judicial sentence which should correspond with and respond only to the offence of which the accused was charged and of which he was convicted. But in the opinion of the Court this broad construction of the language of the Court is not required. It is reasonable to construe the proposal of sentence as limiting the satisfaction to the particular doctrines denied and impugned. The accused was not charged with or convicted of denying or impugning the Creeds as a whole, but with denying and impugning certain doctrines in the Creeds. This is the extent of non-conformity alleged against him. It seems natural to suppose that the Diocesan Court, in using the words "conform to the doctrine of the Apostles' and Nicene Creeds as this Church has received the same," had in mind the only doctrines that had been the subject of inquiry. The Court should not unnecessarily impute to the judgment of another tribunal an irrational meaning, but, according to an established rule of construction, should interpret it with regard to the subject matter. The application of this rule is favorable to the accused and should for that reason be applied in construing the language employed. But the objection made omits to take into consideration the fact that the recommendation of the Court as to the sentence is only advisory except as a prescription of a maximum punishment. The Court performed the precise duty imposed upon it by the Canon, viz.: that it should state in its decision "the sentence which in their judgment ought to be pronounced." Assuming that the sentence proposed contained an improper form or measure of punishment in the respect mentioned, the appellant was not injured thereby and has no ground of complaint, because the recommendation bound no one excepting in a direction favorable to the accused. The Bishop when he should come to impose sentence would not only be free to disregard any improper element in the proposed sentence, but in the discharge of his Episcopal duty would be bound to do so. It would be open to him in imposing sentence to substitute admonition in place of suspension, and to make the termination of the suspension to depend upon the acknowledgment by the accused of his errors as found by the decision of the Court and promising conformity to the doctrines of the Church in the matters to which the decision related. The Court in framing its recommendation, having performed its duty under the Canon, its error, if any, bound no one. It was not a ground of appeal because the correction of the error was the province and duty of the Bishop in pronouncing sentence.

Another suggestion arises out of the provision in Canon 39, that after an affirmance of a conviction of a Presbyterian by a Court of Review, and the remission of the record, "the Bishop of the jurisdiction in which the trial was had shall determine and pronounce sentence of admonition, suspension or deposition." The provision of the Canon of the Diocese of Western New York limiting the discretion of a Bishop in pronouncing sentence antedated the Canon of the General Convention. The General Convention is supreme as to all matters within its jurisdiction, and Canons enacted within the scope of its legislative powers are the supreme law of the Church. The Court deems it necessary to decide whether the provision in Canon 39 supersedes the Diocesan Canon limiting the powers of a Bishop in pronouncing sentence in cases in which a Court of Review has acquired jurisdiction by the appeal of an accused Presbyterian from a conviction by a Diocesan Court. But it is a sufficient answer to the objection now considered that the matter of the form of the sentence is not reviewable in this Court by reason of its advisory character and is not an adjudication in any proper sense upon which error is assignable. Article IX of the Constitution of the Church declares that "A sentence of suspension shall specify on what terms and conditions and at what time the suspension shall cease." In the opinion of the Court this provision does not make it necessary that in all cases a specific date shall be named in the sentence when the suspension shall cease. The specification of time may be satisfied by a measureable and terminable condition within a period of duration, upon the performance of which, the suspension will end. In such case the time is specified within the meaning of the Constitutional provision when it may be fixed by the act of the accused complying with the conditions imposed.

Tenth—The appeal made to the Court by the counsel for the accused to reverse the decision of the Trial Court on the ground that sound policy and the best interests of the Church would be promoted thereby, assumes the existence of a power which this Court does not possess. The primary function of a Court of Review when its jurisdiction has been properly invoked is to examine the record of a Trial Court to ascertain whether any material error of which it can take cognizance was committed on the trial. No power is conferred upon the Court to determine the policy of the Church on questions of discipline. The policy of the Church in respect to prosecutions for false teaching belongs to the domain of legislation. And the power to declare the policy of the Church upon this subject resides in its legislative body. It is not for an appellate court to pass judgment upon the propriety or expediency of legislation, but to declare the law of the Church as it finds it to be. With the consequences which may result from maintaining the law of the Church it has no right to concern itself. The Court has been referred to the provision in Canon 29 authorizing the Court of Review to reverse a judgment and to grant a new trial "if in its opinion justice shall require it." This grant of power is frequently found in laws creating or regulating the power of civil courts. It enables a court to remedy any injustice which appears in the conduct of the trial, and to relieve a party who, for any reason, ought in justice to be permitted to have the case reheard. But the power has never been extended so far as we know, and cannot in reason be extended so as to authorize a court to dispense with the law on the ground that in its opinion the law is impolitic or unjust. It would be usurpation for the Court to reverse the decision of the Trial Court on the ground that prosecutions for heresy are injurious to the Church and ought not to be encouraged.

It is directed that the foregoing decision and judgment, together with the minutes of the proceedings of the Court, certified by the President and Clerk thereof, and constituting the record of this Court, be annexed to the record of the Trial Court on which the appeal was heard, and that said records be remitted to the Bishop of the Diocese of Western New York.

Done at the Diocesan House in the City of New York this 16th day of November, A. D. 1906.

To the Bishop and Standing Committee of the Diocese of Western
New York:

Gentlemen:—

The Trustees of De Veaux College respectfully submit herewith the following supplemental report in respect to the decision of the Court of Appeals rendered February 6, 1906, in which the decisions of the two lower courts were affirmed, interpreting the will of Judge De Veaux to prohibit the Trustees of that institution from carrying out the resolution of the Diocesan Council of May 20, 1902, to establish a pay-pupil department in De Veaux College.

Carrying out the instructions of the Diocesan Council of 1902 and the resolution passed by it, the Trustees passed a resolution at a meeting held June 26, 1902, establishing a pay-pupil department. At that meeting of the Trustees, Mr. William B. Rankine served notice that if such resolution was adopted by the Board, he, in behalf of himself and other churchmen of this Diocese, would enjoin the Trustees from putting the resolution into effect. Such injunction was served and a suit was brought in the Supreme Court to prevent the carrying out of such resolution. The case was argued before Judge Childs, and a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. The case was taken to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court and was argued at Rochester, N. Y., and the decision of the lower court affirmed. It was then carried to the Court of Appeals, with the result that that court affirmed the decisions of both lower courts, with costs awarded the defendant. The judgment for costs in this suit and appeals amounted to $226.05, which costs were afterwards paid by the estate of William B. Rankine in pursuance of a statement which he made that he would pay the costs of the suit and his own attorney's fees in this matter. The bill of counsel, for the Trustees, who argued the case in the three courts, and his expenses in connection with the same amounted to $805.55, and this amount the Trustees of De Veaux College paid, creating a deficit to that amount and obliging the Trustees to carry the same in the shape of a demand note at the Niagara Falls Trust Company, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

If the Trustees are obliged to meet this deficit, incurred through the direction of the Diocesan Council, from the income from the Endowment Fund of the College, it will probably be necessary to decrease to a considerable extent the number of boys taken upon the foundation and to close up a part of the institution, and to that extent diminish the good which it has been accomplishing for many years past.

It seems to the Trustees but right that the Council by whose direction the pay-pupil suit was instituted, should reimburse the College for the expense of the same.

The endowment at present permits of our supporting only twenty-three orphan and destitute children, and this is done by the exercise of the greatest economy. If it is necessary for us to further contract the field of usefulness and to take, say twenty boys in order to make up the amount that we are now behind, we wish that the necessity of such steps should be fully understood and the responsibility therefore taken by the Diocesan Council, which is, under the will of Judge De Veaux, the governing power of De Veaux College.

The Trustees are only the servants executing the trust, and it is our unanimous feeling that the Council should make provision for the cost of this suit, and enable us to continue taking the same number of orphan and destitute children that we have in the past maintained.

Yours very truly,

PHILIP WHEELER MOSHER,

Secretary.

The above report was at a meeting of the Board of Trustees duly called and held on the 13th day of May, 1907, unanimously adopted as a supplemental report to the Bishop and Standing Committee, to be submitted to the next Diocesan Council for their consideration.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN.

To the Board of Education of the Diocese of Western New York:

Geneva, N. Y., May 1, 1907.

The Warden of the De Lancey Divinity School respectfully reports that there have been during the past year twelve students in the School. Of these, one has been unavoidably absent through illness, but retains his membership, hoping to resume his studies; three are in the preparatory course, but will begin their theological studies next year; and eight have been in attendance on the lectures, including a lay reader coming by the Bishop's permission. Four are from the Diocese of Central New York. I can honestly give high commendation of the work of both lecturers and students during the year.

Two of the four courses of lectures were held in Buffalo, one in Rochester, and one in Geneva.

There have been added to the library during the year 1,266 volumes by gift, of which 1,116 were from the library of St. Andrew's Divinity School, and 150, many of great value, from the library of the late Rev. Dr. Rankine, by his widow; and 193 by purchase, in all 1,469, by far the largest increase in any one year. We have now 3,062 first copies and 1,216 duplicates, in all 4,228. More than half of the duplicates are text books in the hands of students. By the courtesy of the librarian of Hobart College, Professor Vail, our shelf room in the Demorest Library has been doubled, and the books arranged to much better advantage.

The expenses of the school for the past year reported by the Warden have been:

For the library	269.12
Miscellaneous	67.55

$765.36

This does not include a special honorarium to the lecturers by order of the Board of Education of $100 each, which also passed through the Warden's hands, but does not form part of the regular expenses of the school. Of the $765.36 reported, $142.30 was repaid to the school by the Bishop of Central New York for expenses of his students; $20.73 by books bought by students and lecturers, and $30.00 by the Swift Book Fund, in all $192.03, leaving $573.33 as the actual expenses from the income of the school.

CHARLES WELLS HAYES,

Warden.

Boys only are taken. The total number received on the Foundation during the year 1906 was 27. The average number maintained for the year was 23. The greatest number in attendance at any one time was 23. The average attendance of the boys for the year was 23. The youngest being 12 years old, and the oldest being 18 years old.

The course of study remains the same practically as heretofore published in the register, and is the same as that followed in the high schools and the upper grades of the grammar schools in New York State.

Schedule "B" hereto annexed, is a statement showing all cash transactions in the interest-bearing endowment funds during the year 1906 and the standing of the endowment funds at December 31, 1906. Certificates of the Fidelity Trust Company of Buffalo, N. Y., are attached to this schedule, and show that the amounts of cash of the different endowment funds on hand as at December 31, 1906, were upon that date on deposit in the Fidelity Trust Company. These deposits draw $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ interest.

Schedule "C" hereto annexed, is a condensed income cash account for the year ending December 31, 1906, and shows the amount of income received, and of disbursements made, during that fiscal year. The balance of cash on hand, $130.08, was upon deposit with the Niagara Falls Trust Company of Niagara Falls, N. Y., as shown by certificate of that institution attached. This deposit draws 3% interest.

(D) Diocesan Missions.

Report of the Archdeacon of Buffalo.

Rev. Father in God:—

I would respectfully report that under your direction I have performed the duties of Archdeacon during the past year. A detailed account was read by me at the annual meeting of the Archdeaconry. I hereby submit a brief summary for the Diocesan Journal.

The following places have received regular monthly services with a celebration of the Holy Communion, viz.:

Alden, Angelica, Angola, Attica, Belfast, Brocton, Bolivar, Corfu, Darien Center, East Randolph, Forestville, Franklinville, Gowanda, Hamburg, Hinsdale, Irving, Little Valley, Perry, Randolph, Ripley, Sinclairville, Collins (asylum), Brant and New Town (Indian Reservation).

There is a provision made by the Missionary Board by which a stipend is given to a clergyman who is rector, but whose parish is not self-supporting, who agrees to give services outside of his parish to some adjoining mission. In this way provision is made for a number of missions who are beneficiaries of the Board, and from whom quarterly reports of the work are received. The Archdeacon is not responsible, and they are not visited by him, viz.:

Chautauqua and Hartfield under the Rector of Mayville.

Springville under the Rector of Ellicottville.

Belvidere and Friendship under the Rector of Belmont.

Belfast under the Rector of Angelica.

Little Valley under the Rector of Salamanca.

Forestville under the Rector of Silver Creek.

There are other missions which are parochial, which do not look to the Board for their maintenance. Rectors are able to assume these outside labors in addition to their parochial work, viz.:

Orchard Park under the Rector of St. James, Buffalo.
 Olecott and Brookside under the Rector of Grace, Lockport.
 Kenmore under the Rector of Good Shepherd, Buffalo.
 Depew under the Rector of Trinity, Lancaster.
 Boardmansville under the Rector of St. Stephen's, Olean.
 Ripley under the Rector of St. Peter's, Westfield.
 Epiphany, Buffalo, under the Rector of St. Simon's, Buffalo.
 Roland under the Rector of St. Jude's, Buffalo.

The Archdeacon reports the following data of work done during the year ending May 1st:

Report of the Archdeacon of Rochester.

During the past year the missions in the Archdeaconry of Rochester have, with few exceptions, shown a more vigorous and healthful growth than at any time during the previous three years. Although some changes have been made in the working force, nevertheless services have been maintained with gratifying regularity.

In spite of the general good showing in the field, the personal work of your Archdeacon has seemed to bear little visible fruit. Aside from the usual routine of services held, pastoral visits made, correspondence maintained, financial interests looked after, and the ceaseless endeavor to keep the various mission station supplied, I can report only seven baptisms. Three classes for confirmation await the coming of the Bishop. I have said morning and evening prayer one hundred and eighteen times. Have celebrated the Holy Communion, public and private, seventy-six times, have had seven marriages and one funeral.

Many meetings in the interests of the church have been held at various times and in divers places.

The past year has been one of anxiety in which your general missionary has been called to contend with himself as well as with others for the Faith. Yet out of it all the Lord hath delivered us, and established our feet upon the Rock of St. Peter's confession, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God."

As a detailed account of the various missions has been made at the annual meeting of the Archdeaconry, with one exception, I deem hardly necessary to repeat it at this time. At St. Luke's, Fairport, I feel that we have an important work before us. The church for a long time has been practically dead. Some fifteen or more years ago we purchased an old building, which has been an eyesore to the town and a discouragement ment to the work ever since. With the advent of the Rochester, Syracuse and Eastern Electric road Fairport has taken on new life, many people from the city are finding homes there, among them a goodly number of Church people.

Last fall I decided that the best thing to do was to take down the old building and from the debris erect, as far as possible, a new one on more churchly lines.

When I announced my purpose to the people it was received with incredulous looks. They had been dead so long and were so happy in their grave clothes that they resented even the thought of a resurrection. The question uppermost in their minds was, "Who shall roll away the stone?" When I started out with a subscription paper one man generously offered me fifty cents for the proceeds. In two days I had a little over one hundred dollars subscribed and one dollar paid in. With this small financial backing I sent for two carpenters, who had worked for me before, and much to the consternation of the people we began the work of tearing down.

Each week I collected the money to pay the men, and by the last of the month, or in about three weeks, we had, from the old materials, reconstructed and enclosed what promises to be a neat gothic building at an expenditure of a little over four hundred dollars. We need about four hundred more to complete the structure and this I am trying to raise at the present time. This work of completion ought not to be delayed as now is our time to go forward. I might state a fact which is doubtless known to many of the brethren, that I am my own architect, and, as occasion may require, my own builder. I am independent of labor unions and strikes, and if necessary I can complete the Fairport church myself. The people of the town have already had a vision of a gentleman in clerical garb upon the roof of the church laying shingles.

It seems hardly right, however, that "we should leave the Word of God to serve tables," and so I am looking out from among the brethren for some who will help me in this work.

As my first term of office draws to a close the things which stand out most conspicuously at this time are not the things done, but the things left undone; not the duties performed, but the opportunities neglected. Our retrospection fills us with humility rather than pride.

Personally, I should have been glad if some one better fitted for the work had been found to take the office of Archdeacon.

The brethren and the Bishop have ordered it otherwise, and I am here to serve, at least for another year, to the best of my ability, God being my helper.

Respectfully submitted,

W. L. DAVIS,

Archdeacon of Rochester.

The changes in the year in the principal have been the payment of one mortgage of $1,200.00, and the reduction by payments of the land contracts.

The mortgages now held are all first class securities upon which the interest is promptly paid. Annexed to the report is a tabulated statement showing the particulars of the mortgages held.

The receipts of income during the year* have been as follows:

There was an item of $621.16 reported last year as carried in cash, being a charge against the Standing Committee for money expended at their request on account of the See House on Delaware Avenue, and the renting of the house on Elmwood Avenue, such items being not properly chargeable to the Episcopate Fund, as was fully explained in the report of May, 1906. This item has now been charged to See House account, and at the request of, and on the guarantee of the Standing Committee, we have further advanced sums, for the payment of rent of the Elmwood Avenue house, the payment of taxes of the year 1904 on Delaware Avenue house, etc., and this account, including the $621.16, now amounts to $1,469.03. The Trustees of the Episcopate Fund desire very much to be relieved of this care, thinking it could better be attended to by such committee as the Council may designate who are residents of Buffalo. We would be glad to have this amount repaid to us and add the sum to the Episcopate Fund principal, but there seems to be no funds in the hands of the Standing Committee available. Under the circumstances, we would suggest that the Council, by resolution, approve of our having advanced such moneys and direct that the amounts shown in such account as paid, be charged up as against the income of the Episcopate Fund, which, happily, is in such condition as will warrant such charge without embarrassment, and that the Trustees of the Episcopate Fund be relieved of further care of this matter.

The salary of the Bishop is paid to May 1st. There are no charges against the Delaware Avenue house, and the rent of the Elmwood Avenue residence of the Bishop is paid to May 1, 1907.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL BEACH,
JOSIAH ANSTICE.

(G) Report of the Trustees of the Parochial Fund.

Rt. Rev. Wm. D. Walker, D. D., Bishop, etc.:

Rt. Rev. and Dear Sir:—

As Secretary of the Trustees of the Parochial Fund, I respectfully report:

That the terms of office of Arthur P. Rose and John W. Mellen, Trustees, will expire September 1, 1907.

Since the last meeting of the Council Mr. Samuel S. Graves, one of the Trustees of the Fund, has died. His death is a great loss to the Diocese and to this corporation. It will be necessary to elect a Trustee to fill his unexpired term, which term will end September 1, 1908.

No conveyances of real estate to this corporation have come to our knowledge since my last report.

During the past year we have conveyed to the Church of St. James the Greater, in Rochester, the church and property now used by it. This conveyance was made in accordance with the provisions of the deed conveying said property to us and with the approval of the Bishop and Standing Committee.

We have released the equity of this corporation in the property used by St. James' Church, Tonawanda, on payment of $805.20 to be added to the Permanent Missionary Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

A. P. ROSE,
Secretary.

Dated May 1, 1907.

XIV. A motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

XV. A question, being put by the President, shall be determined by the sound of voices; but any member may require a count of the vote; or previous to a decision by count, any three members may require the yeas and nays to be taken, which shall be done by calling the names of the Clérical members, and the names of the Churches and Missions represented; and the vote shall be recorded in the Journal. Or the yeas and nays may be taken by order on the call of any five members, and when so taken the vote shall be recorded in like manner.

XVI. No member except the mover may speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House.

XVII. A question once decided, shall not be reconsidered during the same session without the consent of two-thirds of the votes of the Council, nor without the motion for that purpose being made by one of the majority on said decision. No question shall be reconsidered more than once.

XVIII. Special Committees not otherwise provided for shall be appointed by the Chair.

XIX. Except by the votes of two-thirds of the persons present entitled to vote, no standing rule or order shall be suspended, changed or rescinded, without record of a motion to that effect made on a previous day.

XX. Before the final adjournment of any session of the Council, the minutes of the last day's proceedings shall be read, corrected and approved.

XXI. If the Bishop of the Diocese be not present, and able to preside; or the Episcopate be vacant; then, in the absence of the Secretary of the preceding Council, the Council shall be called to order by the President or Senior Presbyter of the Standing Committee present, who shall preside until the Council has been organized. Then a President pro tempore shall be elected from among the Presbyters present, who shall make the appointments ordinarily assigned to the Bishop, or under his direction.

XXII. The Council shall open its sessions at 9:30 A. M., and unless otherwise ordered, take a recess from 1 to 3 P. M., and from 5:30 to 7:30 P. M.
